About The University

About the University

The University of Louisville is a state supported research university located in the nation's 16th largest city. U of L enrolls more than 22,000 students and offers undergraduate degrees in 70 fields of study, master's degrees in 78 areas and doctoral degrees in 35 disciplines. It also grants professional degrees in medicine, dentistry, and law. U of L contributes significantly to the economic, cultural and intellectual life of the Louisville community, yet the magnitude of its achievements reach beyond Louisville into every corner of Kentucky and across the nation. U of L's 115,000 alumni live in all Kentucky counties, in every state and around the world. U of L has trained about 30 percent of Kentucky's physicians, 47 percent of its dentists and 31 percent of its attorneys.

At U of L, students learn from faculty members who are experts in their subject areas. Nearly 94% of the 1,620 full-time faculty hold the highest degrees in their field. In addition to their classroom duties, U of L faculty are leading research projects funded at more than $180 million in federal, state, local and private grants.

Those same professors share the latest knowledge with students in the classroom. Faculty and student researchers are aided by leading-edge computer systems and laboratories. They may also gather information from across the ages and around the world through the University Libraries system that offers more than 2.2 million volumes, 73,000 journal subscriptions, and unique resources through its special collections and archives.

A diverse student body enriches the educational experience at U of L. Students of color represent 17 percent of enrollment and international students total more than 5 percent. Kentucky students account for 77 percent of the student population with 45 percent coming from Jefferson County. Slightly more than 22 percent of students are from other states. Nearly 300 campus organizations help students meet new friends, develop leadership skills and explore new interests. The Student Activities Center, the hub of much of campus life, includes a bookstore, food court, restaurant, movie theatre, lounge and study areas, mini mart, and recreation and fitness facilities. Sports fans are also able to enjoy Division I men and women's athletics.

U of L's 273-acre Belknap Campus is home to eight of its 12 schools and colleges: arts and sciences, business and public administration, education and human development, engineering, interdisciplinary and graduate studies, law, music and social work. The Health Sciences Campus, located in the city's downtown medical complex, includes the schools of medicine, nursing and dentistry, public health, and U of L Hospital.

U of L was established in 1798 as one of the nation's first urban institutions. Though grounded in a rich legacy, U of L is forward thinking in its approach to teaching, research and service. As it focuses on the challenges and opportunities of the 21st century, the university advances the social and economic development of its community and its citizens.

Policy on Work-Restricted Religious Holidays

Federal law and University policy prohibit discrimination on the basis of religious belief. It is the policy of the University of Louisville to accommodate students, faculty, and staff who observe religious work-restricted holy days. Students who observe work-restricted religious holy days must be allowed to do so without jeopardizing their academic standing in any course. Faculty are obliged to accommodate students' request(s) for adjustments in course work on the grounds of religious observance, provided that the student(s) make such request(s) in writing during the first two (2) weeks of term.

Deans and department chairs must investigate and resolve student complaints arising from alleged faculty failure to make reasonable accommodation under these guidelines.

A calendar of typical work-restricted holidays is available through the Office of the Provost. Information about specific holidays is also available by phone from the Office of the Provost at (502) 852-6153.

Academic Freedom at the University

Academic institutions in a democratic society exist for the pursuit of truth, the development and conservation of knowledge, the transmission of learning, and the enhancement of the general well-being of such society. Free inquiry and free expression are indispensable to the attainment of these goals. The University of Louisville is, therefore, committed to protecting the academic freedom of all members of the University community.

Freedom to learn and freedom to teach are inseparable facets of academic freedom. Students have a right to their own views on matters of opinion, rather than fact, and a right to express those views in appropriate ways without fear of arbitrary reaction or improper disclosure of such opinions outside the classroom.

Teachers are entitled to full freedom in research, publication, academic evaluation, and classroom expression. Academic freedom carries the corresponding responsibilities to be thoroughly prepared and well informed in their fields of knowledge and to be scrupulous in distinguishing between personal and professional judgments and between fact and opinion.

Membership in the academic community imposes on students, faculty, staff, administrators, and trustees of the University an obligation to adhere to standards of academic honesty, to respect the dignity of others, to acknowledge their right to express differing opinions, and to foster and defend intellectual honesty, freedom of inquiry and instruction, and free expression both on and off the campus.

Americans with Disabilities Act

The University of Louisville is committed to providing equal opportunity for persons with disabilities. This commitment includes complying with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA) and Sections 504 and 508 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. In addition, all of the University's websites and online courses will comply with the web page design standards established by the World Wide Web Consortium (W3C). The University of Louisville strives to maintain a barrier-free, welcoming environment for everybody.

The ADA Coordinator, located in the Affirmative Action Office (502 852-6688), will monitor compliance and advise unit heads in meeting equal opportunity obligations. The Disability Resource Center staff (502 852-6938) will assist the University community by serving as an information resource center and coordinating support services for students with disabilities. No otherwise qualified individual with a disability shall, solely by reason of such disability, be excluded from participation in, be denied benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination in University programs. The President, Board of Trustees, Student Government, Faculty and Staff Senates affirm the University's long standing and continuing commitment to Equal Opportunity for persons with disabilities.

ADA / 504 Grievance Procedures

The University has a continuing responsibility to monitor and address ADA compliance issues. Complaints should follow the procedure as indicated. The following internal grievance procedure provides for prompt and equitable resolution of complaints.

Complaints should be directed to Harvey Johnson, Director, Affirmative Action/Employee Relations, Human Resources, 1980 Arthur Street, (502)852-6688.

A complaint should be filed in writing, contain the name and address of the person filing it, and briefly describe the alleged violation. Upon receipt of the written notice of complaint, the Director of Affirmative Action/Employee Relations or his/her designee shall acknowledge receipt within five workdays.

1. A complaint should be filed within 180 days after the complainant becomes aware of the alleged violation.
2. An investigation, as may be appropriate, shall follow a filing of complaint. The Affirmative Action/Employee Relations office shall conduct the investigation. This internal complaint procedure involves an informal but thorough investigation, affording all interested persons and their representatives, if any, an opportunity to submit evidence relevant to a complaint.
3. A written determination as to the validity of the complaint and a description of the resolution, if any, shall be issued by the AA/ER Office and a copy forwarded to the complainant.
4. The AA/ER Office shall maintain the files and records relating to the complaints filed.
5. The complainant can request a reconsideration of the case in instances where the person is dissatisfied with the resolution. The request for reconsideration should be made within 15 workdays to the AA/ER Office.

The right of a person to a prompt and equitable resolution of the complaint filed hereunder shall not be impaired by the person's pursuit of other remedies such as the filing of a discrimination complaint with the responsible federal department or agency. Use of this complaint procedure is not a prerequisite to the pursuit of other remedies.

These rules shall be construed to protect the substantive rights of interested persons to meet appropriate due process standards, and to assure that the University complies with the ADA and implementing regulations.

Drug-Free Schools and Campuses

The Drug-Free Schools and Campuses Regulations (commonly called Part 86 of EDGAR) require that higher education institutions receiving any federal funding must notify each student and employee annually of its program to prevent the illicit use of drugs and the abuse of alcohol by students and employees.

The following is the University of Louisville's Drug-Free Schools Notice:

We, at the University of Louisville, have begun programs in the past few years to combat the misuse and abuse of alcohol and other chemical substances. We realize, however, that only through a concerted effort by all, can we make any major strides in preventing substance abuse.

Drug-Free Schools Notice

As required by the Federal Drug Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989, you are hereby notified by the University of Louisville that on University premises or at University sponsored activities, the following acts are prohibited:

- (i) distribution, possession, or use of any illegal drug or controlled substance without legal authorization;
- (ii) providing alcoholic beverages to individuals under 21 years of age, or possession of alcoholic beverages by individuals under 21 years of age; or
- (iii) illegal possession of an open container of an alcoholic beverage, public intoxication, driving while intoxicated, and drinking alcoholic beverages in an unlicensed public place.

In addition to imposition of disciplinary sanctions under University procedures including suspension or separation from the University for such acts, students or employees may face prosecution and imprisonment under Federal and Kentucky laws which make such acts felony and misdemeanor crimes.

The Code of Student Conduct lists details of offenses and disciplines for students. Staff may be disciplined under Section 1 1.1 of the Staff Handbook. Faculty may be disciplined by Deans per Redbook Sections 4.5.3 or 3.2.2 with review per 4.4 for sanctions less than dismissal or suspension for one year.

The health risks associated with the misuse and abuse of mind altering drugs, including controlled substances and alcohol, include but are not limited to: physical and psychological dependence; damage to the brain, pancreas, kidneys and lungs; high blood pressure, heart attacks, and strokes; ulcers; birth defects; a diminished immune system; and death. The Counseling Center and Student Health Services provide assessment and referral services to University students, as well as serving as an alcohol and other drug information/education resources center. For further information, call 852-6585. Services for faculty and staff are available through the Faculty/Staff Assistance Program. For further information, call (502) 852-6543.

Codes of Student Conduct, Rights, and Responsibilities

Student Advocate

The student advocate maintains confidential contacts with students, institutional officers, faculty and staff to offer informal, alternative means to resolve student complaints; to provide a "one-stop" contact for students who need advice and support in navigating through institutional policies, procedures and bureaucracy; and to negotiate institutional barriers so that students can be successful in school. The student advocate investigates and takes action for a timely resolution of complaints brought by students. The student advocate familiarizes students with unit policies and procedures in compliance with FERPA in order to improve student retention.

The student advocate works closely and cooperatively with student affairs offices, academic units, staff and faculty to maintain open lines of communication to promote available student services to students.

Questions and concern may be addressed by e-mail to advocate@louisville.edu or by phone to (502) 852-8113.

Code of Student Conduct

The University's Code of Student Conduct is the University's policy regarding non-academic discipline of students. Academic misconduct is not covered by this Code, but rather falls within the jurisdiction of the individual academic units of the University. The primary purpose for the imposition of non-academic discipline in the university setting is to protect and preserve a quality educational environment in the campus community. The Board of Trustees has the authority to modify the Code of Student Conduct.

The Code is set forth in writing in order to give students general notice of non-academic prohibited conduct. This Code is on the web at <http://louisville.edu/dos/policies-and-procedures/code-of-student-conduct.html> or contact the Dean of Students Office, SAC W301.

Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities

Section 1. Purpose

The Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities is set forth in writing in order to give students general notice of certain of their rights and responsibilities at the University of Louisville. Further rights and responsibilities are set forth in other University rules and policies, including the Code of Student Conduct, Residence Hall contracts, and academic unit bulletins. It is the students' responsibility to be aware of all University rules and policies; students should check with the Dean of Students Office and with their academic units if they have any questions about the purposes or intent of these policies.

The University is a public educational institution for adults rather than a custodial institution. Consistent with the role of the University to educate its students and to stimulate student autonomy and independence, University regulation and supervision of student life on and off campus is limited. The University does not assume responsibility or liability for the conduct of its students; responsibility and liability for student conduct rests with the student as inherent attributes of his or her adult status, concurrently with the student's freedom of choice regarding his or her presence at the University and his or her own conduct and associations.

Disclosures of a student's personal or political beliefs, expressed in writing or in private conversation, shall not be made public without explicit permission of the student. Charges of violations of these classroom rights and responsibilities shall be handled through the appropriate academic unit level procedures.

Section 5. Academic Dishonesty

Academic dishonesty is prohibited at the University of Louisville. It is a serious offense because it diminishes the quality of scholarship, makes accurate evaluation of student progress impossible, and defrauds those in society who must ultimately depend upon the knowledge and integrity of the institution and its students and faculty. Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, the following:

A. Cheating:

1. Using or attempting to use books, notes, study aids, calculators, or any other documents, devices, or information in any academic exercise without prior authorization by the teacher.

2. Copying or attempting to copy from another person's paper, report, laboratory work, computer program, or other work material in any academic exercise.

3. Procuring or using tests or examinations, or any other information regarding the content of a test or examination, before the scheduled exercise without prior authorization by the teacher.

4. Unauthorized communication during any academic exercise.

5. Discussing the contents of tests or examinations with students who have not yet taken the tests or examinations if the instructor has forbidden such discussion.

6. Sending a substitute to take one's examination, test, or quiz, or to perform one's field or laboratory work; acting as a substitute for another student at any examination, test, or quiz, or at a field or laboratory work assignment.

7. Conducting research or preparing work for another student, or allowing others to conduct one's research or prepare one's work, without prior authorization by the teacher. Except when otherwise explicitly stated by the teacher, examination questions shall become public after they have been given.

B. Fabrication:

Inventing or making up data, research results, information, or procedures, such as:

1. Inventing or making up data, research results, information, or procedures.

2. Inventing a record of any portion thereof regarding internship, clinical, or practicum experience.

C. Falsification:

Altering or falsifying information, such as:

1. Changing grade reports or other academic records.

2. Altering the record of experimental procedures, data, or results.

3. Altering the record of or reporting false information about internship, clinical, or practicum experiences.

4. Forging someone's signature or identification on an academic record.

5. Altering a returned examination paper in order to claim that the examination was graded erroneously.

6. Falsely citing a source of information.

D. Multiple Submission:

The submission of substantial portions of the same academic work, including oral reports, for credit more than once without prior authorization by the teacher involved.

E. Plagiarism:

Representing the words or ideas of someone else as one's own in any academic exercise, such as:

1. Submitting as one's own a paper written by another person or by a commercial "ghost writing" service, 2. Exactly reproducing someone else's words without identifying the words with quotation marks or by appropriate indentation, or without properly citing the quotation in a footnote or reference.

3. Paraphrasing or summarizing someone else's work without acknowledging the source with a footnote or reference.

4. Using facts, data, graphs, charts, or other information without acknowledging the source with a footnote or reference. Borrowed facts or information obtained in one's research or reading must be acknowledged unless they are "common knowledge". Clear examples of "common knowledge" include the names of leaders of prominent nations, basic scientific laws, and the meaning of fundamental concepts and principles in a discipline. The specific audience for which a paper is written may determine what can be viewed as “Common knowledge”: for example, the facts commonly known by a group of chemists will differ radically from those known by a more general audience. Students should check with their teachers regarding what can be viewed as “common knowledge” within a specific field or assignment, but often the student will have to make the final judgment. When in doubt, footnotes or references should be used.

F. Complicity in Academic Dishonesty: Helping or attempting to commit an academically dishonest act. The academic units may have additional guidelines regarding academic dishonesty. It is the student’s responsibility to check with their teachers and academic units to obtain those guidelines.

Section 6. Discipline Procedures for Academic Dishonesty

Charges of academic dishonesty shall be handled through the appropriate academic unit level procedures. An academic unit that determines that a student is guilty of academic dishonesty may impose any academic punishment on the student that it sees fit, including suspension or expulsion from the academic unit. A student has no right to appeal the final decision of an academic unit. However, a student who believes that he or she has been treated unfairly, has been discriminated against, or has had his or her rights abridged by the academic unit may file a grievance with the Unit Academic Grievance Committee, pursuant to the provisions of the Student Academic Grievance Procedure; the Unit Academic Grievance Committee may not substitute its judgment on the merits for the judgment of the academic unit. An academic unit that suspends or expels a student from the academic unit because the student has been found guilty of academic dishonesty may recommend to the University Provost in writing that the student also be suspended or expelled from all other programs and academic units of the University. Within four weeks of receiving such a recommendation, the Provost shall issue a written decision.

Neither the student nor the academic unit shall have the right to appeal the Provost’s decision. However, a student who believes that he or she has been treated unfairly, has been discriminated against, or has had his or her rights abridged by the issuance of a decision by the Provost may file a grievance with the University Student Grievance Committee, pursuant to the provisions of the Student Academic Grievance Procedure; the University Student Academic Grievance Committee may not substitute its judgment on the merits for the judgment of the Provost.

Section 7. Campus Expression

A. Students have the right of freedom of expression to the extent allowed by law.

B. Students may picket or demonstrate for a cause, subject to the following conditions:

1. The students must act in an orderly and peaceful manner.

Section 9. University Facilities

Appropriate University facilities shall be available to organizations within the University community for regular business meetings, for social programs, and for programs open to the public.

A. Reasonable conditions may be imposed to regulate the timeliness of requests, to determine the appropriateness of the space assigned, to regulate time and use, and to insure proper maintenance.

B. Preference may be given to programs designed for audiences consisting primarily of members of the University community.

C. Allocation of space shall be made based on priority of requests and the demonstrated needs of the organization.

D. Charges may be imposed for any unusual costs for use of facilities.

E. Physical abuse of assigned facilities may result in reasonable limitations on future allocation of space to offending parties and will require restitution of damages.

F. The organization requesting space must inform the University of the general purpose of any meeting open to persons other than members and the names of outside speakers.

Section 10. Use of University Name and Insignia

No individual, group, or organization may use the University name or insignia without the express authorization of the University except to identify the University affiliation. University approval or disapproval of any policy or issue may not be stated or implied by any individual, group, or organization.

Section 11. Campus Residence Facilities

residence facilities.

A. Nothing in the University relationship or residence hall contract may expressly or implicitly give the institution or residence hall officials authority to consent to search of a student's room or residence by police or other law enforcement officials unless they have obtained a search warrant.

B. The University reserves the right to enter a student's room in a residence hall or a student's apartment in a campus residence:

1. in emergencies where imminent danger to life, safety, health, or property is reasonably feared;
2. to make necessary repairs, improvements, or alterations in the facility;
3. to provide necessary pest control services;
4. to inspect the facility as deemed necessary by the University.

Section 12. Student Records

The privacy and confidentiality of all student records shall be preserved in accordance with applicable laws. The University shall establish and adhere to a clear and definitive records policy.

Section 13. Campus Organizations

Organizations and groups may be established within the University for any legal purpose. Affiliation with an extramural organization shall not, in itself, disqualify the University branch or chapter from University privileges. A group shall become a formally recognized organization through procedures established by the Student Government Association, upon approval of the Vice President for Student Affairs.

A. Groups of a continuing nature must institute proceedings for formal recognition if they are to receive benefits from the University.

B. Recognition of an organization by the University infers neither approval nor disapproval of the aims, objectives, and policies of the organization, nor liability for the actions of the organization.

C. Membership in all University related organizations shall be open to any member of the University community who is willing to subscribe to the stated aims and meet the stated obligations of the organization, provided such aims and obligations are lawful.

D. Membership lists are confidential and solely for the use of the organization, except that names and addresses of current organization officers shall be reported to the University as a condition of continuing University recognition.

E. Any organization that engages in activities either on or off campus that are illegal or contrary to any University policy may have sanctions imposed against it, including withdrawal of University recognition.

Included in the Student Handbook are the following: Academic Grievance Procedure, Code of Student Conduct, Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities, Policy on Consumption of Alcoholic Beverages for Recognized Student Organizations, Hazing and Initiation Activities Policy, Non-academic Grievance Policy and the Sexual Harassment Policy. Copies of the Student Handbook are available from the Dean of Students Office.

Plagiarism Prevention

Instructors may use a range of strategies (including plagiarism-prevention software at the university) to compare student works with private and public information resources in order to identify possible plagiarism and academic dishonesty. Comparisons of student works may require submitting a copy of the original work to the plagiarism-prevention service. The service may retain that copy in some circumstances. Academic units or programs may establish a more rigorous standard of review or consent, which will be noted in the relevant guidelines.

History of the University

During the early 19th century, the growing importance of water transportation, coupled with a strategic location at the falls of the Ohio River, made Louisville a commercial hub for the South and West. As the city's population and economy advanced, so did its institutions. In 1837 the Louisville Medical Institute opened for its first class, and the next year, the city created the Louisville Collegiate Institute. The two schools had no official connection, but they both manifested the city's dream of intellectual as well as mercantile leadership. In 1844 the Collegiate Institute inherited property from the defunct Jefferson Seminary, which had been chartered in 1798.

The Louisville Medical Institute attracted large enrollments and prospered financially, but the Collegiate Institute struggled to remain open. Proponents of grassroots democracy wanted to combine the schools and divert a portion of the medical school's resources to the college. They won a partial victory in 1846 when the General Assembly merged the Medical and Collegiate Institutes as the University of Louisville, but the new charter offered complete vindication to neither interest. It created a common board of trustees, but each division retained financial autonomy. The medical school continued to prosper, but as the liberal arts division struggled and failed to remain open, the newly added law school brought in a respectable number of students.

Most of the professors in the medical and law schools were drawn from the ranks of local physicians and attorneys who considered teaching a part-time vocation. By the 1880s and 1890s, however, the University felt some pressure from the educational reformers who not only believed schools should employ full-time instructors, but who advocated well enforced, national standards for academic training. In 1907, this trend contributed to the revival of the College of Arts and Sciences, which had been all but forgotten for most of the 19th century. As the university added new programs such as the Graduate School (1915), School of Dentistry (1918), Speed Scientific School (1925), Louisville Municipal College (1931), School of Music (1932), and Kent School of Social Work (1936), conformity to accreditation guidelines became increasingly important. Expanded academic programs and the adherence to higher educational standards led to the appointment of full-time administrators early in the 20th century.

World War II and the postwar era brought major changes to the University of Louisville. Shortly after the war, a movement began to close the all-black Louisville Municipal College and desegregate the University on all levels. This was accomplished in 1950 and 1951. The School of Business was established in 1953. Perhaps the most dramatic development of the postwar period was the movement of taxpaying citizens from the city to the suburbs. Since the University of Louisville was municipally-funded, this caused a damaging drain on the school's revenue. As early as 1965, a governor's task force suggested the possibility of the University of Louisville joining the state system of higher education, which it did in 1970.

The University of Louisville is one of the oldest urban universities in the United States. From its inception, U of L has been dedicated to providing programs related to the needs of the Louisville urban area. The mission statement adopted by the Council on Postsecondary Education on July 11, 1994, reflects this historical role. The mission statement assigns the University of Louisville state-wide functions in medicine, dentistry, law and urban affairs, and it designates U of L as a research university.

Students also have the right to file complaints with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act Office, Department of Education, concerning alleged failures by the institution to comply with the Act.

The University has adopted a policy which explains in detail the procedures to be used by the University for compliance with the provisions of the Act and the regulations adopted pursuant thereto. University Admission Policies

Admission to the University

Admission to the University of Louisville

The University of Louisville subscribes to a selective admission policy. Admission for freshman applicants is based on: a) high school grades; b) ACT or SAT scores; and c) successful completion of the required pre-college curriculum.

Enrollment in the freshman class is limited. Within the limits of space availability, the University will endeavor to accommodate all eligible applicants. However, the number of freshman applications exceeds the number of spaces available in the entering class. For this reason, the selective and competitive admission requirements may exceed the minimum eligibility requirement.

The University of Louisville's minimum eligibility admission policy requires any applicant to have graduated from an accredited high school or received a high school equivalency certificate, have completed the Pre-College Curriculum, possess a GPA of 2.5, and have achieved at least one of the following:

- A. The applicant has earned a composite ACT score of not less than 20 or an SAT-I score of not or less than 940 (CR+M); (OR)
- B. The applicant has completed the U of L Enhanced Pre-College Curriculum with a minimum GPA of 2.5 on a 4.0 scale. The Enhanced PCC consists of an additional two pre-college courses in Mathematics, Social Studies, or Science. These two courses may be taken in any combination within the three disciplines. The courses must be at or above the level of prescribed PCC; (OR)
- C. The applicant ranks in the top 15% of the applicant's high school graduating class upon completing seven or eight semesters in high school.

Freshman applicants who do not meet the selective requirements may have their admission decisions deferred. Admission will be offered first to those applicants with the strongest records and offers will continue until the class is filled. Some factors that are considered during this review are: number and scope of college preparatory, honors and AP classes; strength of senior year schedule; and evidence of marked improvement over time in applicant's academic career. The overriding concern will always be for the student's potential to be successful in meeting the academic expectations at the University.

Students should refer to the individual academic unit admission policies, included in this catalog, for additional admission requirements. Students should be cautioned about the distinction between undergraduate and graduate classifications when applying for admission to the University. For fee purposes, determination of "undergraduate" or "graduate" is based on the school or enrollment unit to which a student is admitted, and not on the level of courses taken.

Minimum Admission Standards for Public Universities in Kentucky (Pre-College Curriculum)

Students who enter one of Kentucky's public universities are required to have completed high school or high school equivalency certificate, and the Pre-College Curriculum (PCC). These are minimum standards and each university may require additional preparation of its students. The Pre-College Curriculum is a total of 22 approved units or courses including four units of English, three units of social studies, three units of mathematics (Algebra I and II and Geometry), two units of foreign language (same language), one half unit of physical education and health, one unit of history and appreciation of visual, performing arts, and 5 credits (3 rigorous) electives.

Students who are non-resident, 21 years of age or older or international are exempt from the PCC requirements.

The University may grant admission by exception to a limited number of the applicants admitted as first-time freshmen. Students admitted by exception will be required to enroll in courses to immediately remedy pre-college curriculum deficiencies.

Additional information and definition of approved units is available from the Office of Admissions or from guidance counselors or principals in Kentucky high schools.

Applying for Admission

Listed below are the admissions procedures for the various populations and classifications of students.

All admissions credentials for undergraduate students should be mailed to this address:

Office of Admissions
Department-AO
University of Louisville
Louisville, KY 40292

Entering Freshman Students

Application Deadlines: First-time freshmen applications and credentials received after the following application deadlines will be reviewed on a space available basis:

- Fall Term: February 15
- Spring Term: November 1
- Summer Term: April 1

Students who have never attended any college should seek admission by the following steps:

1. Submit the application online at louisville.edu/admissions/apply, pay a $40.00 application fee (payable by credit card or electronic check), and mail the University a copy of the high school transcript.
2. Request that test scores from ACT (the American College Testing Program) or SAT (College Board) be sent to the University, if they are not posted on the high school transcript.

Students will be notified of their admissibility to the University after receipt of this information.

Early Admissions

Students who apply for admission as a regular student, but do not plan to graduate from high school prior to enrolling in college, are considered early admissions applicants. In addition to submitting an application, high school transcript and ACT or SAT scores, early admissions applicants must submit a statement of motivation for beginning college prior to high school graduation, a letter of recommendation from their high school counselor, and a letter of endorsement from their parent/guardian. Early admissions applicants must also complete an interview with an admissions counselor.

Transfer Students

Transfer students are encouraged to apply earlier to allow ample time for evaluation of transcripts, advising, orientation, and registration.

Application Deadline: Transfer applications received at least six weeks prior to the beginning of a term will be given priority. Students transferring from another institution should take the following steps in seeking admission to the University:

1. Submit the application online at louisville.edu/admissions/apply and pay a $40.00 application fee (payable by credit card or electronic check).

2. Request that the registrar of each institution previously attended forward to the University an official transcript of all work completed or in progress. Failure to declare previous attendance at another institution may result in disciplinary action.
3. Students transferring with fewer than 24 transferable semester hours are required to take the ACT or SAT test if they have not done so previously, and submit a high school transcript. Students with fewer than 24 transferable semester hours must meet the admissions requirements for both new freshmen and transfer students.

All transfer students to the University of Louisville are required to participate in the Transfer Orientation Program. There is a fee for the Transfer Program. For further Orientation program information, go to louisville.edu/admissions/newcards.

Evaluation of Transfer Credit

For admission as a transfer student, applicants must submit official transcripts from all post-secondary institutions previously attended. UofL will determine a transfer GPA (grade point average) based upon the course work completed at previous institutions. UofL does not transfer in technical or developmental course work. Courses completed on a quarter system (or other system not based on semester hours) will be converted to semester hours. If you attended a post-secondary institution that is not regionally accredited, please write to transfer@louisville.edu for further information.

A student admitted to the University from another fully accredited institution will usually be allowed credit for academic courses which apply toward graduation at the University of Louisville. In some instances, examinations covering the course being transferred may be required. A student is required to complete 30 of his/her last 36 semester hours at the University of Louisville.

Courses that meet general education requirements may be transferred under course equivalencies established in the Office of Transfer Articulation. In cases where no equivalency is established, the Office of Transfer Articulation will direct students to the university academic department, school or college where similar courses are offered for evaluation of transfer credits.

When a transcript from an accredited institution records credit granted for “non-traditional” education experiences (such as credit by examination, experiential learning, or correspondence work), up to 24 hours of such credit will generally be accepted in transfer. No further evaluation is usually necessary, provided the student has earned 30 or more credits “in residence” at the certifying institution.

Credit will not be given for more than 24 semester hours of correspondence work, extension work, or dual high school/college credit.

If the student is transferring from an international post secondary institution, the student must submit their academic records to Educational Credentials Evaluators, Inc. (ECE), P. O. Box 92970, Milwaukee, WI 53202 or World Education Services, Inc. (WES), P.O. Box 11623, Chicago, IL 60611–0623 for a course-by-course evaluation. An application for evaluation and a brochure describing ECE’s or WES’s procedures, services and fees is available upon request from the Office of Admissions. It is the applicant’s responsibility to submit credentials to ECE or WES and to pay all charges for the evaluation. Only evaluations submitted directly from ECE or WES are accepted.

Once transcripts are received, a tentative evaluation of advanced credit will be issued. The final decision to award degree credit, however, is made in the academic unit in which the student intends to pursue a degree.

The university does not generally award transfer credit for course work completed at institutions that are not regionally accredited. With respect to AACRAO’s “Transfer Credit Practices of Designated Educational Institutions,” transcripts received from non-regionally accredited institutions are checked to determine the reporting institution(s) for the state in which the non-accredited institution is chartered. If the reporting institution accepts transfer work from the non-regionally accredited institution, then upon review the university generally accepts transfer work from the institution (except for technical or developmental course work, which UofL does not accept in any case).

If the reporting institution does not accept transfer work from the non-regionally accredited institution, then UofL generally does not accept transfer work from the institution. The student who attended the non-regionally accredited institution can appeal (<http://louisville.edu/admissions/apply/transfer/appeal>) for individual review of each course completed at the non-regionally accredited institution. The appeal form must be accompanied by the following material for review: faculty credentials for each course, course syllabi for each course and books used in each course. This procedure is the same for General Education courses and non-General Education courses.

Re-enrolling Students

If a student has a break in enrollment of two or more calendar years, that student must apply for readmission to an enrollment unit, and if admitted, will be subject to catalog requirements in effect at the time of readmission. Students who were not enrolled during the immediate past semester, but were enrolled within the last two calendar years, and who wish to continue in the school and program in which they were last registered are eligible to reenroll. They need to complete the request to re-enroll form at the advising center of their academic unit or at the Registrar’s Office. Students completing the re-enrollment process are eligible for early registration for the term in which they wish to return. Students whose last enrollment status was visitor, high school visitor, suspended or who were dismissed, must reapply. Students last enrolled in University College, Allied Health or Transitional Studies must also reapply through the Office of Admissions since these units are no longer in existence.

Visitors

Visiting students are those individuals who are pursuing a degree from another institution, but who plan to enroll at the University of Louisville for one semester. Submit the application online at louisville.edu/admissions/apply and pay a $40.00 application fee (payable by credit card or electronic check) for each semester you plan to attend.

Applicants to the Speed School of Engineering or College of Business must also include transcripts.

High School Visitors

A senior student who is presently enrolled in high school and who wants to take one or more college courses prior to graduating from high school will be considered a High School Visitor. These students must submit an application, $40.00 application fee, high school transcript, test scores (ACT, PSAT, or SAT), and a letter of recommendation from their high school counselor. Students who have not completed the first part of their junior year should contact the Office of Admissions for information concerning additional requirements for admission.

International Student Applicants

There are essentially three areas of concern for international applicants. They are:

1. Successful completion of a strong, quality academic program.
2. Proficiency in the English language.
3. Ability to demonstrate financial resources.

Students who are not U.S. citizens or immigrants will need to submit an admissions application to the Office of Admissions and financial documents to the International Center. The application provides information concerning the student's academic background and educational goals. Applications should be received by the Office of Admissions well in advance of the desired enrollment date in order to allow adequate time for processing. International student applicants should refer to the following list of application priority deadlines:

- Fall Semester: May 1
Term begins late August
- Spring Semester: November 1
Term begins early January
- Summer Semester: April 1
Various terms begin in May, June and July

When all required credentials have been submitted, the application will be reviewed by the Office of Admissions. Once an admissions decision has been made, the student will be notified.

International students applying to undergraduate programs will need to submit official transcripts of records from all secondary schools, universities, colleges, or professional schools attended. If official transcripts are not in English, you will also need to submit notarized English translations of your records. All post-secondary work must be submitted to Educational Credentials Evaluators, Inc. (ECE) or World Education Services, Inc. (WES) for a course-by-course evaluation. It is the applicant's responsibility to pay all charges for the evaluation. An application for evaluation and a brochure describing ECE's or WES's procedures, services and fees is available upon request from the Office of Admissions.

Continuing Studies

Continuing Studies is a non-degree granting unit that admits adult students who want to begin or return to college as part-time students. In order to be eligible to apply to Continuing Studies, students must be at least 22 years old and have a high school diploma or high school equivalency certificate issued by a state department of education.

Continuing Studies students may enroll for a maximum of 8 hours in any semester or summer session. Students are required to maintain a 2.0 grade point average. Continuing Studies students are not eligible to receive state or federal financial aid.

Degree-seeking undergraduate students may remain in Continuing Studies until they accumulate 24 credit hours. Students with 24 credit hours must apply for admission and be accepted by a degree-granting unit of the University if they wish to continue their course work.

University Orientation Programs

All new freshmen to the University of Louisville are required to participate in the Summer Orientation program during the months of June and July. Orientation is a 2-day overnight program where new students will have the opportunity to interact with other new and current students, meet with an academic advisor for one on one counseling and be introduced to faculty and staff from across campus. Information regarding Summer Orientation is sent via email in the March and April previous to your enrollment. Please note it is mandatory that new freshmen attend an orientation program. Students must register for summer orientation via the orientation website. There is a fee for Summer Orientation. Students admitted as post-baccalaureates, visitors, readmits, or intra-university transfers are not required to attend an orientation program.

Post-baccalaureate Admissions

Students who hold at least a bachelor's degree and plan to enroll for undergraduate courses, but are not pursuing a second undergraduate degree are considered to be post-baccalaureate applicants. These students need to submit an official transcript certifying at least a bachelor's degree, an application for admission and a $40.00 application fee.

Online Courses and Programs

UofL's Delphi Center for Teaching and Learning offers students an opportunity to take courses at times and places that fit their busy lifestyles without having to travel to class on a regular basis. Rather than gathering in a classroom, students and instructors interact online using Blackboard, the university's online delivery software. In addition to many online courses offered in a variety of subject areas, select degree programs are offered online in their entirety. For more information about online degree programs, visit <http://louisville.edu/online> .

Online courses are charged differently than traditional face-to-face courses. For current online course tuition rates, visit the Office of the Bursar website at <http://louisville.edu/bursar>. To see what online courses are offered, visit <http://louisville.edu/registrar>, under the heading Registration, select "Online Schedule of Classes" and select "Distance Education" in the location field.

Admission to the College of Arts & Sciences

Matriculation

Students are admitted to the College of Arts and Sciences on either a matriculated or non-matriculated basis. High school visitors, visiting students from other institutions, auditors, postbaccalaureate students, and students admitted as special students are considered non-matriculated. All other students are considered matriculated. Students planning to earn degrees from the College of Arts and Sciences must be matriculated in order for the credits they have earned to apply toward their degrees.

Students admitted on a non-matriculated basis will be notified by the Office of Admissions of their status and of the conditions of their enrollment at the time they are accepted. Students admitted on a matriculated basis remain matriculated until they graduate, transfer to another college, or are dismissed.

Transfer students who left their last institution in good standing and who have a standing of at least 2.0 on a 4.0 scale may, upon presentation of transcripts and satisfactory test scores (if applicable), request matriculation at the time of applying for admission.

Entering Arts & Sciences Freshmen Students

Admission for a normal course load is granted to students meeting the following requirements:

- Graduation from an accredited high school with a grade point average of 2.5 or better, or successful completion of the General Education Development (GED) tests.
- Completion of the Pre-College Curriculum (State of Kentucky) (see “Minimum Admission Standards for Public Universities in Kentucky/Pre-College Curriculum” in the General Information section of this catalog).
- A composite ACT score at or above the national mean.

Persons with deficiencies in the above areas may be eligible for admission under certain conditions:

1. Exceptionally gifted students who have completed three years of high school may be admitted by action of the Admissions and Appeals Committee, provided recommendations from high school counselors and teachers, previous academic records, test scores, and personal interviews indicate the ability to succeed in college level work.
2. Students with pre-college curriculum deficiencies are, in general, not admissible if they lack two courses in one area or three courses overall. Exceptions are made if the student has a score of 22 (enhanced) or better on the appropriate ACT subtest. Other exceptions must be approved by the College Admissions and Appeals Committee. Students admitted by action of the College Admissions and Appeals Committee will be required to enroll in courses to remove pre-college curriculum deficiencies. All deficiencies must be removed by the time the student completes twenty-four (24) semester hours of degree credit. Deficiencies may be removed by successfully completing courses outlined in the Pre-College Curriculum section of this catalog.
3. Students who have a high school grade point average between 2.25 and 2.49 may be admitted if the composite ACT score is 23 or above.
4. Students who have a composite ACT score of 18-19 may be admitted if the high school grade point average is 3.0-3.25 or above.
5. A student whose ACT College Reading score is lower than 20 or whose SAT I verbal score is lower than 470 must participate in the state-mandated Supplemented Study Program in College Reading. During their first semester of enrollment they must register for one section of a non-mathematics General Education course offered with a supplemented college reading course (GEN 105). Specific courses in the supplemented program vary each semester and will be listed in the Schedule of Courses.
6. Students who graduated from an unaccredited high school may be admitted upon satisfactory completion of such examinations as the College faculty may require. For further information consult the Admissions Office.

Conditional Admission

Students who do not qualify for automatic admission or who cannot remedy deficiencies as prescribed in 1-5 above may be admitted in conditional status if they meet the university's minimum admission standards.

1. Students admitted in conditional status whose ACT College Reading Scores are 18 and below or whose SAT I Verbal Scores are 430 and below, must participate in the state-mandated Supplemented Study Program in College Reading. During their first semester of enrollment they must register for one section of a non-mathematics General Education course offered with supplemented study hours each week. Specific courses in the supplemented program vary each semester and will be listed in the Schedule of Courses.

2. Students admitted in conditional status must register for required developmental courses immediately following matriculation and must continue to do so until all deficiencies have been removed.
3. Students admitted in conditional status may register for a maximum of 14 credit hours of coursework in their first semester and 13 credit hours of coursework each semester thereafter until removed from conditional status. Not all courses are suitable for conditionally admitted students and enrollment restrictions exist. Students should consult their academic advisor regarding courses for which they are eligible to enroll.
4. Students admitted in conditional status must be advised prior to registration each semester until removed from conditional status.

Students will be removed from conditional status when the following requirements have been met:

1. Successful completion of GEN 101: A & S Orientation;
2. Successful completion of any required developmental courses;
3. A grade point average of 2.0 or better on all college level courses; or
4. Completion of 24 degree applicable hours with a GPA of 2.0 or above.

Students not meeting the requirements for admission may be admitted on a non-matriculated basis as special students by consent of the Dean or by action of the Admissions and Appeals Committee. Special students must pay the regular fees. Special students may not become candidates for degrees except by subsequently satisfying the requirements for admission on a matriculated basis.

High School Visitors

The College offers qualified high school students the opportunity to earn college credits by enrolling in selected freshman-level courses (i.e., courses at the 100 or 200 level). The program is open to high school seniors, and in exceptional cases to juniors. In order to be admitted as a High School Visitor, a student must submit an application, a high school transcript showing a minimum grade point average of 3.0, test scores on the ACT or SAT in the top 70th percentile, and a recommendation letter from the high school counselor or principal. High School Visitors may enroll in one or two courses each semester, and may earn a maximum of 24 college credits. All grades earned by High School Visitors will be recorded on an official university transcript.

Transfer Students

Students who seek admission to the College with credit for work taken at another institution or in another college or school of the University of Louisville are transfer students. Such applicants may be admitted in good standing, admitted in Special Status, or denied admission.

Admission in good standing requires:

- A grade point average of 2.0 or better on a 4.0 point scale based on all work attempted, excluding developmental courses (see “Transfer Students” in the General Information section of this catalog);
- Good standing in the institution of last attendance, including eligibility to return to that institution;
- Full disclosure of previous attendance in another school or college of this University and/or any other post-secondary institution.

Transfer students with fewer than twenty-four (24) acceptable credits must submit high school transcripts and ACT scores, and must meet the requirements for freshmen.

Admission in Special Status

Transfer students not meeting the above criteria may be admitted only in Special Status by action of the Admissions and Appeals Committee. Such students are subject to the following guidelines:

- Remain in special status with limited load as specified by the Admissions and Appeals Committee for a minimum of 24 semester hours.
- Maintain a minimum 2.0 semester grade point average for the first 24 semester hours attempted in courses applicable to an Arts and Sciences degree.
- Removed from special status after 24 semester hours if the cumulative grade point average is 2.0 or above.
- Suspended if the semester grade point average is lower than 2.0 at the end of any semester.

Students ineligible for admission in the College because of disciplinary action in another institution or another school of this University may be ruled eligible for admission to the College by the Dean; students who violate the full disclosure requirement will be referred to the Admissions and Appeals Committee for determination of a mandatory withdrawal from the College for a period stipulated by the committee.

Additional Transfer Requirements

To be eligible for a degree from the College of Arts and Sciences, students transferring from a four-year institution must complete at least 30 hours of work applicable to the degree as a student enrolled in the College, including 30 of the final 36 hours and a minimum of 6 credits in the declared major. Students transferring course work from a two-year college are cautioned that a maximum of 60 semester hours of credit from a two-year college may be applied toward the minimum hours required for a baccalaureate degree. The remaining semester hours of the minimum 121 hours required for the baccalaureate degree must be completed at a four-year institution. If a student has earned more than 60 semester hours at a two-year institution, the additional work may, if equivalent, be applied toward fulfillment of general education or other requirements, but will not be applied toward earned hours.

Students must complete at least 50 semester hours of course work numbered 300 or higher. Work from a two-year or community college usually will not apply to this requirement. For this reason, students planning to transfer to this College from a community college or two-year college are advised to complete the lower level portion of the College's General Education requirements and the foreign language series prior to transferring. Students who have transferred to the College should meet with an academic counselor of the Arts and Sciences Advising Center for assistance in evaluating their records for transfer credit.

Transfer Credit Evaluation

The College recognizes appropriate course work done at other accredited universities and colleges and accepts that work according to the principles set forth in the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers Transfer Credit Practices and state law. Transfer work that is college-level, academic in nature, and earned at appropriately accredited institutions will be accepted as credit toward degree, consistent with policies in effect for resident students. Transfer students must be aware that majors and/or programs may require a minimum of a "C" or better for certain degree requirements.

Work graded "Pass" will not count toward fulfillment of General Education requirements, the language requirement, or requirements specified in the student's major program.

Credits granted on the basis of examination and posted on an official transcript from a fully accredited institution must be accompanied by a minimum of 24 additional degree applicable semester hours (or the equivalent) completed at that institution.

Courses that meet General Education requirements may be transferred under course equivalencies established in the Office of Transfer Services. In cases where no equivalency is established, the Office of Transfer Services will direct students to the university academic department, school or college where similar courses are offered for evaluation of transfer credits.

The College will accept no more than 24 semester hours toward the 121 hours required for a degree which is completed by correspondence and/or extension work (which includes college credits earned as a high school visitor at another institution). Work taken beyond the 24 hours may, however, be applied toward General Education or other requirements.

Transfer students who wish to major in creative art will be required to submit portfolios before they can take 300 level creative art classes. (Consult the Department of Fine Arts.)

Foreign Students

Foreign students who have a secondary school record sufficient to predict college success and who demonstrate proficiency in the English language will be admitted to the College of Arts and Sciences. Beginning applicants and transfer applicants who have completed less than one full academic year of postsecondary credit (fewer than 24 semester hours of acceptable transfer credit) must submit test scores from the American College Testing (ACT) program. Refer to the General Information section of this catalog for more information.

Auditors

Persons not eligible for admission to the College, or not seeking admission for the purpose of taking courses for credit, may receive permission to take courses as auditors. All persons who audit classes must pay the regular fees. Persons whose enrollment in the College was limited to audited courses may not change to a credit basis for any course they are auditing unless they have reapplied for admission to the College and have been admitted prior to the deadline for change of status from audit to credit. Regularly enrolled students may also enroll in classes as auditors. Permission of instructor is required to enroll as an auditor. Students may not enroll in audit status during the Early Registration period. (See “Audited Courses”.)

Admission to the College of Business

Students are admitted to the College of Business on either a degree seeking or non-degree-seeking basis. High School visitors, visiting students from other institutions, auditors, post baccalaureate students, and students admitted as special students are considered non-degree seeking. They will be notified by the Office of Admissions of their status and of the conditions of their enrollment at the time they are accepted. All other students are considered degree seeking.

Students planning to earn degrees from the College of Business must be degree-seeking in order for the credits they have earned to apply toward their degrees. Students remain in a degree-seeking status until they graduate, transfer to another college or university, or are suspended/dismissed.

Entering College of Business Freshmen Students

Admission in Good Standing

Admission in good standing is granted to students meeting each of the following requirements:

- Graduation from an accredited high school with a minimum 3.0 GPA or successful completion of the General Education Development (GED) test;
- Completion of the Pre-College Curriculum. (See "Minimum Admission Standards for Public Universities in Kentucky/Pre-College Curriculum" in the General Information section of this catalog.); and
- A composite ACT score of 24 or above.

Admission in Probation Standing

Students with an ACT composite score of 22 - 23 and who meet admission requirements above other than the ACT score threshold will be admitted in conditional standing. Students in conditional standing become students in good standing if their University GPA is 3.0 or above after completion of their first semester. The University Grade Point Average (University GPA) is based on all college-level undergraduate courses taken at the University of Louisville. Admission in conditional standing is to be considered the student's academic warning according to the academic warning, probation, suspension and dismissal standards. Students will be placed on probation if after completion of their 1st semester their university GPA is less than 3.0. Students admitted in conditional status must register for required developmental courses immediately following matriculation and must continue to do so until all deficiencies have been removed. Students not admissible under the above criteria, such as home-schooled applicants, may petition for admission.

Assured Admission to the Full-Time MBA Program

Incoming freshman students who have:

- An ACT composite score of 31 or higher and
 - A high-school GPA of 3.5 or higher
- are guaranteed admission to the COB's Full-Time MBA program, if they also complete the COB baccalaureate degree within four years of the enrollment semester with a minimum 3.5 university GPA.

This guarantee applies only to the Full-Time MBA program intake immediately following graduation from the baccalaureate program.

Transfer Students

Students who seek admission to the College with credit for work taken at another institution or in another college or school of the University of Louisville are transfer students. Such applicants may be admitted in good standing, probation standing, or denied admission.

Admission in Good Standing

Admission in good standing requires:

- A grade point average of 3.0 or better on a 4.0 scale based on all work attempted for college credit. (If previously enrolled at U of L, GPA will be calculated only on U of L work attempted for college credit.) (see "Transfer Students" in the General Information section of this catalog);
- Good standing in the institution of last attendance, including eligibility to return to that institution;
- Full disclosure of previous attendance in another school or college of this University and/or any other post-secondary institution; AND
- Transfer students with fewer than twenty-four (24) acceptable degree credits must submit high school transcripts and ACT scores, and must meet the requirements for freshmen.

Admission in Conditional Standing

Transfer students with a GPA 2.8 - 2.99 may petition for admission. Students with a transfer GPA below 2.8 will be admitted only under extenuating circumstances. Students with a transfer gpa below 3.0 will be admitted in probation status according to the academic warning, probation, suspension and dismissal standards (see section on COB Academic Status in this Catalog).

Students admitted in probation standing must be advised, and are restricted to 13 credit hours per semester. Students admitted in probation standing must earn a 3.0 semester gpa following admission to avoid suspension as consistent with the COB policy on Academic Status. Students in probation standing will become students in good standing when their University GPA is 3.0 or above after the next semester completed.

Other Applicants

Students whose last attendance at U of L resulted in academic suspension must petition for readmission. (See section covering COB policy on Academic Status.) Students ineligible for admission in the College because of disciplinary action in another institution or another school of this University may be ruled eligible for admission to the College by petitioning to the College of Business Undergraduate Studies Committee. Students who violate the full disclosure requirement will be referred to the COB Undergraduate Studies Committee for determination of a mandatory withdrawal from the College for a period stipulated by the committee.

Additional Transfer Requirements

To be eligible for a degree from the College of Business, students transferring must:

- complete at least 30 of the final 36 semester hours applicable to the degree as a student enrolled in the COB.
- complete a minimum of 12 credit hours in the declared major at U of L.
- earn at least sixty (60) semester credit hours at four-year institutions.
- complete at least fifty hours of course work numbered 300 or higher. Work from a two-year or community college usually will not apply to this requirement. For this reason, students planning to transfer to this College from a community college or two-year college are advised to complete only the lower level portion of the College's general education requirements prior to transferring.

- Must earn a 3.0 gpa in the major and UofL cumulative.

Students who have transferred to the College must meet with an academic advisor of the COB Reinhardt Academic Center for assistance in evaluating their records for transfer credit.

The College of Business recognizes appropriate course work done at other accredited universities and colleges and accepts that work according to the principles set forth in the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers Transfer Credit Practices Guide and state law. Transfer work that is college level, academic in nature, and earned at appropriately accredited institutions will be accepted and posted as credit earned (i.e. with no grade) consistent with policies in effect for resident students. Students must be aware that majors and/or programs may require a minimum of a "C" or better for certain degree requirements. Students admitted to the COB from other fully accredited institutions will receive credit for academic courses, but applicability of transfer credit toward a business degree will be determined by the COB Undergraduate Studies Committee. Courses will be evaluated not only based on content but also as to level. Course level is determined by lower division (numbered 100-299) and upper division (numbered 300- 499). A transfer business course must have been taken at the same level as the equivalent course at the University of Louisville to meet degree requirements.

Courses that meet general education requirements may be transferred under course equivalencies established in the Office of Transfer Services. In cases where no equivalency is established, the Office of Transfer Services will direct students to the university academic department, school or college where similar courses are offered for evaluation of transfer credits.

Visiting Students

Visiting students from other institutions who wish to take courses in the College of Business may enroll in non-degree seeking status and must follow the procedure outlined in the General Information section of this catalog (see "Visitors"). Visiting students are not eligible for COB Co-ops and must meet all prerequisite requirements.

College of Business students will be allowed to visit other colleges or universities only with written permission of the Reinhardt Academic Center, COB

Bldg., Room 024. Considerations include academic standing (students must be in good academic standing), residency requirement, course equivalency, and number of course credit hours. Total course load cannot exceed 17 hours. Failure to follow these guidelines may result in loss of credit.

High School Visitors

The College offers to qualified high school students the opportunity to earn college credits by enrolling in selected freshman-level courses (i.e., certain courses at the 100 or 200 level). The program is open to high school seniors, and, in exceptional cases, to juniors. In order to be admitted as a High School Visitor, a student must submit an application, a high school transcript showing a minimum grade point average of 3.0, test scores on the ACT or SAT above the national mean, and a recommendation letter from the high school counselor or principal. High School Visitors may enroll in one or two courses each semester, and may earn a maximum of 24 college credits. All grades earned by High School Visitors will be recorded on an official university transcript.

Auditors

Persons not eligible for admission to the College, or not seeking admission for the purpose of taking courses for credit, may request permission to take courses as auditors. Permission of the instructor is required to enroll as an auditor. All persons who audit classes must pay the regular fees. Persons whose enrollment in the College was limited to audited courses may not change to a credit basis for any course they are auditing unless they have reapplied for admission to the College and have been admitted prior to the deadline for change of status from audit to credit. Regularly enrolled students may also enroll in classes as auditors. Students may not enroll in audit status during the Early Registration period. (See "Audited Courses" this section of the catalog.)

Admission to the Dental Hygiene Program

All applicants should refer to the information included in the University of Louisville catalog relative to general admission policies. We encourage potential applicants to please consult the Kent Website at <http://louisville.edu/kent/bsw>. Admission to the professional Social Work Program is conducted without discrimination on the basis of race, color, gender, age, creed, ethnic or national origin, disability, or sexual orientation. If the students have no para-professional work history they are encouraged to pursue extensive volunteer experience prior to application.

Criteria for Admission to the Professional Social Work Program

Students must be aware that majors and/or programs may require a minimum of a "C" or better for certain degree requirements. Individual units or programs may set higher standards in accepting transfer grades, which supersede those indicated here.

The School of Music does not accept transfer grades below a "C." No credit is transferred for applied music or theory. Advanced standing for applied music may be awarded at a jury. Advanced standing for theory is awarded by examination. Music history credits are evaluated for transfer by the Music History faculty. Recital Attendance credits may be transferred. Courses that meet general education requirements may be transferred under course equivalencies established in the Office of Transfer Services. In cases where no equivalency is established, the Office of Transfer Services will direct students to the university academic department, school, or college where similar courses are offered for evaluation of transfer credits.

The School of Nursing offers the Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN). There are three degree curriculums available to pursue the BSN; a traditional BSN, an accelerated BSN, and an RN to BSN. Students apply for a degree program based upon their previous academic background. Only students with a baccalaureate or higher degree are eligible to apply to the Accelerated 2nd Degree program. To be eligible to apply to the RN-BSN program, students must be a licensed registered nurse.

Admission to the School of Nursing is a two level process for the Traditional and Accelerated 2nd Degree programs; lower division and upper division. Students must be admitted to the lower division of the appropriate degree program to be eligible to apply to the upper division of a degree program. Admission to the lower division does not guarantee admission to the upper division. Admission to the upper division of each degree program is competitive.

Admission to the Lower Division

Students may be admitted directly to the School of Nursing's Lower Division (pre-professional) if the minimum admission standards and university deadlines are met. Admission applications must be submitted to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions. Applications are available on line through the university's website. Paper applications may be requested from the Office of Undergraduate Admissions. Admission to the Lower Division (Pre-professional) does not guarantee admission to the Upper Division (Professional Curriculum).

Freshmen and transfers with fewer than 24 hours of college credit

To apply to the Lower Division, applicants must:

- Submit an official high school transcript
- Submit all official transcripts from all outside college course work, if applicable,

- d. minimum college grade point average of 2.8, if applicable

Admission in conditional standing

Students with a composite ACT score of 19 or 20 and who meet admission requirements a and b (above) may be admitted in conditional standing. Students in conditional standing become students in good standing if their University of Louisville grade point average is 2.8 or above after completion of their 1st semester. The University Grade Point Average (University GPA) is based on all college-level undergraduate courses taken at the University of Louisville. Students will be placed on academic warning according to the academic warning, probation, and suspension standards if after completion of their 1st semester their University GPA is less than 2.8.

Transfer Students with more than 24 hours of college credit

All Accelerated 2nd Degree students must meet the admissions requirements for transfer students with more than 24 hours. To apply to the Lower Division, applicants must:

- Submit all official transcripts from all outside college course work to the Office of Admissions. Mail to or request mailing to: The Office of Admissions, Dept. AO, University of Louisville, Louisville, KY 40292.

- Have a cumulative college grade point average of 2.8 (on a 4 point scale) or above on all undergraduate college work.
- Transfer applicants with 24 or more hours of college credit must have a cumulative college grade point average of 2.8 or higher to be admitted. There is no conditional admission for transfer students.

Intra-University Transfer Students

Students who have completed at least one semester in another school of the University of Louisville and have a college grade point average of 2.8 or above may apply for an intra-university transfer to the School of Nursing. They must complete an online IUT application that can be found at: www.louisville.edu/provost/iut. Students admitted through this process must be advised before registering for courses in their first semester in the nursing program.

- have earned a cumulative and lower division (pre-professional) program grade point average of 2.8 or higher. The cumulative grade point average for admission to Upper Division nursing is calculated based on all course work completed at accredited postsecondary institutions. The lower division (pre-professional) program cumulative grade point average is based on all required lower division (pre-professional) curriculum course work.

- earn a “C” or high in required science, Nutrition and English courses. Science courses must have been completed within the last 10 years. Students must submit to the Associate Dean for Undergraduate Programs an application for acceptance of sciences taken prior to the last 10 years. Additional Transfer Student Information

Community college transfer limits policy

For the Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree, students must have at least sixty semester credit hours earned at four-year institutions. Students must also meet university residency requirements.

Awarding of transfer credit

A student may earn college credit through a variety of mechanisms. Therefore, students seeking advanced standing through transfer of credit should seek advice from the Office of Student Services, School of Nursing, as soon as possible. Individual evaluations include:

1. Courses from accredited colleges and universities
2. Course descriptions and outlines
3. CLEP examinations
4. Advanced Placement examinations
5. Portfolio documentation, RN-BSN program only. Students in the RN-BSN program will receive 25 college credits from the university after successful completion of the portfolio course.

6. General Education Block Certifications by accredited Kentucky institutions are recognized.
7. The School of Nursing has a ten year limit on science courses. Transfer credit for science courses taken prior to the last 10 years will be evaluated on an individual basis.
8. Other transfer courses are evaluated on an individual basis for currency and equivalency to required courses in the nursing curriculum. Science, English, Nutrition, and nursing courses taken at another college or university must have been passed with a grade of “C” or better in order to be transferred into the nursing curriculum. Generally only courses equivalent to Pharmacology and Pathophysiology can be transferred into the School of Nursing degree program.

An Academic Counselor must oversee approval for all transfer credits for students in the RN-BSN Program and the Accelerated 2nd Degree BSN Program.

Transfer Policy for Students Transferring from Other Schools of Nursing

Applicants transferring from other schools of nursing will submit complete course syllabi and appropriate supporting documents to the SON Office of Student Services. These documents must be submitted at least 6 weeks prior to the application deadline. Syllabi and supporting documents will be reviewed by selected SON faculty and Office of Student Services staff for the purpose of evaluating course equivalency to UofL SON courses. Course equivalency must be confirmed prior to admissions. When courses are approved, they become the course of record for that academic year. Nursing courses that have been approved for equivalency will remain equivalent for varying periods of time depending on the course.

If a student has a previous nursing course failure, it will be considered the first failure by the UofL SON. One additional failure of a nursing course at the UofL SON will result in dismissal from the program.

A student who has previously failed 2 nursing courses at any school of nursing will not be eligible for admission to the UofL SON's accelerated and traditional BSN programs. RN-BSN applicants who have failed 2 previous nursing courses at any school of nursing will be evaluated on an individual basis.

Academic Bankruptcy & Forgiveness & Fresh Start

Academic Bankruptcy and Forgiveness policies allow students who are returning to college after an absence of two or more years to request the adjustment of their records for one or more entire semesters of previous college work, provided certain criteria are met. Admission to the J.B. Speed School of Engineering

Application Process

Students apply for admission to the J.B. Speed School of Engineering by completing a University of Louisville undergraduate application. The application and detailed directions are located online at the University admissions website.

Students are admitted to the School of Engineering on either a degree seeking or non-degree seeking basis. High School visitors, visiting students from other institutions, auditors, post baccalaureate students, and continuing studies students are considered non-degree seeking. All other students are considered degree seeking. Applicants will be notified by the University's Office of Admissions of their status and of the conditions of their enrollment at the time they are accepted. Students planning to earn degrees from the School of Engineering must be degree-seeking in order for the credits they have earned to apply toward their degrees. Students remain in a degree-seeking status until they graduate, transfer to another college or university, or are suspended/ dismissed.

Freshmen Students

Admission requirements vary between the different schools in the university. A student is eligible for admission to the academic programs of the School of Engineering upon the basis of courses taken in high school, grade-point average, and test scores achieved on either the ACT or SAT. For unconditional admission, entering freshman students should meet the following requirements.

- High School Curriculum Requirements: All schools require graduation from an accredited high school and completion of the Kentucky Pre-College Curriculum requirements. In addition, Speed School requires successful completion of the following courses in high school:
 - Calculus or pre-calculus
 - Chemistry
 - Physics
- Grade Point Average Requirements: A cumulative high school grade point average of at least 3.00 on a 4.00 scale ("B" average).

- ACT/SAT Test Score Requirements: ACT composite, mathematics, and science scores of at least 24; or SAT composite score (critical reading and mathematics) of 1090 and mathematics score of 560.

Transfer Students

Students with fewer than 24 transferable semester hours are considered in a similar fashion as freshman students and must meet the admissions requirements for new freshmen and have a 2.5 college grade point average. Students with 24 hours or more transferable semester hours must have a 2.5 college grade point average and no deficiencies in mathematics or science.

The Speed School of Engineering requires a minimum "C-" grade for any transferred course to be accepted as credit toward a degree. A transfer student must earn at least sixty semester hours applicable toward the baccalaureate degree at a fully accredited four-year college or university. Thirty of the last thirty-six semester hours must be earned at the University of Louisville.

Admission Status

Successful applicants who satisfy all Speed School requirements will be granted unconditional admission with a "Good Standing" status. If there is a deficiency in academic qualifications, successful applicants will be either admitted to Speed School on "Limited Load" status or to the School of Arts and Sciences in a pre-engineering curriculum.

Good standing

Freshman students (and transfer students with less than 24 hours) who satisfy all requirements will be granted unconditional admission into the Department of Engineering Fundamental with a "Good Standing" status. After one year in Engineering Fundamentals (31 credit hours), qualified students will be accepted into their major department. Transfer students who have completed all courses required by Engineering Fundamentals will be admitted directly into their major department.

Limited load

Applicants who have completed high school curriculum requirements, but whose high school cumulative grade point average is between 2.8 and 3.0, or whose ACT composite, mathematics, or science scores are 22 or 23 (SAT composite between 1020 and 1090 or mathematics score between 530 and 560), will be admitted to the Department of Engineering Fundamentals on “Limited Load” status. Transfer students who do not satisfy all requirements will also be admitted on “Limited Load” status. This restricts student load to 14 hours for fall/spring semesters and 10 hours for summer. Students will be removed from limited load after the first semester if they achieve a 2.5 grade point average (with at least 12 hours) or once they have a 2.0 in at least 24 hours.

Arts & Sciences pre-engineering

Applicants who do not meet high school curriculum requirements for Speed School or are below grade point average or test score requirements, but still satisfy university admission requirements, will be admitted to Arts and Sciences in a pre-engineering curriculum. The pre-engineering curriculum prepares students for the mathematics and sciences courses in the Speed School curriculum. Students who complete the pre-engineering curriculum with at least C grades and have a cumulative grade point average above 2.25 can complete an intra-university transfer to Speed School.

Readmission

If a student has a break in enrollment of two or more calendar years, the student must apply for readmission by completing a University of Louisville undergraduate application. If admitted, the student will be subject to catalog requirements in effect at the time of readmission.

Non-degree Students

High School visitors, visiting students from other institutions, auditors, post baccalaureate students, and continuing studies students wishing to take courses offered by the School of Engineering must complete a University of Louisville undergraduate application. Upon admission, students may enroll in classes for which they have completed the prerequisites or by faculty permission. The credits earned by non-degree students typically will not apply towards program requirements if a student later becomes a degree seeking student.

Admission Requirements to Departmental Studies

A formal application for acceptance to Departmental Studies should be made during the semester in which the student will complete the 31 hours of core courses in Engineering Fundamentals. The application form, which indicates the student’s choice of specialization, is available from the Engineering Fundamentals advising office and should be returned to the office. Students are notified after semester grades are posted and qualifications are confirmed.

Acceptance into Departmental Studies is based upon requirements in effect when the student is admitted to Engineering Fundamentals. Current requirements are that a student must have a 2.0 grade point average (GPA) in the prescribed set of core courses. In addition, the student must be in good standing with the University, which requires an overall cumulative GPA of 2.0.

- Developing student satisfaction with academic advising.

Additional Unit Policies

College of Arts and Sciences

The Academic Advising Center of the College is the academic resource center for the student. The advising staff is a team of professional counselors who assist in planning programs of study, coordinating registration of courses, and providing guidance and referral services.

Academic advising assists students:

- in selecting appropriate required and elective courses
- in determining choice of major
- who are experiencing academic difficulties in their course work.

Students are expected to know the requirements for graduation through the information available in this catalog and through published addenda to this catalog.

Students who have been accepted to a major are expected to obtain advising from the faculty advisors in the department of the major. This opportunity to discuss the program with a faculty member is a very important part of the total college experience. Students should contact the department to determine the appropriate faculty advisor and the advisor's office hours.

The College also provides pre-professional advice for students interested in careers in the law and in health-related fields. The names of the appropriate pre-professional advisors may be obtained from the Advising Center.

Freshman students with fewer than 24 earned hours, first-semester transfer students, and students with 45 or more earned program hours who have not formally applied for and been accepted into a major program must be advised by a college advisor before registering for classes. (Visiting students and post-baccalaureate students are not subject to this requirement.) The student information system will not permit students for whom advising is required to register for courses until completion of the advising requirement has been entered into the system.

For further information about advising in the College and for appointments with staff of the Advising Center, call 852-5502 or 852-6487 or write to the College of Arts and Sciences Advising Center, Gardiner Hall, University of Louisville, Louisville, KY 40292. Information about the College may also be found at <http://www.louisville.edu/a-s>.

College of Business

The College of Business employs a staff of professional advisors who provide academic counseling to undergraduate and graduate students. The applicability of courses toward fulfillment of degree requirements will be determined by the academic advisors in the COB Reinhardt Academic Center.

The following students are required to meet with an advisor each semester:

- Freshmen with less than 24 earned degree applicable credit hours.
- New transfer students (internal and external)
- Students who have a break in enrollment of two or more consecutive years.

While other business students are not required to see an advisor each semester, they should contact the Reinhardt Academic Center whenever they have questions regarding degree programs, course offerings, campus resources, registration procedures, academic standing, graduation requirements or other academic issues. Economics majors are required to have faculty mentoring and program approval by the Department Chair. We recommend that business students schedule an appointment with their advisor periodically.

Equine majors must contact the advisor within that discipline. For further information about advising in the College and for appointments with academic advisors, call (502) 852-7439 or write to the College of Business, Room 024, University of Louisville, Louisville, KY 40292. All Dental Hygiene students are encouraged to meet with an advisor to seek support and referral information as needed.

Upper Division Advising

Academic advising is available through the Dental Hygiene Program. The program has an admissions/academic counselor as well as a designated faculty member and the program director who serve as the academic advisors for students when they are enrolled in the Upper Division Dental Hygiene Program. The admissions counselor and the academic advisors work closely together to insure that both applicants and enrolled students are apprised of the academic requirements of the Dental Hygiene Program.

The Office of Student Affairs in the School of Dentistry is available to assist students in planning their academic program and to provide students with information regarding policies, procedures, and general information. It is the student's responsibility to be knowledgeable of the policies and procedures, and to take the initiative in seeking help and advice. In addition, Dental Hygiene faculty members are available to counsel students on professional dental hygiene concerns.

College of Education and Human Development

All students entering degree and/or teacher certification programs must schedule an appointment to meet with an academic counselor in the Education Advising Center to have an official program sheet prepared. This includes both internal and external transfer students who have been admitted to the College of Education and Human Development as well as new freshmen.

Students seeking a bachelor's degree from the Department of Health and Sport Sciences are advised in the Education Advising Center until 60 hours have been earned. After the completion of 60 hours students are advised by department faculty.

Students in any Education undergraduate program who have earned less than 24 credit hours are required to be advised by their assigned advisor in the Education Advising Center before they will be able to pre-register for classes.

Students on academic probation must be advised in the Education Advising Center before they will be able to register for classes.

Kent School of Social Work

The BSW Coordinator of Academic Affairs will be your assigned professional staff advisor. The role of your advisor is to assist you in staying on track with academic progress. You must meet with your advisor to register for classes at minimum until completion of the first 90 hours of educational requirements. Students are encouraged to speak with full time faculty members to discuss professional questions about the Profession of Social Work.

School of Music

All School of Music students are advised by the academic counselor who assists with registration, monitors progress in courses required for their major, and reviews progress made toward completion of Upper Division course pre-requisites.

Advising is required for all music students until they have completed all prerequisites for Upper Division courses. (See the Upper Division statement in the School of Music Unit Section and in the music degrees outlined in the undergraduate catalog.) Students will be blocked from registration for classes until the advising requirement has been satisfied. Registration periods can be found online at: <http://louisville.edu/registrar/registration-information>.

School of Nursing

Students are encouraged to meet with an advisor prior to registration if they need assistance in course selection. Freshmen and transfer students with less than 28 hours are required to be advised prior to registration. All new students are required to be advised regardless of credit hours. Students on conditional, warning, or probationary status must also be advised prior to registering for courses. Students who are out of sequence in their upper division program of study must meet with their advisor to revise their program of study and apply for re-enrollment on a space available basis.

It is the student's responsibility to be knowledgeable of the policies and procedures, and to take the initiative in seeking help and advice. Students are encouraged to make an appointment with a member of the OSS staff whenever they have a question, a problem, or they do not know where else to go for assistance.

In addition, School of Nursing faculty members are available to counsel students on professional nursing concerns. Students are required to come to the Office of Student Services for the following:

- Advising and Referral to University Resources
- Complete Withdrawal from all courses or the School of Nursing
- Schedule Changes
- Leave of Absence Request
- Evaluation of Transfer Credits
- Repeat Options
- Determination of Status

Speed School of Engineering

The Academic Advising Center is the academic resource center for students in Engineering Fundamentals. The advising staff is a team of professional academic counselors who provide assistance in planning programs of study, coordinate registration of courses, and provide guidance and referral services. Students who have been admitted to Departmental Studies are expected to obtain advising from the faculty advisors in the department of their major. While your academic advisor will make every effort to guide you throughout your education, students are ultimately responsible for developing a familiarity of and adherence to University, college, and departmental policies and procedures.

Engineering Fundamentals Advising Requirements & Registration

All students in Engineering Fundamentals are required to meet with an academic advisor in the Academic Advising Center prior to registration. The academic advisor will set an advising code to clear the student for registration. Advising appointments for registration should be made at the Center, located in J.B. Speed Building, Room 213. Advising office hours are Monday through Friday from 8:30 to 4:30. For further information about academic advising in the School of Engineering, call 502-852-6100 or send an email to ssadvise@louisville.edu.

Departmental Studies Advising Requirements & Registration

After admission to Departmental Studies, the student is assigned a departmental advisor for the academic program of study. Students should contact their Department to determine the appropriate advisor and the advisor's office hours.

The general advising requirement for undergraduate Speed School students is that advising is required for all students who have earned fewer than 60 semester hours or have not been admitted to their department. All students are encouraged to meet with an academic advisor prior to registration. Engineering Fundamentals students report to JS 123, and students admitted to departments report to the departmental office for appointments, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The BioEngineering Department, Civil and Environmental Engineering Department, Computer Engineering and Computer Science, and the Electrical and Computer Engineering Department require all of their students to be advised. In these departments, it will be necessary for an academic advisor to set an advising code to clear the student registration.

Newly admitted students to the Chemical Engineering, Industrial Engineering and Mechanical Engineering departments are required to meet with an advisor for the semester they are admitted to the department. Students with more than 60 credit hours are not required to meet with an advisor in subsequent terms, but are strongly encouraged to do so. Students on academic warning or probation are required to see their advisor.

Academic Bankruptcy and Forgiveness

University Policy

Academic Bankruptcy and Forgiveness policies allow students who are returning to college after an absence of two or more years to request the adjustment of their records for one or more entire semesters of previous college work, provided certain criteria are met. Students considering this option are strongly encouraged to consult with their academic advisor for guidance.

If the student meets the following criteria and if the appropriate committee (located within the student's enrollment unit) finds there are extenuating circumstances that warrant such action, the committee may rule the student eligible to declare academic bankruptcy. To be eligible, the student:

- must not have attended any college or university during a period of two calendar years immediately preceding this readmission; and
- must state in writing the intention to declare bankruptcy, specifically designating the term or consecutive sequence of terms to which the bankruptcy process is to apply.

The student must attain at least a 2.5 quality point standing (3.0 quality point standing or higher in the College of Business and 2.8 Dental Hygiene and Nursing programs) in all degree applicable courses while attempting the first 12 hours after readmission. (All courses taken during the term in which the twelfth-hour minimum is attained will be considered in determining eligibility for bankruptcy.) After these 12 hours have been attempted, the student must petition the appropriate committee for academic bankruptcy, designating the term or consecutive sequence of terms to which the bankruptcy process is to apply.

The voided grades and credit hours will not be considered for degree requirements or quality-point computations, but will remain on the student's transcript. Academic actions, such as probation or dismissal, recorded at the end of the voided terms, will also remain.

No student may declare bankruptcy more than once. Bankrupt semesters will not apply toward enrollment semesters when determining catalog year. No course taken during a bankrupted semester can be used to satisfy a requirement.

Students are advised that while bankrupted course grades are removed from the calculation, the course work does remain a part of their permanent record and that the bankrupted work may be considered for financial aid purposes, NCAA purposes, and may be evaluated if applying for honors or graduate study. No person using these bankruptcy procedures shall be eligible to participate in any intercollegiate competition until the specified grades and courses have been declared void.

Additionally, students must be aware that academic bankruptcy is an internal policy. The University of Louisville cannot guarantee how the work will be viewed by another university should the student choose to transfer.

Additional Unit Policies

College of Arts and Sciences

Note that grades earned in semesters for which academic bankruptcy has been approved are counted in the student's expanded grade point average to determine eligibility for graduation with honors.

College of Education and Human Development

The College of Education and Human Development also offers academic forgiveness. Academic forgiveness allows currently enrolled students to void one semester of University of Louisville coursework. No student may petition for both academic forgiveness and academic bankruptcy.

If the student meets the following criteria and if the College of Education and Human Development Standards and Admissions Committee believe there are extenuating circumstances that warrant such action, the committee may rule the student eligible to declare academic forgiveness. To be eligible to apply for academic forgiveness the student:

- must be currently enrolled in the College of Education and Human Development; and
- must submit a petition to the College of Education and Human Development Standards and Admissions Committee requesting academic forgiveness, specifically designating the term to which academic forgiveness is to apply.

The voided grades and credit hours will not be considered for degree requirements or quality-point computations but will remain on the student's transcript. Academic actions such as probation or dismissal, recorded at the end of the voided terms, will also remain.

No student may declare academic forgiveness more than once. Forgiven semesters will not apply toward enrollment semesters when determining catalog years.

Kent School of Social Work

The Kent School of Social Work BSW program also offers academic forgiveness. Academic forgiveness allows currently enrolled students to void one semester of University of Louisville coursework.

If the student meets the following criteria and if the Kent School BSW Admissions and Standards Committee believe there are extenuating circumstances which warrant such action, the committee may rule the student eligible to declare academic forgiveness. To be eligible to apply for academic forgiveness, the student:

- Must be currently enrolled in the Kent School BSW Program; AND
- Must submit a petition to the Kent School BSW Admissions and Standards Committee requesting academic forgiveness, specifically designating the term to which academic forgiveness is to apply.

The voided grades and credit hours will not be considered for degree requirements or quality-point computations but will remain on the student's transcript. Academic actions such as probation or dismissal, recorded at the end of the voided terms, will also remain. No student may declare academic forgiveness more than once. No student may petition for both academic forgiveness and academic bankruptcy. Forgiven semesters will not apply toward enrollment semesters when determining catalogue years.

Academic Grievance Procedure

Section 1: Introduction

This procedure is designed to provide fair means of dealing with student complaints regarding a specific action or decision made by the faculty or a faculty member. “Students who believe they have been treated unfairly, discriminated against, or have had their rights abridged may initiate a grievance” (The Redbook, Section 6.8.1).

The Unit Academic Grievance Committee has the power to hear all grievances involving academic matters other than substantive grade appeals. “Academic matters are defined as those concerning instructional activities, research activities, activities closely related to either of these functions, or decisions involving instruction or affecting academic freedom” (The Redbook, Section 6.8.3). The Unit Academic Grievance Committee may review allegations that a course grade has resulted from an unfair procedure. However, the committee should not substitute its judgment on their merits as an evaluation of academic performance. Where the dean concurs that procedural irregularities have occurred, the dean shall consult with an appropriate faculty committee as to the grade to be recorded on the student’s official transcript. To assist the student, a Student Grievance Officer is provided, who is responsible for “informing students of their rights and obligations under the grievance procedure and especially the deadlines that have been established. The Student Grievance Officer shall seek to resolve informally as many grievances as possible” (The Redbook, Section 6.8.2).

Students are encouraged to seek the assistance of the Student Grievance Officer at any stage of the grievance process. Each unit shall establish an Academic Grievance Committee to carry out the procedures described below.

Section 2: Preliminary Steps

To pursue a grievance concerning academic matters within the academic unit, the following steps of the grievance procedure should be observed:

1. The student should first discuss the matter with the person involved and attempt to resolve the grievance through informal discussion.
2. If there is no resolution, the student should discuss the matter with that person’s supervisor or the person to whom such person reports, who should attempt to mediate a resolution.
3. If the student has not been able to obtain a resolution, he or she may request the Student Grievance Officer (S.G.O.) to attempt informal mediation of the problem.
4. If the matter has not been satisfactorily resolved through the informal process, the student shall submit a written statement of the grievance to the Unit Academic Grievance Committee through the Office of the Dean. The statement shall contain:
 - a. A brief narrative of the condition giving rise to the grievance;
 - b. designation of the parties involved; and
 - c. statement of the remedy requested.

Section 3: Committee Action

Upon receipt of the written statement, the Unit Academic Grievance Committee, or its representatives, shall:

1. Contact the student and the Student Grievance Officer to obtain assurance that all steps of the above informal process were completed and that those issues in the statement were discussed at all levels.
2. Notify the parties named in the statement of the grievance naming them; and send a copy of the statement to the named parties and to all committee members.

3. Notify the grievant and the respondent of the right to challenge committee members for cause, and request early notification of challengers to expedite the grievance procedure. Included in this notification will be a list of the names of all current, regular committee members.

4. Meet within twenty working days after receiving the written statement of any grievance and recommend to the dean of the unit whether sufficient grounds exist to accept a case for hearing. The committee shall hear the case when the dean concurs. The committee shall notify, in writing, all persons directly involved as to the reasons for its recommendation.

5. The action of the grievance committee as to whether to grant a hearing when accepted by the dean of the unit shall be final and binding on all parties except when subject to the condition of appeal.

6. If a hearing will be held, notify in writing all the parties involved, including any witnesses, of the date, time and place of the hearing at least ten days prior to the hearing date (which shall be within 30 working days of receipt of the written grievance).

7. Request in writing from all parties involved any pertinent material deemed necessary for review by the committee prior to the hearing. These materials, and any additional materials either party chooses to submit, must be submitted to the committee not later than four days prior to the hearing. Any person named in a grievance may submit a written statement to the committee outlining issues from that person's perspective.

8. Maintain confidentiality throughout the entire grievance process. All communications among the committee, the grievant(s), and the person(s) named in the statement of grievance will be confidential.

Section 4: Hearing Process

All hearings conducted by the Unit Academic

Grievance Committee shall be conducted confidentially in the following manner:

1. The grievant(s) and the respondent(s) must be present during the information gathering portion of the hearing. Witnesses will be available and will be called when needed. The committee reserves the right to allow the presence of a secretary or a technical assistant.

2. All statements during the information-exchange phase of the hearing will be recorded. This record will be preserved in the University Archives for a minimum of five years and shall be confidential.

3. Any committee member may question any of the participants at the hearing.

4. The grievant will present his or her statements and/or witnesses to the committee.

5. The respondent will have the opportunity to question the grievant(s) and the witnesses about their statements.

6. The respondent will present his or her statements and/or witnesses to the committee.

7. The grievant will have the opportunity to question the respondent(s) about their statements.

8. After all information is exchanged, all persons except the committee members and the recording secretary will leave the committee room. The grievant(s), the respondent(s), and the witnesses will continue to be available to the committee should further information be needed.

9. The committee will meet in closed session to decide upon its recommendation(s) to the dean.

10. The committee shall submit its report with recommendation(s) and reasons for the recommendation(s), to the grievant(s), the respondent(s), and the dean. If the grievance directly involves the dean the report and recommendation(s) of the Unit Academic Grievance Committee shall be referred for decision to the University Provost.

11. The student's grievance will not be included as part of the student's record, unless it results in a change in student status or the student voluntarily inserts the information.

12. Until the grievance is resolved, the student may continue the natural academic progression through the academic unit subject to the requirements of Article 6.6, "Academic Review, Advancement, Probation, and Dismissal of Students," and Article 6.7, "Nonacademic Disciplinary Procedures," of The Redbook.

Section 5: Decision

The dean shall approve or reject the committee's recommendation(s) within 28 days after receiving it (them). If decision of the dean is not in accord with the committee's recommendation(s), the dean shall state the reasons for that decision, in writing, to all persons directly involved in the grievance and to the committee. The dean shall then take appropriate action to implement his or her decision after the time for appeal has elapsed.

Section 6: Rehearing

A grievance committee, within 21 days after delivery of its report, may be petitioned to reconsider its decision upon the basis of evidence of misrepresentation of materials, facts, or upon the basis of newly discovered evidence clearly not available at the original hearing.

Section 7: Appeal

Any party to the grievance may appeal to the University Student Grievance Committee within 21 days from the date of the final decision of the dean if the dean's decision does not concur with the recommendation of the grievance committee.

Student Grievance Officer

The Student Grievance Officer is a tenured faculty member who is responsible for informing students of their rights and obligations under the University Student Grievance procedure. The Grievance Officer will assist the student in efforts to achieve informal resolution in as many academic or non-academic complaints as possible.

This service is available to all students. E-mail Professor Brenda Hart at brenda@louisville.edu.

Academic Standing

University Policy

Policies regarding academic standing are determined by each academic unit. Please refer to unit information below.

Unit Policies

College of Arts and Sciences

Definition of Satisfactory Standing: To make satisfactory progress, students must maintain a cumulative average of at least 2.0. To graduate, students must attain a 2.0 grade point average in the major department and a 2.0 grade point average overall, unless a higher average is required for the specific degree sought. All point-standing calculations are made on cumulative, end-of-term grades.

Warning, Probation, Suspension, and Readmission

Students are in Satisfactory standing when they have a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.0. Visiting students enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences are subject to the same standards for retention as matriculated students.

Students who, after the first 12 degree-applicable hours at the University of Louisville, have a grade point average below 2.0 will be placed on Academic Warning. Students on Academic Warning are limited to enrollment for 13 credit hours in a fall or spring semester and 10 credit hours for the summer terms.

In any subsequent semester, a student whose grade point average falls below 2.0 will be placed on Academic Probation for the next semester of enrollment. The enrollment of students on probation is limited to a maximum of 13 semester hours in a fall or spring semester and 10 credit hours for the summer terms. Students on probation may also be subject to specified course registration requirements, or other actions deemed appropriate by the College.

The record of a student on Academic Probation will be evaluated at the end of the probationary semester, with one of the following outcomes:

- Students whose cumulative grade point average is 2.0 or above will be restored to 'Satisfactory' standing.
- Students whose grade point average for the probationary semester is 2.0 or above, but whose cumulative grade point average remains below

2.0 will be retained on Probation.

- Students whose cumulative grade point average is still below 2.0 and who earned a semester grade point average below 2.0 will be placed on Academic Suspension and will be required to sit out at least one semester. Students suspended after a fall semester must sit out the following spring semester; students suspended after a spring semester must sit out the following summer and fall semesters; and students suspended after a summer semester must sit out the following fall semester. Students must sit out at least one calendar year after any subsequent suspension.

Readmission of suspended students is not guaranteed. In order to be considered for readmission, a student must submit a written petition to the Committee on Admissions and Appeals and an "Application for Undergraduate Admission" to the Office of Admissions. The petition must be received by that office no later than July 1 for readmission for the fall semester, November 1 for readmission for the spring semester, and May 1 for readmission for the summer terms. The petition should address the student's perception of the causes of poor performance, the steps the student has taken to address those causes, and a plan of action to return to satisfactory academic standing. Students who are granted readmission will be readmitted on Probation.

Students readmitted to the College of Arts and Sciences following a period of academic suspension may apply toward an Arts and Sciences degree hours successfully completed at an accredited institution during the period of suspension.

University policy permits students who are suspended or dismissed by an academic unit to apply for admission to another degree-granting unit whose minimum admission standards they meet. However, students are cautioned that if admitted to another unit, they may not enroll in any courses in the unit from which they were suspended or dismissed.

A student will not be readmitted more than twice. A third suspension constitutes an Academic Dismissal from the College.

Students have the responsibility to know their current academic status. The College routinely notifies students when their status changes, but such notification may not be possible before the beginning of the next semester. Any student enrolled for courses during a semester of suspension/dismissal will be required to dis-enroll.

College of Business

Definition of Good Standing: To make satisfactory progress students must maintain a University grade point average - GPA of 3.0 or higher. To graduate, students must attain a 3.0 University GPA and a 3.0 average in all major courses (includes major courses that are transferred). Students are in good standing when they have a minimum University GPA of 3.0.

Warning, Probation, Suspension, Dismissal, and Readmission

Students who, after their first semester at the University of Louisville, have a University GPA below 3.0 will be placed on Academic Warning. (Those admitted in conditional status are to be considered on Academic Warning.) Students on Academic Warning are limited to enrollment for 13 credit hours in a fall or spring semester and no more than one course per summer term. Summer terms count fully toward academic standing.

In any subsequent semester, students whose university GPA falls below 3.0 will be placed on Academic Probation for the next semester of enrollment. Students on Probation are limited to enrollment for 13 credit hours in a fall or spring semester and no more than one course per summer term. Summer terms count fully toward academic standing.

Students on probation may also be subject to specified course registration requirements, or other actions deemed appropriate by the COB. The records of students on Academic Probation will be evaluated at the end of the probationary semester with one of the following outcomes:

1. Students whose University GPA is 3.0 or above will be restored to good standing.
2. Students whose GPA for the probationary semester is 3.2 or above, but whose University GPA remains below 3.0 will be retained on Probation.
3. Students whose University GPA is still below 3.0 and who earned a semester grade point average below 3.2 will be placed on Academic Suspension and will be expelled from the COB. Suspended students are withdrawn from all enrolled courses.

Students will be suspended for at least one semester (summer terms do not count as a suspended semester).

4. Students suspended by the COB may apply for admission to another U of L academic unit whose minimum admission standards they meet. Courses completed in another unit will be recognized by the COB as work completed toward degree plan requirements for students readmitted into the COB.
5. Readmission of suspended students into the COB is not guaranteed. For readmission students must submit a written petition, an academic plan form and an Application for Undergraduate Admission to the Office of Admissions. The petition must address the student's perception of the causes of poor performance, the steps the student has taken to correct those causes, and a plan of action to return to satisfactory academic standing. Petition deadlines for readmission are July 1 for Fall semester, November 1 for Spring semester and May 1 for Summer semester.
6. Students must have at minimum a University GPA of 2.5 to petition for readmission or a deferred suspension. Students out of school for two or more years may be eligible for academic bankruptcy or the Fresh Start program.
7. Students will not be readmitted more than twice. A third suspension constitutes an Academic Dismissal from the University.
8. Students have the responsibility to know their current academic status. The College routinely notifies students when their status changes, but such notification may not be possible before the beginning of the next semester. For example, a student taking courses in the late summer term who fails to meet academic standards may be suspended after the start of the fall semester.

Dental Hygiene Program

Lower Division Academic Achievement Guidelines

The University of Louisville calculates a University Grade Point Average which becomes the standard measure of performance and the official university calculation upon which academic decisions are made. The University Grade Point Average is determined at the undergraduate level, based upon all undergraduate course work taken at the University of Louisville. Courses numbered below the 100-level (000-099) taken in the 1998 Fall semester or after will not be used in the earned hours or University Grade Point Average calculation.

Warning-Probation-Suspension

The University of Louisville communicates its expectations for undergraduate academic achievement through the Undergraduate Academic Standards Policy. Academic standards are determined by the faculties of the enrollment/degree-granting units. Applicable standards for continuation in a particular enrollment unit can be based upon grade point average, course specific achievement, and in some programs a professional/behavioral component.

Academic Standards Lower Division Progression

Good standing in the Dental Hygiene program is a minimum University cumulative GPA of 2.8*.

Students who, after the first semester at U of L, have a cumulative University grade point average below 2.8* will be placed on Academic Warning. They will be notified that their achievement is below expectations and are subject to course and/or credit hour limitations, specified course registration requirements, or other intrusive advising interventions as deemed appropriate by the Dental Hygiene program.

In any semester subsequent to being placed on Academic Warning, a student whose cumulative University grade point average is below 2.8* will be placed on Academic Probation for the next semester (including Summer) in which the student enrolls. Students on Academic Probation are notified that their achievement is below expectations and are subject to course and/or credit hour limitations, specified course registration requirements, or other intrusive advising interventions as deemed appropriate by the Dental Hygiene program.

- Students whose cumulative University grade point average is above 2.8* will be restored to good standing.
- Students whose cumulative University grade point average is still below 2.8* but who earned a semester grade point average at or above 2.8 will be maintained on probation.
- Students whose cumulative University grade point average is still below 2.8* and who earned a semester grade point average below 2.8 will be placed on Academic Suspension and will be required to sit out at least one semester (summer terms excluded).

- Students who are suspended or dismissed by the Dental Hygiene program are eligible to apply for admission to another unit and may be admitted if they meet minimum admission standards of that unit. Students who apply for admission to another unit may not enroll in any courses in the Dental Hygiene program.

Readmission of suspended students is not guaranteed. In order to be considered for readmission, a student must submit an “Admissions Petition” and an “Application for Undergraduate Admission” to the Office of Admissions. The petition must be received by the Dental Hygiene program Office of Student Affairs after being processed in accordance with University deadlines for submitting Admission Petitions (July 1 for Fall and November 1 for Spring terms). The petition should address the student’s perception of the causes of poor performance; the steps the student has taken to address those causes; and a plan of action to return to good standing. Students who are granted reinstatement will be readmitted on probation.

No student will be reinstated more than twice; the third suspension is an Academic Dismissal.

*Applies to students admitted in Fall 2008 or later.

Academic Warning Policy

Students whose cumulative grade point average (based on the completion of a minimum of twelve (12) degree-applicable credits at the University of Louisville) falls below 2.25 will be placed on Academic Warning for one semester.

Students on Academic Warning will be placed on Academic Probation if the cumulative grade point average (based on degree applicable credits) remains below 2.25 after the academic warning semester.

Students on Academic Warning will be placed in good standing status if the cumulative grade point average (based on degree applicable credits) is 2.25 or above after the academic warning semester.

Academic Probation Policy

Students on Academic Warning will be placed on Academic Probation if the cumulative grade point average (based on degree applicable credits) remains below 2.25 after the academic warning semester.

Students on Academic Probation who achieve a cumulative grade point average (based on degree applicable credits) of 2.25 or above will be placed in good standing status.

Students on Academic Probation may enroll in no more than 14 semester hours in a semester (9 hours during the summer).

Students on Academic Probation must earn a 2.50 grade point average (based on degree applicable credits) in the academic probation semester to continue on Academic Probation.

Students on Academic Probation whose cumulative grade point average is below 2.25 (based on degree applicable credits) and who earn a semester grade point average below 2.50 will be placed on Academic Suspension and will be required to sit out at least one semester (summer terms excluded).

Academic Suspension Policy

Students on Academic Probation whose cumulative grade point average (based on degree applicable credits) is below 2.25 and who earn a semester grade point average below 2.50 (based on degree applicable credits) will be placed on Academic Suspension and will be required to sit out at least one semester (summer terms excluded.)

Readmission of suspended students is not guaranteed. Students must submit an undergraduate application to the Office of Admissions, along with a petition explaining the reasons for poor performance and actions that will be taken to improve performance if readmitted. Students should contact the Admissions Office regarding semester deadlines to petition for admission. Conditions of readmission will be up to the discretion of the College of Education Standards and Admissions Committee. No student will be reinstated more than twice; the third suspension is an Academic Dismissal.

U of L students who are suspended by one unit are eligible to apply for admission to another unit and may be admitted if they meet minimum admission standards of that unit. Students who apply for admission to another unit may not take any courses in the unit from which they were suspended, and the courses taken during suspension semester may not be used if students are readmitted to the College of Education and Human Development.

Dismissal Policy

Students who are suspended the third time from the College of Education and Human Development are academically dismissed. A student who has been dismissed from the College of Education and Human Development must remain out of school for one full year, and should use that time for reorientation to further study in college or other career decisions. If a student thus dismissed is admitted to any other college or university, the credits earned while in attendance during the semester that the student should be out of school will not apply toward a degree granted by the College of Education and Human Development.

The College of Education and Human Development will honor the dismissal policy of all units of the University of Louisville.

Kent School of Social Work

A cumulative GPA of 2.5 or above is required to remain in Good Standing. If a student's cumulative GPA falls below 2.5, then the student will be given a warning and will be required to meet with the BSW Coordinator of Academic Affairs for planning and oversight. If in the following semester the student's cumulative GPA remains less than a 2.5, the student will be placed on probation and an academic review will be required. A cumulative GPA of 2.5 or above in the following semester will be required to return to Good Standing. Students will be placed on suspension following probation if cumulative GPA remains below 2.5 for three consecutive semesters. Students must sit out at least one semester excluding summer when suspended. Student may apply to another unit. No student will be reinstated more than once with Kent School and no more than twice with U of L. A third suspension is an academic dismissal from UofL. A written petition is required for readmission, which is not guaranteed.

The Academic and Professional Standards Review Committee for the BSW program will consist of three BSW faculty members including the chair. This committee is intended to serve in a problem-solving capacity and is not devised to be adversarial. The function of such a committee will be to: (1) Review identified academic problems, including those from the field practicum, that cannot be resolved through informal channels with the parties involved; (2) Review concerns with student conduct that is contrary to the guidelines for professional conduct for social workers as specified in the Code of Ethics of the National Association of Social Workers; and (3) Recommend to the Dean's office a course of action that arrives from Committee deliberations with the student.

The BSW Coordinator of Academic Affairs will notify students via formal letters at the end of each semester if academic reviews are needed, based on their GPA. Students are then required to contact the BSW Director, so that a formal review committee can be formed. Apart from reviews based on GPA, any faculty person may recommend a review for any students who are perceived to be in academic difficulty or who appear to have engaged in inappropriate conduct in violation of the NASW Code of Ethics, or the Code of Students Rights and Responsibilities. Written referrals for review are sent to the Director of the BSW program, who forwards the request to the BSW Coordinator of Academic Affairs. The referral should indicate specific concerns.

Academic Reviews are chaired by one of the full time BSW faculty members or the Director according to a rotational schedule. The referral letter will include an invitation for the student to select two faculty members (full time or part time, but not professional staff members) to serve on the Academic Review Committee. The Chair of the Academic Review will determine the appropriate group composition/tasks (after the student has a chance to have a voice as to the review committee) and organize accordingly. The Chair will convene the committee, if possible, within 2 weeks after receiving the request for review. In establishing the time for the meeting, the Chair should indicate the nature of the specific concerns to the student. Present at the meeting should be the student and the committee. Faculty and other parties who may have pertinent information to share regarding the specific concern may be invited by the Chair to present that information. In cases where the field practicum is involved, the practicum supervisor may be invited to present information. These parties external to the deliberation will be present only to present and discuss their relevant information. After a discussion about the expressed concerns, the committee will continue to meet with the student to formulate possible remedies, if needed. Once the remedies are identified, the Committee will excuse the student and meet in closed session to formulate a recommendation to the Dean. The Chair will write a report of findings with a recommendation to the BSW Director and Dean's office within one week of the review. The Office of the Dean will notify the student and the faculty making the referral of any resulting decisions within one week of the committee recommendation. The School may choose to modify this process if the seriousness of the concern so indicates (e.g., the incarceration of a student for a serious crime) or with the approval of the student (e.g., use of part-time faculty to expedite the review in absence of Full-Time faculty).

If a student earns an F in a non-social work course or is on academic warning, the student is required to attend a series of two meetings with the student advisor, BSW Coordinator of Academic Affairs, (one before mid-term to talk about strategies; one after mid-term; will use intrusive advising and AIM approach). These meetings will not constitute academic reviews and will be documented using existing procedures for documentation of undergraduate advising sessions.

School of Music

Good standing is defined as a cumulative grade point average not less than the minimum GPA set by the degree-granting unit. School of Music students are in good standing when they have a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.5.

U of L undergraduate students who, after the first 12 degree-applicable semester hours taken at U of L, have a grade point average below 2.5 will be placed on Academic Warning. They will be notified that their achievement is below expectations and strongly encouraged to seek assistance, but no limitation will be placed on their registration for the next term.

In any semester subsequent to that described above, an undergraduate student whose cumulative grade point average falls below 2.5 will be placed on Academic Probation for the next semester in which the student enrolls. Undergraduate students on Academic Probation are notified that their achievement is below expectations and are subject to course and/or credit hour limitations, specified course registration requirements, or other intrusive advising interventions as deemed appropriate by their enrollment unit.

Undergraduate students on Academic Probation will have their records evaluated at the end of the probationary semester with one of the following outcomes:

- a student will be restored to good standing in the degree granting unit.
- a student whose cumulative grade point average is still below 2.5 but who earned a semester grade point average at or above 2.5 will be maintained on probation.
- a student whose cumulative grade point average is below 2.5, and who earned a semester grade point average below 2.5, may petition for continuation on probation. The petition describing the student's plan of action to return to good standing must be submitted to the appropriate individual or committee in the student's enrollment unit.
- a student whose cumulative grade point average is still below 2.5 and who earned a semester grade point average below 2.5 will be placed on Academic Suspension and will be required to sit out at least one semester (summer terms excluded).

UofL students who are suspended or dismissed by one unit are eligible to apply for admission to another unit and may be admitted if they meet minimum admission standards of that unit. Students who apply for admission to another unit may not enroll in any courses in the unit from which they were dismissed.

Readmission of suspended students is not guaranteed. In order to be considered for readmission, a student must submit a written petition to the appropriate individual or committee in the enrollment unit and an "Application for Undergraduate Admission form to the Office of Admissions. The petition must be received by the enrollment unit at least one month prior to the first day of classes for the semester in which the student seeks readmission. The petition should address the student's perception of the causes of poor performance; the steps the student has taken to address those causes; and a plan of action to return to good standing. Students who are granted reinstatement will be readmitted on probation.

No student will be reinstated more than twice; the third suspension is an Academic Dismissal. A student academically dismissed can only return through special permission from the enrollment unit.

School of Nursing

Lower Division Progression

Good standing in the School of Nursing is a minimum University cumulative GPA of 2.8 for the Traditional and Accelerated 2nd Degree programs. Students who, after the first semester at U of L, have a cumulative University grade point average below 2.8 will be placed on Academic Warning. They will be notified that their achievement is below expectations and strongly encouraged to seek assistance, but no additional limitation will be placed on their registration for the next term.

In any semester subsequent to being placed on Academic Warning, a student whose cumulative University grade point average is below 2.8 will be placed on Academic Probation for the next semester (including Summer) in which the student enrolls. Students on Academic Probation are notified that their achievement is below expectations and are subject to course and/or credit hour limitations, specified course registration requirements, or other intrusive advising interventions as deemed appropriate by the School of Nursing.

- Students whose cumulative University grade point average is above 2.8 will be restored to good standing.
- Students whose cumulative University grade point average is still below 2.8 but who earned a semester grade point average at or above 2.8 will be maintained on probation.
- Students whose cumulative University grade point average is still below 2.8 and who earned a semester grade point average below 2.8 will be placed on Academic Suspension and will be required to sit out at least one semester (summer terms excluded).
- Students who are suspended or dismissed by the School of Nursing are eligible to apply for admission to another unit and may be admitted if they meet minimum admission standards of that unit. Students who apply for admission to another unit may not enroll in any courses in the School of Nursing.

Readmission of suspended students is not guaranteed. In order to be considered for readmission, a student must submit an "Admissions Petition" and an "Application for Undergraduate Admission" to the Office of Admissions. The petition must be received by the School of Nursing Office of Student Services after being processed in accordance with University deadlines for submitting Admission Petitions. The petition should address the student's perception of the causes of poor performance; the steps the student has taken to address those causes; and a plan of action to return to good standing. Students who are granted reinstatement will be readmitted on probation.

No student will be reinstated more than twice; the third suspension is an Academic Dismissal.

Upper Division Progression

Students admitted to the Upper Division of Nursing must earn a "C" or above in all nursing courses. Good standing in the Upper Division for the Traditional and Accelerated 2nd degree programs is a minimum cumulative university GPA of 2.5. RN-BSN students must maintain a minimum cumulative university GPA of 2.0. Students admitted to the Upper Division are allowed to repeat a nursing course only one time. Students who earn a grade below "C" in two nursing courses numbered 300 or above, or a second attempt at a nursing course will be dismissed from the program. This includes the required pharmacology and pathophysiology courses taken in lower division. A student who wishes to repeat a nursing course should submit a Permit to Repeat Course form to the Office of Student Services, School of Nursing for approval. Once permission is granted, the student will be allowed to repeat the course on a space available basis.

Pathophysiology and Pharmacology

Students in the Traditional BSN Program and Accelerated 2nd Degree program must satisfactorily complete NURS 338 Pathophysiology and NURS 395 Pharmacology in order to progress to the upper division clinical cohort. If students do not satisfactorily complete both NURS 338 and NURS 395 they must retake the course they failed to be eligible to reapply to upper division to compete for an upper division clinical space. Failure of both courses results in dismissal from the program.

Suspension: If suspended from the program, students must meet with their advisor to revise their program of study, determine remediation, request re-enrollment on a space available basis, and plan to submit an Admissions Petition and official U of L Undergraduate application to the Office of Admissions in accordance with University guidelines. Re-admission is not guaranteed.

Program Dismissal: If dismissed from the program, the student has the right to file a petition to be allowed to remain in the program. If the petition to be allowed to remain in the program is denied, dismissal from the program is permanent. For petition deadlines please call the Office of Student Services at 852-1196.

Speed School of Engineering

Students have the responsibility to know their current status. The School routinely notifies students when their status changes, but such notification may not be possible before the beginning of the semester. Notifications of academic actions are officially made through the student's university email account.

Decisions involving academic warning, probation, suspension, dismissal, honors and eligibility for graduation are defined by each academic unit. These decisions are based on the university grade point average (GPA), which is determined by dividing the total number of quality points earned by the total number of semester hours attempted. The number of hours attempted is computed by adding the hours for all courses in which the student has earned grades. The overall point standing takes into account all work taken at the University, excluding courses numbered below the 100 level. Grades and quality points earned at other institutions are not incorporated into the university grade point average.

Good Standing

Undergraduate students are in good standing and are making satisfactory progress when they have a cumulative GPA of at least 2.0.

Academic Warning

Undergraduate students who, after the first 12 degree-applicable semester hours at the university, have a GPA below 2.0 will be placed on Academic Warning. They will be notified that their achievement is below expectations and strongly encouraged to seek assistance. Students on Academic Warning are limited to enrollment for 13 credit hours (7 credit hours during the Speed School summer term). A student placed on Academic Warning will have the following semester to raise the cumulative GPA to at least 2.0. If that does not occur, the student will then be placed on Academic Probation.

Academic Probation

In any semester subsequent to that described in Academic Warning above, an undergraduate student who has less than a 2.0 GPA will be placed on Academic Probation for the next semester in which the student enrolls. Students on Academic Probation are notified that their achievement is below expectations and are subject to course and/or credit hour limitations. During a semester on Academic Probation, no student may enroll in more than 13 credit hours (7 credit hours during the Speed School summer term). Students on Academic Probation will have their records evaluated at the end of the probationary semester with one of the following outcomes:

- Student whose cumulative and semester GPA are both at or above 2.0 will be restored to good standing in the Speed School.
- Student whose cumulative GPA is still below 2.0 but who earned a semester GPA of at least 2.5 will be maintained on probation.
- Student whose cumulative GPA is still below 2.0, and who earned a semester GPA at or above 2.0 but below 2.5, may petition for continuation on probation. The petition describing the student's plan of action to return to good standing must be submitted to the school's Standards and Admissions Committee. Students who do not submit a petition will be placed on Academic Suspension.
- Student whose cumulative and semester GPA are both below 2.0 will be placed on Academic Suspension and will be required to sit out at least one semester.

Academic probation will be considered a serious warning that the student is making unsatisfactory progress toward completion of the academic requirements for a particular degree program. Students on academic probation are ineligible to hold office in any campus organization or to represent the school or the University in any official capacity, except by special approval of the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. Students who are on academic probation are not eligible for co-op assignments.

Limited Load

Although a student may be admitted to Departmental Studies and continue to maintain minimal academic standards, it is possible for individual performance levels to fall beneath the projected progress necessary for future admission to Graduate Studies. A student enrolled in Departmental Studies who at the end of the semester or term has a cumulative GPA below 2.25 will be placed on Limited Load. While on Limited Load, no student may enroll in more than 13 credit hours (7 credit hours during the Speed School of Engineering summer term). A student will be continued on limited load until the cumulative GPA is raised to 2.25

Academic Suspension

Students suspended for unsatisfactory academic performance will not be permitted to enroll for academic course work for at least one semester. During this period, individuals should seriously reexamine their previous accomplishments in terms of their chosen career objectives. After one semester, a student who believes that a reasonable opportunity for future successful performance exists may petition the school's Standards and Admissions Committee for re-admittance to the Speed School of Engineering.

Readmission of suspended students is not guaranteed. The petitioner must submit an Application of Undergraduate Admission form to the University's Office of Admissions in addition to the written petition. The petition for readmission of a student suspended for unsatisfactory academic performance must be received by the enrollment unit at least one month prior to the first day of classes for the semester in which the student seeks readmission. The petition should address the student's perception of the causes of poor performance; the steps the student has taken to address those causes; and a plan of action to return to good standing. Students who are granted reinstatement will be readmitted on academic probation.

Academic Dismissal

No student will be reinstated more than twice; the third suspension is an academic dismissal. A student academically dismissed can only return through special permission from the enrollment unit. Students who are suspended or dismissed from the Speed School of Engineering are eligible to apply for admission to another U of L unit and may be admitted if they meet minimum admission standards of that unit. Students who apply for admission to another unit may not enroll in any courses in the unit from which they were dismissed.

Academic Performance in Speed Graduate Studies

The minimum grade point average requirement and other performance criteria for maintenance of good standing and progress toward degree in the J.B. Speed School of Engineering and the individual academic programs are found in the university catalog, which is available online at <http://louisville.edu/undergraduatedcatalog>.

Any student who does not satisfy the published performance criteria shall be placed in probationary status. Any student who remains in probationary status for two consecutive terms may be considered for dismissal from the program.

Students receiving graduate assistantships (teaching, research or service) shall be provided adequate training and shall be required to understand and adhere to University policies related to these areas. The performance of teaching, research and service duties by such students shall be periodically evaluated. Students with teaching assistantships shall be evaluated annually.

Students who fail to meet performance goals or who do not meet other requirements as outlined in the admission letter, program requirements or the University catalog may be subject to academic dismissal from their programs.

Catalog Year

University Policy

The catalog years for this catalog are Summer 2011 through Spring 2012. The requirements, rules and policies therein are generally applicable to students who enroll at the University beginning with the Summer 2011 semester through the Spring 2012 term. The University reserves the right to change programs of study, academic policies, academic requirements, fees, schedules of courses, or the announced academic calendar without prior notice. Students with continuous enrollment who transfer within the University will be expected to meet the general education requirements in effect the year they were admitted to the University. Students are responsible for knowing the catalog year policy for general education and the degree programs of the academic unit in which they intend to earn a degree.

Classification of Students

University Policy

Undergraduate students are admitted to an undergraduate enrollment unit and classified as follows:

- Full-time students: those who are registered for 12 or more semester hours in a regular school session.
- Part-time students: those who are registered for fewer than 12 semester hours in a regular school session.
- Regular students: those who have satisfied the admissions requirements for the academic unit in which they are enrolled.
- Special students: those who do not satisfy the admissions requirements for the academic unit in which they are enrolled, but who are admitted by special consent.
- Visiting students: those regularly enrolled in other institutions who desire to register in one of the academic units of the University for one semester. Visiting students must be in good standing in their regular college or university.
- Freshmen: students who have fewer than 30 semester hours credit.
- Sophomores: students who have 30 or more, but fewer than 60 semester hours of credit.
- Juniors: students who have 60 or more, but fewer than 90 semester hours credit.
- Seniors: students who have 90 or more semester hours credit but have not received baccalaureate degrees.
- Post-baccalaureate: students holding baccalaureate degrees and taking further undergraduate work.
- Auditors: students enrolled in a class or classes on a noncredit basis.

Class Attendance

University Policy

Policy regarding class attendance are established by each academic unit and are discussed below.

College of Arts and Sciences

The College assumes that all students will accept responsibility for attending all classes. Attendance is an obvious factor in knowing what material was covered and what assignments were made during the class period. It is the student's responsibility to find out what work was missed. Absence from class in no way relieves the student of responsibility for any of the course work.

Instructors are not required or expected to investigate prolonged absences. Students who stop attending class without officially dropping before the advertised deadline will remain on the class roster, and instructors will assign these students the grade "F".

Instructors who choose to do so may include attendance in determining a student's grade. Instructors who use attendance as a factor must indicate on their syllabus what their policy is and how attendance will affect the student's grade.

College of Business

Regular class attendance is expected of all students. Participation and interaction with others is a critical component of an overall quality learning experience. Attendance and participation, if so indicated in a course syllabus, may be used to partially determine the course grade along with other grade components such as examinations, homework assignments, presentations, etc.

Dental Hygiene Program

Lower and Upper Division: Class attendance policies are determined by the individual instructors.

Instructors must announce policies relevant to attendance and, if announced, may use attendance and/or participation in discussion, field work, and laboratory work in determining grades.

Upper Division Only: When the absence of students interferes with their work in a course, instructors may recommend to the Program Director that the students be dropped from the classes. If this recommendation is approved under the provision of a performance evaluation hearing, students will be withdrawn and assigned the grade of "W". Instructors are not required or expected to investigate prolonged absences. Students who intend to drop a class, but who stop attending without processing a Change of Schedule Form will remain on the class roster and instructors will assign these students the grade of "F".

College of Education and Human Development

The college has no specific requirements concerning class attendance, although individual instructors may announce their individual policies. The absence of a student from a class session in no way relieves the student of responsibility for work covered or assigned during that session.

When the absences of a student interfere seriously with the student's work in a course, the instructor may recommend to the dean that the student be withdrawn from the class. If this recommendation is approved, the student shall be withdrawn from the class and assigned a grade of "W".

Kent School of Social Work

BSW Program Withdrawal Policy

A currently enrolled student who plans to withdraw from the Kent School must send a written request to withdraw from the school to the BSW Program Co-Directors. This letter can be sent via mail or e-mail. It is the student's responsibility to take care of all university business (i.e., financial aid, work study, library fees, parking, etc) prior to leaving the university.

Leave of Absence

When students are unable to maintain continuous enrollment, they may be granted a leave of absence. Students requesting a leave of absence are required to write a letter via mail or e-mail to the BSW Co-Directors indicating the reason for the absence and the anticipated date of return. Students who are on a leave of absence will be placed in an inactive status within the admissions office. All course work must be completed within a 7-year period from the student's matriculation. A leave of absence must conform to this requirement.

Return Policy

The student is responsible for satisfying any outstanding obligations prior to contacting the BSW Co-Directors and requesting a return to the program.

Please submit a letter to the BSW Co-Directors with the following information: 1) Name; 2) Student ID and/or Social Security Number; 3) Contact Information (i.e., phone number, cell number, e-mail address); 4) Brief description of the anticipated return date; 5) Reason you feel you are ready to return to the program; 6) If you have a plan of action, include your plan. The Co-Directors will review your credentials and respond with a plan of action.

School of Music

Students are expected to attend all classes and lessons. Attendance requirements will be stated in the syllabus. Private lessons missed for any cause other than illness may not be made up. Lessons missed because of illness may be made up provided the instructor is given due notice. Each instructor keeps a record of attendance for all his/her classes. Excessive absences should be reported to the Office of the Dean.

School of Nursing

The nursing program places emphasis on active learning and group methodology. Each student needs to be physically present and actively engaged in learning during the times scheduled for class and clinical, and other learning experiences. It is strongly encouraged that students not engage in other employment on the days course work is scheduled. It is the student's responsibility to inform the faculty and/or the clinical agency when he/she will not be present in the assigned setting. Faculty may require additional course work if a student misses assigned course activities.

Leaves of Absence

A student who needs to take a leave from coursework for a brief period because of personal or family matters is required to request a leave of absence from the Associate Dean for Undergraduate Programs. Leaves of absence and conditions for return are granted at the discretion of the Associate Dean. Students are required to maintain continuous enrollment unless a leave of absence has been approved. Failure to request a leave of absence may result in dismissal from the program. Students are responsible for their own remediation for previously learned content upon returning to the program. Conditions for return include space available basis for admission into courses and compliance with any curriculum changes that may have occurred. Readmission without an officially approved leave of absence is not guaranteed. Students who are not enrolled in nursing clinical courses for two or more consecutive semesters will need to have an administrative program review to determine their currency of content and skills prior to returning. The program review will be conducted by an administrator and at least one member of the Admissions, Progression, Graduation Sub-Committee.

Speed School of Engineering

The programs of the Speed School are uniformly rigorous and demanding. Class attendance is expected and, if so indicated in the course syllabus, may be used to partially determine the course grade. Moreover, class participation may be a factor in grading as well as taking examinations, completing homework assignments, and fulfilling other course requirements.

College Readiness Standards

University Policy

Foreign Language Placement

The study of a foreign language is encouraged and required by some university majors. Students may choose to begin with the first semester in a new language or may choose to determine placement in language studies.

To determine placement, students may complete an online placement test in Spanish, French, German or Russian available at all times. Language exams can be taken on any computer with an Internet connection. The Office of Testing Services administers the placement tests for Latin. First-time, first-year students must take a language exam before May 15 each academic year to register for a language course section during Freshman Summer Orientation. [To receive course credit for foreign language, see the catalog section, "Awarding of Credit thru Placement Tests."]

If a student has significant experience in a language other than Spanish, French, German, Russian or Latin, the student should contact the Department of Classical and Modern Languages for information on placement or exemption at 502.852.6686.

Kentucky Administrative Regulation 13 KAR 2:02

The Commonwealth of Kentucky has approved legislation for college readiness standards in writing, college reading and mathematics. Admitted, degree-seeking students below 24 credit hours who do not achieve the college readiness standards on the ACT sub scores in writing, college reading and mathematics (SAT equivalents) or on the COMPASS placement exams (reading and mathematics) are required by state-mandate to complete interventions during their first college year. These interventions may include an appointment at the University Writing Center, the "Special Topics in Supplemented College Reading" course linked to entry-level content courses, Supplemented MATH 111, or prerequisite JCTC Pathways developmental courses in mathematics. If students place into a JCTC Pathways mathematics course, they must continue to enroll each semester in mathematics and comply with the required mathematics sequence of courses until passing into the first 100-level university mathematics course.

College Writing Placement

The college readiness standard in writing is an ACT Writing sub score of 18. Students with ACT Writing sub scores below college readiness will register for ENG 101 during their first college year. If these students experience difficulty during ENG 101, they will be required to attend an appointment with the University Writing Center for supplemented support.

College Reading Placement

The state-wide, college readiness standard in college reading is an ACT Reading sub score of 20. All first-year, degree-seeking students admitted with reading deficiencies are required to participate in placement testing and course registration as determined by their placement test results. Transfer students with 12 or more credit hours at the 100 level or above in general education courses with a 2.0 GPA are exempt from reading placement requirements.

Students with an ACT Reading sub score of less than 20 (or an SAT Critical Reading score of less than 470) MUST take the Reading COMPASS exam. The exam serves as a second predictor of college reading readiness. Students whose scores on the Reading COMPASS exam are less than 84 will be required to register for GEN 105, "Special Topics in Supplemented College Reading." Advisors working with students are obliged to assist them in developing an individual schedule of classes that meets this state mandate and university requirement.

- GEN 105 provides an intervention for college reading. Students who enroll in this course will receive 2 hours each week of supplemented instruction in college reading, critical thinking, and study strategies. Students receive 1 hour of college credit (elective credit only) for GEN 105. Students will receive 3 hours of college credit for successful completion of the general education course section linked to GEN 105.
- Students enrolled in GEN 105 will attend the general education lecture course for 3 hours each week and will attend GEN 105 for 2 hours each week. Students will attend a total number of 5 hours of class each week for these linked courses.

The Reading COMPASS exam is available to take by appointment only at the Office of Testing Services at any time before course registration. It is highly recommended that local students contact Testing Services and schedule an appointment for this exam. The Reading COMPASS exam may also be available at a testing center close to your place of residence that would be willing to transfer your COMPASS score to the Office of Testing Services. For more information on this option, please contact Testing Services.

If you are unable to be on campus to take the Reading COMPASS exam before Summer Orientation, you will have time during Orientation to complete the exam before class registration. Your Orientation confirmation will include your college reading information and the assigned time to take the exam.

Mathematics Placement:

The college readiness standard in mathematics is an ACT Mathematics sub score of 19. The university determines placement in all entry-level mathematics based on the highest ACT mathematics sub-score. If a student scores above an ACT Mathematics sub score of 19, placement will be in a credit-bearing course.

The following sub scores in mathematics determine placement:

- Students with ACT sub-score of 0 - 18 are required to complete the COMPASS exam in mathematics. Placement will result in MT 055, 065, 080 or an entry-level college mathematics course.
- Students with an ACT sub-score of 19 - 24, but less than the score required for a desired entry-level mathematics course should complete the UofL Math Placement Exam (excluding engineering majors).
- Engineering students with an ACT sub-score at least 24 do not take the UofL Math Placement Exam.
- Students with ACT sub-score of 25-26 who need MATH 205 have the following options: complete the COMPASS exam, complete the Calculus Readiness Test, enroll in the prerequisite MATH 190 or complete the CLEP Pre-calculus exam.

- Students with ACT sub-score of 21 - 22 who need MATH 111 are strongly encouraged to enroll in a Supplemented Section of MATH 111.
- Students with ACT sub-score of 19 will be initially placed in MT 080, Intermediate Algebra, but may take the UofL Math Placement Exam for possible higher placement.

Students seeking a BA in the Social Sciences, Humanities, Arts, or Music and who have an ACT sub score of 19-20 are encouraged to enroll in a Supplemented Section of MATH 105, Intro to Contemporary Math, to satisfy the General Education Mathematics Requirement.

Placement and University Testing Services

All information regarding foreign language placement testing and college readiness placement testing can be obtained from the Office of Testing Services in Davidson Hall, 502.852.6606.

Students are encouraged to direct questions and concerns to this office. Local students are encouraged to contact the Office of Testing Services to schedule an appointment to take any or all placement exams.

First-year students are provided opportunities during Freshman Summer Orientation each year to complete placement tests before registering for classes. The Admissions Office notifies first-year students if placement testing is required in college reading and mathematics. Students receive an Orientation confirmation which includes testing information and assigned times.

Course Audit

University Policy

The following consolidated University policy is applicable to all academic units.

Audited courses do not earn credit. The transcript will indicate that the course was taken as an audit. Audit status is offered only on a space available basis. For that reason, students may not register for a class in an audit status during early registration, nor may a student change from graded to audit status during that period. Students may register for classes in audit status during regular registration and then only with the written approval of the instructor of the course. Specific work expectations that will warrant the audit designation on the transcript should be confirmed with the instructor facilitating the course. Auditors who do not fulfill the work expectations may be withdrawn from the course with a grade of “W” noted on the transcript.

Students who have registered as auditor will not receive credit for the course unless their registration has been changed officially from audit to credit by the published deadline for such a change. Students are allowed to change from audit to grade status or from grade status to audit status at any time from the beginning of regular registration through the last day to add a class with approval from the course instructor. Students are advised that such approval is the instructor’s prerogative, subject to completion of course prerequisites, and that audit status may have implications for financial aid eligibility. Any change of status must be submitted on the form provided in the schedule of courses and turned in to the Registrar’s Office by the deadline. Students admitted to their school or college as “auditors” are not eligible to take courses for credit and may not change their class registration from audit to credit.

Students are cautioned that auditing a class cannot substitute for taking the course for credit if that course is part of the credit hour requirement for graduation, including both college-wide and major requirements. Any required course taken as audit must be retaken for credit in order to be counted toward a degree. Students are advised to consult with their academic advisor to determine if registration as auditors will satisfy the intended purposes. Students may enroll for credit in any course which was taken for audit, in a semester subsequent to the semester when the course was audited, provided those students have been admitted to the College on a basis that confers eligibility to take courses for credit. If a student takes a course for both audit and credit, the transcript will show both entries.

Course Load

University Policy

Each unit has established its own policy regarding normal and maximum course loads. Refer to unit information below.

College of Arts and Sciences

The normal program of studies in the fall and spring semesters is 15 semester hours, and the maximum load is 17 semester hours. Students who have completed a minimum of 30 hours at U of L and who have a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.0 may obtain permission to take more than 17 hours from the Arts and Sciences Advising Center. All other students must petition the Admissions and Appeals Committee for permission for an overload. The recommended maximum load in summer sessions is 7 semester hours in each of the five-week terms. Students with a 3.0 grade point average at the University of Louisville may take a total maximum of 17 hours in the summer sessions with no more than nine hours in any one five-week term. Students on academic warning or probation and students admitted in conditional status are limited to 13 hours during the fall and spring semesters and to a total of ten semester hours during the summer sessions.

College of Business

Registration for 12 or more credit hours during a semester (or for 3 credit hours of approved COB Co-op) entitles a student to full-time status. Students may take up to 18 credit hours each Fall and Spring semester. In special circumstances, students enrolled as majors may request more than 18 hours in the College of Business Reinhardt Academic Center. Students are limited to 4 hours in the three week term and to 7 hours (including A & S courses) during each five-week term of the summer semester. Students on academic warning and probation are restricted to a maximum of 13 hours per semester and no more than one course per summer term. All COB students considering COB Co-op should evaluate course loads in terms of individual needs and plan accordingly with the assistance of an academic advisor. COB Co-op students working thirty hours a week or more are encouraged to limit course loads. Full-time student status is granted for any student registered for three (3) credit hours of co-op during one semester. Students should check with their financial aid lending institution when considering the impact of COB Co-op on financial planning for semesters involving co-op work. Students planning to register for COB Co-op are expected to include their co-op course hours in total course load calculations and adhere to the maximum course load restrictions. Only students in good standing may register for COB Co-op.

Dental Hygiene Program

The normal program of studies in the fall and spring semesters is 12-16 semester hours, and the maximum of 18 semester hours. Students who have superior scholastic records may request to carry more than 18 semester hours. The maximum load in summer sessions is 3 semester hours for the first term and 7 semester hours in a second term. Students on academic warning and probation and students admitted on limited load are limited to 14 hours during the fall and spring semesters and to a total of 10 semester hours during the summer session.

The normal program of studies in the Upper Level for fall and spring semesters for the junior year is approximately 17-18 semester hours. The normal course load in the summer session is approximately 6 semester hours. The senior course load for fall is approximately 18 and 12 for the spring semester.

College of Education & Human Development

The normal program of studies in the fall and spring semesters is 15 semester hours, and the maximum load is 18 semester hours. The maximum load for the summer semester is 15 semester hours. Students whose grades have demonstrated their scholastic ability may be permitted to exceed the maximum. Forms to receive this approval can be secured in the Education Advising Center office. Students who are admitted in conditional status or are on academic probation are limited to 14 semester hours during the fall and spring semesters. Students on academic probation are limited to 10 semester hours for the summer session.

Kent School of Social Work

Students must enroll for a minimum of 12 credit hours per semester during the fall and spring semesters. Full-time study is defined as a minimum of 12 hours of credit during a regular semester and 6 hours during the Summer. Students may carry 12-16 hours per regular semester as a normal course load. During the summer semester, 12 hours are seen as the maximum enrollment allowed.

School of Music

Students will not be permitted to register for more than two hours in excess of the prescribed requirements in their course for any semester without special permission. No excess is allowed during the first semester of residence. A student who has a grade point average of 3.0 may be permitted to take hours in excess of the prescribed requirement, with the consent of the advisor and the Dean.

A student may receive credit only for courses for which he/she has officially registered, and only for the number of hours specified for such courses in the catalog.

School of Nursing

The minimum course load for a full-time student is 12 credit hours. The maximum load allowed for most students is 17 credit hours. Additional hours may be taken with special permission from the Associate Dean for Undergraduate Programs.

Speed School of Engineering

Registration for 12 or more credit hours during a semester entitles an undergraduate student to full-time status. Students may take a maximum of 18 credit hours each fall and spring semester and 13 credit hours in the summer term. In special circumstances during fall and spring semesters, students may register for 19 credit hours with permission from the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs.

Students on either limited load, academic warning, or academic probation status are limited to no more than 13 credit hours during fall and spring semesters and 7 credit hours during the summer term.

Pass/Fail Course Policy

University Policy

Each unit has established its own policy regarding registration for courses on a pass/fail basis. Refer to unit information below.

College of Arts and Sciences

Arts and Sciences students who have completed 60 or more semester hours of degree applicable credit and who have a 2.00 grade point average may take one elective course each semester outside the major field on a pass/fail basis. Courses used in fulfillment of general education requirements and the language requirement may not be taken on a pass/fail basis. Courses required by the major program may not be taken on a pass/fail basis unless the department offering the course has specifically designated the course for pass/fail credit only. The instructor's consent is required to enroll on a pass/fail basis in any course that is also offered on a letter grade basis. To avoid the drop-add procedure to change from a letter grade to pass/fail in a course, students are advised to obtain permission before registering. Forms may be obtained from the Arts and Sciences Advising Center.

Students planning to pursue teaching certification should consult the College of Education Advising Center before electing to take a course pass/fail.

College of Business

Students may take one Arts and Sciences elective on a pass/fail basis per semester. Business, programmatic or general education courses that are taken on a pass/fail basis will not meet degree requirements unless those courses are only offered on a pass/fail basis.

Dental Hygiene Program

For Lower Division students, all courses must be graded. Course directors of clinical or professional didactic courses in Upper Division may use the pass/fail system of grading their courses with the approval of the Director of Dental Hygiene. The dental hygiene student does not have an option to take professional courses other than those designated as pass/fail on the pass/fail basis. If the pass/fail system is used, the grade will not be calculated in the cumulative GPA.

College of Education & Human Development

Any College of Education and Human Development student in good standing may enroll in one elective course each semester on a pass/fail basis. Courses that satisfy general education requirements, and courses required for a major through the College of Education and Human Development, may not be taken on a pass/fail basis. In addition, students completing prerequisite courses for admission to the Master of Arts in Teaching program may not enroll in courses on a pass/fail basis. (This policy will not apply to courses taught only on a pass/fail basis, such as internship or field experience courses.)

Elective hours earned on a "pass" basis will be used to meet graduation requirements. If the student fails, the grade will be treated as an "F" in calculation of the student's academic standing.

The student must secure permission from an Education Advising Center advisor, and the signature of the course instructor, before taking a course on a pass/fail basis.

No changes from letter grade to pass/fail, or vice versa, may be made after the deadline to withdraw from a class. This deadline is established by the Registrar's Office each semester and available on-line at www.louisville.edu.

School of Music

Any School of Music student who has achieved Upper Division status and who is in good standing may take one elective course each semester outside the major field on a pass/fail basis. Forms may be obtained in the Dean's Office. Any course which is taken to fulfill the University's General Education requirements or any "MUS" course to fulfill a degree requirement may not be taken on a pass/fail basis.

School of Nursing

Students may enroll in a required course on a pass/fail basis only if the course is not offered for a letter grade (unless indicated otherwise in the curriculum plan). Credit will be granted if the course is completed successfully, but no quality points will be assigned. A student may not change his/her registration from pass/fail to letter grade or from letter grade to pass/fail without the signature of the instructor and academic counselor on a drop/add form.

Speed School of Engineering

Students who have been admitted to Departmental Studies may take one course each semester on a pass-fail basis to the limit of three courses or nine semester hours in total (not including credit obtained for cooperative assignments). However, students on academic probation or limited load are not eligible to take courses on a pass-fail basis during the term of their probation. Courses used in fulfillment of general education requirements, courses specified by number and/or title in the student's curriculum and major-program electives may not be taken on a pass/fail basis. A passing grade will have no bearing on the student's term average or cumulative average, a failing grade will be averaged in both the term and cumulative average on the same basis as any other grade of "F".

Students may not change their registration, either from credit to pass/fail, or from pass-fail to credit after the first half of the semester. Credit earned for a co-op assignment is always on a pass-fail basis. All students are permitted to register for physical education courses on a pass-fail basis.

Course Repetition Policy

University Policy

Each unit has established its own policy regarding repetition of courses. Refer to unit information below.

College of Arts and Sciences

Students who receive a grade of F, D, or C may repeat a maximum of four such courses for which only the last grade attained will be calculated in the grade point standing. A course in which the grade was D or C may be repeated only once. Each attempt of a repeated course in excess of the four permitted by this policy will be calculated in the grade point standing. A repeat form must be filed with the Arts and Sciences Advising Center to activate this option. For courses retaken for which this option is not requested, both grades will be used in the grade point calculation.

It is not necessary for students to repeat courses they have failed unless those courses are specifically required for graduation. Since C and D are passing grades and may be applied toward graduation requirements, students are advised to weigh carefully the possible advantages of improving their standings versus the possible disadvantage of discarding hours already earned.

Students who elect to repeat a course under the above regulation should understand that the course can count only once as credit toward graduation and that all grades earned for the course will be shown on their transcripts.

For the purpose of assigning graduation with College Honors, both the original grade and the replacement grade in repeated courses will be included in the expanded grade point average. This policy also applies to grades earned in semesters for which academic bankruptcy has been approved.

Permission usually will not be granted for a student to repeat lower level courses after a higher level course in the sequence has been passed.

College of Business

Students may repeat-to-replace a maximum of four (4) courses with grades of "F", "D", or "C".

For these four courses, only the last grade attained will be used in the University GPA calculation. Courses in which a grade of "D" or "C" was originally attained may only be repeated once under the repeat-to-replace option.

Students are not required to repeat an "F" grade unless the course is specifically required for graduation. Students should be aware all grades are displayed on the official transcript even after the repeat. The COB will honor any previously granted repeats from other Schools and Colleges within the University. For example, if a student uses three (3) repeats in Arts and Sciences classes, that student will be eligible for only one (1) additional repeat-to-replace option in the COB. A repeat-to-replace form, available in the Reinhardt Academic Center, must be filed to activate this option. For courses retaken for which this option is not requested, both grades will be used in the University GPA calculation, but students cannot receive double credit in hours required for the degree. When a course is repeated and a repeat-to-replace form is not processed the highest grade will count towards degree requirements. Since "C" and "D" are passing grades and may be applied toward graduation requirements, students are advised to weigh carefully the possible advantages of improving their standings versus the possible disadvantage of discarding hours already earned. In addition, the hours from the repeated course(s) are used to determine academic standing. The last grade attained for any repeated course using the repeat-to-replace form determines the applicability towards degree requirements.

Dental Hygiene Program

Students may repeat to replace a maximum of four (4) courses with grades of F, D, or C. For these four courses, only the last grade attained will be used in the grade point average calculation. A course in which a grade of D or C was originally attained may be repeated only once under the repeat-to-replace option. Students are not required to repeat an F grade unless the course is specifically required for graduation. Students should be aware that all grades are displayed on the official transcript even after the repeat. All Schools and Colleges within the University will honor any previously granted repeats from other Schools and Colleges within the University. A repeat form must be filed to activate this option. A course retaken for which this option is not requested will allow both grades to be used in the grade point average calculation; but students cannot receive double credit in hours required for the degree.

The authority to grant permission for a student to repeat a professional course lies with the Dental Hygiene Academic Achievement Committee.

College of Education & Human Development

Students may repeat to replace a maximum of four (4) courses with grades of F, D, or C. For these four courses, only the last grade attained will be used in the grade point average calculation. A course in which a grade of D or C was originally attained may be repeated only once under the repeat-to-replace option. Students are not required to repeat an F grade unless the course is specifically required for graduation. Since “C” and “D” are passing grades and may be applied toward graduation requirements, the student is advised to weigh carefully the possible advantages of improving his or her standing versus the possible disadvantage of discarding hours already earned.

The student who elects to repeat a course under the above regulation should understand that the course can count only once toward graduation. Students should be aware that all grades are displayed on the official transcript even after the repeat. All Schools and Colleges within the University will honor any previously granted repeats from other Schools and Colleges within the University. A repeat form must be filed to activate this option. For courses retaken for which this option is not requested, both grades will be used in the grade point average calculation, but students cannot receive double credit in hours required for the degree. Permission will not usually be granted for a student to repeat for higher grades lower level courses in areas, which are sequential in nature.

School of Music

Students may repeat to replace a maximum of four (4) courses with grades of “F,” “D,” or “C.” For these four courses, only the last grade attained will be used in the grade point average calculation. Courses in which a grade of “D” or “C” was originally attained may be repeated only once under the repeat-to-replace option. Students are not required to repeat an “F” grade unless the course is specifically required for graduation.

Students should be aware that all grades are displayed on the official transcript even after the repeat. All Schools and Colleges within the University will honor any previously granted repeats from other Schools and Colleges within the University. A repeat form must be filed to activate this option. For a course retaken for which this option is not requested, both grades will be used in the GPA calculation, but students cannot receive double credit in hours required for the degree.

School of Nursing

Courses in which a grade of D or C was originally attained may be repeated only once under the repeat-to-replace option. Students are not required to repeat an F grade unless the course is specifically required for graduation. Students should be aware that all grades are displayed on the official transcript, even after the repeat. All schools and colleges within the University will honor any previously granted repeats from other schools and colleges within the University. A repeat form must be filed to activate this option. For courses retaken for which this option is not requested, both grades will be used in the GPA calculation, but students cannot receive double credit in hours required for the degree.

Speed School of Engineering

Undergraduate students may repeat to replace a maximum of four (4) courses with grades of C or below. Students in Graduate Studies may repeat to replace one course with a grade of C or below. For these repeated courses, only the last grade attained will be used in the grade-point average calculation. Courses in which a grade of C or D was originally attained may be repeated only once under the repeat-to-replace option. Students are not required to repeat an F grade unless the course is specifically required for graduation. Students should be aware that all grades are displayed on the official transcript even after the repeat. All Schools and Colleges within the University will honor any previously granted repeats from other Schools and Colleges within the University. A repeat form must be filed to activate this option. For courses retaken for which this option is not requested, both grades will be used in the grade point average calculation, but students cannot receive double credit in hours required for the degree. Permission will not be granted for a student to repeat lower level courses after a higher level course in the sequence has been passed.

Dean's List and Dean's Scholar

University Policy

Requirements for Dean's List and Dean's Scholar classifications are determined by each academic unit. Please refer to unit information below.

College of Arts and Sciences

A student who completes in one semester (fall, spring, summer) twelve or more graded credits in courses numbered 100-level or above with all grades of "A" and no grades of A- or below, or I, X, or U, is named a Dean's Scholar. [A grade below A in a course below the 100-level will also disqualify a student for this designation. Courses graded P do not apply toward the 12 hour minimum required for eligibility for this designation.]

Note: Students who receive a grade of "I" in an internship may be named a Dean's Scholar or to the Dean's List if the "I" is completed AND a student-initiated petition for the exception filed with the Arts and Sciences Advising Center within sixty (60) calendar days of the final Registrar's date for receiving grades for the semester or summer term.

A student who completes in one semester (fall, spring, summer) twelve or more graded credits in courses numbered 100-level or above with a 3.5 grade point average and with no grade of C- or below or I, X, or U, is named to the Dean's List. [A grade below C in a course below the 100-level will also disqualify a student for this designation. Courses graded P do not apply toward the 12 hour minimum required for eligibility for this designation.]

Note: Students who receive a grade of "I" in an internship may be named a Dean's Scholar or to the Dean's list if the "I" is completed AND a student-initiated petition for the exception filed with the Arts and Sciences Advising Center within sixty (6) calendar days of the final Registrar's date for receiving grades for the semester or summer term.

A student who meets either of these standards in one semester will be awarded the appropriate honor through ordinary clerical procedures in the Office of the Dean. A part-time student who meets the standards for Dean's Scholar or Dean's List in a series of semesters (fall/spring/ summer) in the College of Arts and Sciences, consecutive from the standpoint of the student's enrollment, may petition through the Arts and Sciences Advising Center for award of the appropriate honor. Such petitions must be made within one semester of meeting the requirement. All hours earned in the final semester of the series will be counted, and hours earned in any one semester may not be counted more than once toward either honor.

College of Business

Students who earn a 3.5 grade point average and complete 12 or more graded hours for the semester are named to the Dean's List. Students who earn a 4.0 grade point average while enrolled in 12 or more graded hours for the semester and who have a 3.0 University GPA are named Dean's Scholars. These are placed on the student's transcript.

Dental Hygiene Program

The DH-ACC shall identify students who are worthy of recognition for academic excellence at the end of the Fall and Spring semesters. The following guidelines shall be followed in making recommendations to the Dean.

1. The DH-AAC shall recommend that each student who has a cumulative GPA of at least 3.0 and earns a current term GPA of 3.50 or above be placed on the DEAN'S LIST for that term and receive a congratulatory letter from the Office of the Dean.
2. The DH-AAC shall recommend that each student who has a cumulative GPA of at least 3.50 and earns a current term GPA of 4.0 be designated as a DEAN'S SCHOLAR for that term and receive a congratulatory letter from the Office of the Dean commending him/her for this exceptional level of scholarship.

3. In order to be eligible for recommendation for DEAN'S LIST or DEAN'S SCHOLAR recognition, a student may not have an "F" grade, a "D" grade or a "W" in a required course during the term just completed. Also, the student may not have an "I" or "X" grade unresolved from any of the previous semesters (excluding the term just completed).

College of Education and Human Development

A student carrying in one fall, spring, or summer semester 12 or more semester hours who earns no grade lower than "B," or who has a standing of 3.5 for the semester in spite of one "C," is named to the Dean's List. A student carrying in one fall, spring, or summer semester 12 or more semester hours who earns all "A's" is named a Dean's Scholar. A student who receives an "incomplete" or a "deferred grade" is not eligible to be named to the Dean's List or as a Dean's Scholar.

A part-time student who meets either of these standards in a consecutive series of semesters may request the awarding of the honor through the College of Education and Human Development Advising Center within one semester of meeting the requirements. Hours in any one semester may not be counted more than once toward either honor. It is the part-time student's responsibility to initiate this award by contacting the Education Advising Center.

Kent School of Social Work

1. To be named to the Dean's List, a student must complete at least 12 hours of graded, earned credit during the semester (excluding grades of I, X, or P) with a minimum University Grade Point Average of 3.5 in that semester. In the semester in which students take Practicum and earn a grade of P, 9 hours of graded, earned credit will be considered in determining Dean's List.

2. To be named a Dean's Scholar, a student must complete at least 12 hours of graded, earned credit during the semester (excluding grades of I, X, or P) with a minimum University Grade Point Average of 4.0 in that semester. In the semester in which students take Practicum and earn a grade of P, 9 hours of graded, earned credit will be considered in determining Dean's Scholar.

3. Grades from developmental course work (course number below 100) or cooperative education will be excluded from the calculation. This policy does not affect graduation honors.

A student who meets the criteria of Dean's List or Dean's Scholar will be awarded the appropriate honor through ordinary clerical procedures in the Office of the Dean.

School of Music

A student who completes in one semester twelve or more graded credits with the grades of "A", "B", or "C" and a 3.5 semester grade-point average, with no grades of "I", "X", or "U" is named to the Dean's List. The grade "P" has no effect on the determination for the Dean's List. A student who meets these standards in one semester will be awarded the appropriate honor through ordinary clerical procedures in the Office of the Dean.

School of Nursing

1. To be named to the Dean's List, a student must complete at least 12 hours of graded, earned credit during the semester (excluding grades of I, X, or P) with a minimum University Grade Point Average of 3.5 in that semester.

2. To be named a Dean's Scholar, a student must complete at least 12 hours of graded, earned credit during the semester (excluding grades of I, X, or P) with a minimum University Grade Point Average of 4.0 in that semester.

3. Grades from developmental course work (course number below 100) or cooperative education will be excluded from the calculation. This policy does not affect graduation honors.

Speed School of Engineering

Undergraduate students in Engineering Fundamentals and Departmental Studies who complete twelve or more (nine or more in summer terms) graded credits are eligible for the Dean's List and designation as Dean's Scholar. The following distinctions are made:

- Dean's List..... GPA > 3.5, with no grades of "I", "X", "U", "D", or "F"
- Dean's Scholar... GPA = 4.0, with no grades of "I", "X", or "U"

Grades of "P" are not prohibited in Dean's List or Dean's Scholar qualifications, but cannot be used to meet the graded-credits minimum requirement. Honor certificates for those receiving these distinctions are available online through the student's ULink account.

Dropping, Adding, and Withdrawing Courses

University Policy

A student's drop/add form must be approved according to the procedure for the academic unit in which the student is enrolled. Students may consult the Registration Information newspaper for detailed information concerning unit procedures for drop/add and for permission to enter closed classes. If the addition of courses increases the tuition for the student, the student will be required to settle their account by the end of the first week of classes.

A grade of "W" will be reflected on students' official transcripts for all courses officially dropped after the last day of drop/add.

Students who make a complete withdrawal from all courses for a particular semester must process this in accordance with the procedures established by their academic unit.

Late complete withdrawals are those requested after the official deadline to withdraw has passed. Proper documentation of special circumstances must accompany the petition for a late complete withdrawal, which the student shall submit to the appropriate official or committee of the enrollment unit. The enrollment unit shall request and consider all instructors' recommendations in deciding on the petition.

Withdrawal Policy

The effective withdrawal date is the date on which the Registrar's Office, or its designated representatives during evening hours and at external campus offices, receives the appropriately signed drop form, or the date the drop/withdrawal is processed through the web. This date is used in calculating any refund or tuition reduction due if withdrawal deadlines are met. The last day to withdraw for each semester is published in the Registration Information newspaper, and for normal duration courses in the Fall and Spring semesters, is set in the eighth week of the semester. A grade of "W" will be reflected on students' official transcripts for all courses officially dropped after the last day to drop/add. Students who make a complete withdrawal from all courses for a particular semester must process this in accordance with the procedures established by their academic unit. When a student officially withdraws (see definition of effective withdrawal date above) from the University or from any course, or courses, for which hourly rates apply, tuition will be adjusted in the following manner:

Tuition Charge/Credit

- Withdrawal through the first week of semester: 0% / 100%
- Withdrawal during second or third week of semester: 50% / 50%
- Withdrawal during fourth week of semester: 75% / 25%
- Withdrawal after fourth week of semester: 100% / 0%

Summer terms and some regular semester courses vary in length and the percentages of refunds are modified. Effective dates are printed for special terms and courses in the Registration Information newspaper or are available from the Registrar's Office. Special course fees are refundable only with 100% adjustment.

Additional Unit Policies

College of Arts and Sciences

Students may add courses to their schedules during official registration periods. Dates are specified in the Registration Information newspaper for each semester. Students are permitted to withdraw from classes during the first eight weeks of the semester or the equivalent, depending on course length; specific deadlines are published in the Registration Information newspaper and may be indicated on the course syllabus. The deadline for changing from credit to audit status or from audit to credit status in a course is the University deadline for adding courses. The deadline for changing from letter grade to pass/fail, or pass/fail to letter grade is the same as for withdrawing from courses. Such changes require the processing of a drop/add form signed by both the course instructor and an advisor in the Academic Advising Center.

Students may add and/or withdraw from classes at other times only upon approval of petitions submitted to the College's Admissions and Appeals Committee. The necessary petition forms are available in the Arts and Sciences Advising Center. Students are required to demonstrate in their petitions that special circumstances justify their requests.

Failure to withdraw officially from a course may result in a grade of "F." Missing grades are changed to failing grades one year after the completion of the semester in which the course was taken.

College of Business

Students may add courses to their schedules during official registration periods--dates are specified in the Registration Information newspaper for each semester. Students are permitted to withdraw from classes up to the specific deadlines published in the Registration Information newspaper or on Ulink. Failure to withdraw officially from a course will result in a grade of "F." The deadline for changing from credit to audit status or from audit to credit status in a course is the University deadline for adding courses. The deadline for changing from letter grade to pass/fail, or pass/fail to letter grade is the same as for withdrawing from courses. Such changes require a "Permission Form" (found in the Registration Information newspaper) be signed by the course instructor and processed in the Registrar's Office by the appropriate deadline. Missing grades are changed to failing grades one year after the completion of the semester in which the course was taken. Requests after the appropriate deadlines must be petitioned.

College of Education and Human Development

Any student wishing to alter his or her schedule of courses in any way must do so officially through the online registration process or on a drop /add form, available in the Dean's Office. Signatures are not required to drop or add if done before the last official day to drop/add a course. The student may add courses only within the first week of the semester. The deadline date for withdrawal without penalty from a course is at the end of the eighth week into the semester. A grade of "W" will be issued. Each semester the registrar will set the actual date in conformity with this regulation. The Dean's signature and signatures of all instructors are required if a change in schedule is processed after the last official day to drop/add. Failure to complete the withdrawal process may result in a grade of "F" in each course involved.

A student may not change registration, either from credit to audit, or from audit to credit, without the permission of the instructor and the dean, and this change will not be permitted after the eighth week of the semester, or the second week of a five-week summer term.

Appropriate adjustments in these time periods are made for the summer session. All actual deadline dates are published by the Registrar's Office, and students should visit their website frequently. Similarly, a student may not change registration from a pass/fail basis to a letter-grade basis, or from letter-grade to pass/fail, without the approval of the instructor, adviser, and the dean, and this change will not be permitted after the eighth week of the semester. The Dean of the student's enrollment unit is responsible for processing grade changes, regardless of the school in which the course is actually located.

Dental Hygiene Program

Information and assistance regarding Drop/Add and Withdrawal procedures should be obtained through the Dental Hygiene Program's Academic Advisor.

Late complete withdrawals are those requested after the official deadline to withdraw has passed. Proper documentation of special circumstances must accompany the petition for a late complete withdrawal, which the student shall submit to the appropriate official or committee of the enrollment unit. The enrollment unit shall request and consider all instructors' recommendations in deciding on the petition.

Kent School of Social Work

The University of Louisville academic calendar indicates the final date for adding or dropping courses for each semester <http://louisville.edu/calendars/academic/undergrad-grad.html>. The student should check carefully

regarding this date, as no course may be added thereafter. After the last posted date to withdraw, the student must obtain the approval of the BSW Director to do so. Only in rare circumstances will permission be granted.

Students can use the online registration option to drop or add a class when registration is still open. If a course is dropped within the first week of classes (see Registration Information newspaper for dates), the course name is removed from the transcript. If a course is dropped after the first week, the course will appear on the transcript with a grade of Withdraw (W).

To add a course after the registration period has ended, the student should first confirm with the course instructor that space is available. To add or drop a course, the student should complete a Drop/Add form <http://louisville.edu/student/services/registrar/DropAdd.pdf> and personally take the form for signatures to the instructors of the courses being dropped/added. The student must then submit the form to the BSW Coordinator of Academic Affairs for processing. Failure to process this form when a class is dropped will result in the assignment of a grade of “F” for the course.

School of Music

Upon proper documentation of special circumstances, decisions for approval of late complete withdrawals may be made by the appropriate official or committee in the student's enrollment unit, who will notify the instructors involved. Late complete withdrawals are those requested after the deadline to withdraw has passed and before the instructor has assigned a grade. After a grade has been assigned, the instructional unit has the authority to change the grade to a withdrawal.

School of Nursing

Students wishing to alter their schedule of courses in any way must make changes with the University's Registrar's Office. Failure to officially withdraw from a course may result in a grade of "F". Any student who wishes to drop a nursing course or change from fulltime to part-time study must be advised by OSS and course faculty.

Upon proper documentation of extreme circumstances, decisions for approval of late “complete” withdrawals from all courses may be made by the Associate Dean for Undergraduate Academic Affairs. Late complete withdrawals are those requested after the deadline to withdraw has passed and before assignment of grades. Students may not withdraw from any “single” course after the published deadline.

Speed School of Engineering

Students wishing to alter their schedule of courses in any way must do so officially through the online registration process or on a drop/add form, available in the Office of Academic Affairs. Signatures are not required to drop or add if done before the last official day to drop/add a course. Students may add courses to their schedules only within the first week of the semester. The last day to add is also the last day to delete a course from your record. After that date, a grade of "W" is assigned for all withdrawals during the first half of the semester (each semester the registrar will set and publish the actual withdrawal deadline). No student may withdraw during the last half of the semester. Failure to complete this official change or withdrawal process will result in a grade of “F” in each course in which the student is officially enrolled and not attending.

After the deadlines pass, the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs may grant a student's request to delete or withdraw courses because of sickness or conditions beyond the student's control. Students may appeal decisions on late withdrawals by petitioning the Standards and Admissions Committee. The petition is online at <http://speed.louisville.edu/forms/Advising/SACPetition.pdf>.

Final Examinations

University Policy

If a final exam is required for a course, the date and time is determined by a University-wide schedule based on the days of the week and times the course meets. The final exam schedule can be found on the Registrar's Office home page at http://louisville.edu/student/services/registrar/final_exams.html.

Final examination policies are determined by each academic unit. Please refer to unit information below.

College of Arts and Sciences

It is College policy that no student may be required to take more than two final examinations within a single exam day. Students facing such conflicts should inform one or more of their instructors of the situation as early in the semester as possible. Students have a right to expect their instructors will accommodate them by scheduling a make-up examination in one of the courses. In the event of difficulty in making such arrangements, students should consult the Assistant Dean for Student Support Services in the Arts and Sciences Advising Center.

Final examinations which are comprehensive in nature will be given during the Final Examination period as specified in the Schedule of Courses. They may not be given on the last regular day of class or during the reading period. (Examinations which cover a limited portion of the course work may be given during the last regular class period.)

Dental Hygiene Program

For the Dental Hygiene Upper Division, the final exam will be given on a date TBD by individual course directors.

School of Music

It is a School of Music policy that no student may be required to take more than two final examinations, including juries in the major applied area, within a 24-hour period. Students facing such conflicts should inform one or more of their instructors of the situation as early in the semester as possible. Students have a right to expect that their instructors will accommodate them by scheduling a makeup examination in one of the courses. In the event of difficulty in making such arrangements, students should consult the Associate Dean of the School of Music.

School of Nursing

For class times not listed on the University final exam schedule, the final exam will be given on the last regular day of class or a date TBD by individual faculty and provided in writing in the course syllabus.

Speed School of Engineering

The final examination is defined as the last examination in a course administered during the appropriate period in the published Final Exam Schedule. The approved policy on final examinations is available at <http://speed.louisville.edu/policies/finals.pdf>.

Fresh Start

|---|--|
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"> I. The “Fresh Start” policy will not replace the current academic unit bankruptcy policies. II. Fresh Start will allow returning students with a grade point average (GPA) below the academic unit required GPAs to return to the university with a fresh academic record. III. Students interested in Fresh Start should contact the academic advising center in their academic unit for information on the policy and eligibility. IV. The ‘Fresh Start’ Policy, for all academic units, is as follows: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> 1. An undergraduate student who re-enrolls in the university after an absence of two or more consecutive years without enrollment in higher education may request the university to reset the cumulative grade point average and hours earned during the period of previous residency. 2. All courses taken remain on the permanent record. Only those courses with grades of A, B, C, D or P are counted for credit. To preserve the integrity of academic programs, these conditions may apply: (a) students may not meet a general education requirement with a course in which a "P" was earned; (b) students may be required to retake courses from academic terms covered by Fresh Start if the content-currency or major-GPA rules of a degree program, department or unit so dictate. Students returning under Fresh Start who are affected by either of the preceding conditions will be notified (at the time of readmission and in writing by the department or unit) of the condition and the additional requirements to be fulfilled in remedying the condition. 3. Financial aid regulations regarding receiving aid for repeat courses will still be administered according to federal regulations. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Financial Aid recipients will still have to adhere to the Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) policy administered by the Student Financial Aid Office. Federal regulations regarding SAP are currently under review, and the SAP policy will be changing. | Students who are granted a Fresh Start who were previously held for SAP will need to contact the Student Financial Aid Office and will be responsible for submitting required SAP appeal and/or clearance documentation. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> 4. The student resumes an academic program with no cumulative grade point average for the period to which the Fresh Start applies. Courses repeated during the period covered by a Fresh Start will not be counted against the maximum of four such repeats allowed under university policy. 5. For the purposes of scholastic action and advising the student initially is assigned to the same scholastic standing as when he/she last attended the university. Thereafter, the student is subject to the conditions of probation, suspension and dismissal that govern all students. All courses taken at the university will be used in the calculation of the cumulative grade point and hour ratio considered for financial aid purposes and graduation with academic honors. 6. Under the provisions of this rule, a student must be re-enrolled for at least 30 hours before graduation after the Fresh Start has been applied to the academic record. 7. A student is eligible for only one Fresh Start. 8. Students who have earned a baccalaureate degree from the university are not eligible for Fresh Start. |

Grading and Course Numbering Systems

University Policy

Undergraduate grading system

The University awards letter grades which are translated into quality points to determine the grade point average or point standing. The “+/-” grading system may be used to help students understand their performance more accurately. Under this system, quality points are assigned as follows:

- | | |
|------------|------------|
| • A = 4.0 | • C = 2.0 |
| • A- = 3.7 | • C- = 1.7 |
| • B+ = 3.3 | • D+ = 1.3 |
| • B = 3.0 | • D = 1.0 |
| • B- = 2.7 | • D- = 0.7 |
| • C+ = 2.3 | • F = 0.0 |

The grade of A+ is given for extraordinary work and appears on the transcript with the “plus” qualification, but it awards no additional quality point value in the calculation of the grade point average.

“F” means Not Passing and earns neither semester hours toward graduation nor quality points; however, the number of semester hours attempted is computed into the point standing, so that “F” has a negative effect on the point standing.

Other letter grades include the following:

- “AU” means Audit and does not enter into the point standing.
- “I” means Work in Course is Incomplete. This grade does not enter into the point standing. The grade and quality points awarded when the incomplete is made up (or the “F” that is given by default if the incomplete is not made up by the last day of final examinations of the next fall or spring semester) become part of the point standing at that time.
- “P” means Passing in a course taken on a pass-fail basis. A grade of “P” is given for achievement equivalent to the standards for the grades “A” through “D” in the same course. A “P” does not enter into the point standing, but earns the designated number of semester hours.
- “S” and “U” mean Satisfactory and Unsatisfactory. These grades are used only for certain courses, and are not available by student option. Courses using these grades will earn semester hours, but those hours may not be counted toward the minimum number of hours required for graduation or a degree. “S” and “U” do not affect the point standing.

- “W” means Withdrew and does not enter into the point standing.
- “X” means the work is not finished because of the nature of the study. This grade is available only for graduate level courses.

All missing grades change to failing grades one year after the completion of the semester in which the course was taken.

University grade point average (GPA)

The student’s grade-point average is determined by dividing the total number of quality points earned by the total number of semester hours attempted. The number of hours attempted is computed by adding the hours for all courses in which the student has earned grades. The overall point standing takes into account all work taken at the University. Courses numbered below the 100 level (000–099) taken in the 1998 Fall Semester or after will not be used in the earned hours or University Grade Point Average calculations. However, decisions involving probation, dismissal, honors and eligibility for graduation are defined by each academic unit. Grades and quality points earned at other institutions are not incorporated into the university grade point average. Students should review the unit sections to determine how their enrollment unit uses transfer credit grades in the calculation of the grade point average.

Course numbering system

Each course has an alphabetic subject area code and a three-digit number. Within each department these numbers are used to identify the courses.

- Freshman courses are numbered 100 to 199.
- Sophomore courses are numbered 200 to 299.
- Junior courses are numbered 300 to 399.
- Senior courses are numbered 400 to 499.
- Senior and graduate courses are numbered 500 to 599.
- Graduate courses are numbered 600 to 799.

In registering to enroll for courses during a particular term, students are required to use a unique four digit course code, available in the university course schedule, to designate the particular course section in which they seek to enroll.

Additional Unit Policies

College of Arts and Sciences

The University of Louisville calculates a University Grade Point Average which is the standard measure of performance and the official university calculation upon which academic decisions (e.g., probation, suspension, eligibility for graduation) are made. The University Grade Point Average is determined at the undergraduate level, based upon all undergraduate course work taken at the University of Louisville.

Courses numbered below the 100-level (000-099) taken in the 1998 Fall semester or later will not be used in the earned hours or University Grade Point Average calculation.

The grade point average is determined by dividing the total number of quality points earned in the courses to be averaged by the total number of semester hours attempted in those courses. Only courses in which a student has earned grades of A, B, C, D and F count in determining the number of hours attempted.

Grading and Course Numbering System

In determining eligibility for graduation with College Honors, the College calculates an “expanded grade point average” of all earned grades, including transfer work and repeated or bankrupt courses.

College of Business

The University calculates a University Grade Point Average, which becomes the standard measure of performance and the official calculation upon which academic decisions are made. The undergraduate University GPA is based on all college-level undergraduate course work taken at the University of Louisville. Courses numbered below the 100-level (000-099) taken in the 1998 Fall semester or after will not be used in the earned hours or University grade point average calculation.

College of Business courses numbered 101-299 are primarily for freshmen and sophomores, and such courses generally contain introductory or basic material. These courses are open to all students enrolled in the University of Louisville. Business courses numbered 300-499 are those in which the majority of students enrolled are juniors and seniors, and such courses contain advanced undergraduate material. Only students admitted to the College of Business in good standing and who have completed the proper prerequisites (It is the student’s responsibility to know the prerequisites for any course by checking the course description section of the University Undergraduate Catalog.) will be allowed to register for 300 and 400 level business courses. Exceptions will be made for students in baccalaureate degree programs in other units of the University that require upper-level business courses. These students must be juniors or seniors and must have the proper prerequisites to register for 300-400 level courses in the COB. Students must obtain permission to take these courses from the faculty advisor in their program of study. The COB reserves the right to administratively withdraw students from courses based on academic policies. Business courses numbered 500 and above are reserved for graduate students; undergraduates may not take these courses.

All courses offered through the 499 level in the COB, at the time of publication of this catalog, are listed under the departments and programs offering the courses. Courses beyond the 499 level are listed and described in the Graduate Catalog. A Schedule of Courses is published each year. The College reserves the right to cancel without prior notice any courses listed in this catalog or in the Schedule of Courses, and to withdraw any course that does not have an adequate enrollment at a reasonable time during the registration period for the semester. The College attempts to provide all courses required for graduation frequently enough to ensure that no student’s degree will be delayed by course unavailability, but the College cannot guarantee that such delay will not occur.

College of Education & Human Development

The University calculates a University Grade Point Average, which becomes the standard measure of performance and the official calculation upon which academic decisions are made. The undergraduate University GPA is based on all college-level undergraduate course work taken at the University of Louisville. Courses numbered below the 100-level (000-099) taken in the 1998 Fall semester or after will not be used in the earned hours or University grade point average calculation.

Transfer students applying directly for admission to the College of Education and Human Development or for admission to Teacher Education will be evaluated for admission on the basis of cumulative grade-point average for all credit earned (transfer and U of L credit).

Dental Hygiene Program

For students in the Upper Division, the following grade point scale is utilized for all courses in the DH curriculum:

- (4) points for an “A” grade
- (3) points for a “B” grade
- (2) points for a “C” grade
- (1) point for a “D” grade
- (0) point for an “F” grade

“P/F”, “H”, and “I” grades will not be used in calculating a GPA.

All courses are assigned credit hours by the Dental Hygiene Curriculum Committee. By multiplying the credit hours for each course by the grade points earned in the course, the total number of academic points for the semester’s course work is determined.

The cumulative GPA is calculated by adding all academic points earned in the dental hygiene curriculum and dividing by the total number of credit hours taken, including failures.

Kent School of Social Work

Grades of C’s and D’s are not recognized when students apply to continue their studies in the MSSW program. Although these grades can be accepted for completion of the BSW degree if the cumulative GPA remains above 2.5, they are not accepted for admission to the 30 hour MSSW program. Students may be requested to repeat these courses when they apply to the MSSW program.

Grades of F will result in an immediate academic review. The BSW Coordinator of Academic Affairs will inform the BSW Director of the need for this review and the process for an academic review will follow.

School of Music

The University calculates a University Grade Point Average, which becomes the standard measure of performance and the official calculation upon which academic decisions are made. The undergraduate University GPA is based on all college-level undergraduate course work taken at the University of Louisville. Courses numbered below the 100-level (000-099) taken in the 1998 Fall semester or after will not be used in the earned hours or University grade point average calculation. Program grade point average ceases to exist as an official measure.

No work below a “C” (not “C-“) will apply toward a major subject. The grades of “S” and “U” may be received in applied music and class piano. When such a grade is received in a course, no hours, credit, or quality points are received, and the course must be repeated.

School of Nursing

No work below a “C” (not “C-“) will apply toward a major subject.

The University calculates a University Grade Point Average, which becomes the standard measure of performance and the official calculation upon which academic decisions are made. The undergraduate University GPA is based on all college-level undergraduate course work taken at the University of Louisville. Courses numbered below the 100-level (000-099) taken in the 1998 Fall semester or after will not be used in the earned hours or University grade point average calculation.

Speed School of Engineering

Decisions involving academic warning, probation, suspension, dismissal, honors, and eligibility for graduation are defined by each academic unit. These decisions are based on the university grade point average, which is determined by dividing the total number of quality points earned by the total number of semester hours attempted. The number of hours attempted is computed by adding the hours for all courses in which the student has earned grades. The overall point standing takes into account all work taken at the University, excluding courses numbered below the 100 level. Grades and quality points earned at other institutions are not incorporated into the university grade point average.

Courses with numbers from 500 to 599 may be open to both undergraduate and graduate students and can be taken by graduate students for graduate credit. Those numbered 600 and above are primarily for graduate students. Graduate students who wish to receive graduate credit for 500-level courses must demonstrate a level of mastery of the course material substantially above that required for undergraduate credit. This mastery must be verified in writing by the instructor if graduate credit is requested after course is completed. Demonstration of an appropriate degree of mastery may include term papers, independent study, comprehensive examinations, or other more stringent requirements than those applied for undergraduate credit. The nature of the differences between the requirements for graduate credit and those for undergraduate credit must be described in course syllabi. Students are advised to consult their department for information on any particular 500-level course.

Graduation and Degree Requirements

University Policy

The conferring of degrees by the University of Louisville is conditional upon completion of all requirements in the opinion of the Dean/Director and faculty, regardless of the students' participation in Commencement or any other representations by University employees. The student is responsible for submitting an application for a degree in a timely manner to be considered for a degree.

Commencements are scheduled for May and December. Commencement information and current schedules are available on the web at <http://louisville.edu/commencement>. Graduates participating in the commencement ceremonies must order academic apparel before the deadline stated on the website.

All graduating students must apply for their degrees online according to deadlines stated in the Registration Information newspaper (dates also available on the web at <http://louisville.edu/student/services/registrar/degreecomm.html>).

Additional Unit Policies

College of Arts and Sciences

All undergraduate degree programs are based on a combination of freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior level courses which form a coherent, comprehensive undergraduate curriculum. The important distinction between these levels is that the freshman and sophomore curriculum is designed to provide a background that helps form the basis for advanced course work and concentration in a major area at the junior and senior level. The junior and senior level courses permit students to pursue more advanced work in the chosen major, in related fields, and in courses designed to explore the relationships among the disciplines.

The baccalaureate degree is the most comprehensive undergraduate degree in the College. It is awarded to students who have completed both College-wide requirements and the requirements of the selected major. This combination is designed to provide the broad spectrum of educational experiences that is fundamental to a liberal arts degree.

Admission to a Major

In order to graduate from the College of Arts and Sciences, all students must major in one of the degree programs of the College. To become a major in a degree program, students must complete an Application for Major form which is available at:

<http://louisville.edu/artsandsciences/advising>. The completed form is submitted to the Advising Center and then transmitted to the major program or department for consideration. Students become majors after acceptance by the department or the program. Some departments have specific requirements (e.g., completion of introductory course; minimum grade point average) for admission to the major. Consult the Advising Center for details of any admission requirements for a particular major. Students interested in a B.A. who find that the College's major programs do not meet their interests and needs should consider the Liberal Studies major.

Students may apply for admission to a major at any time. Most programs allow students to take work in the major field and in related fields during the freshman and sophomore years. Students who need to discover or confirm the choice of a major are encouraged to take a variety of foundation courses in different fields. Students who feel certain of their choices are encouraged to apply for a major early in their college experience in order to enjoy the benefits of advising and counseling from faculty in the major program. Students may change majors at any time; however, the need to fulfill the requirements of the ultimate major might require additional course work beyond the minimum hours required for graduation from the College.

Minimum Hours

Each student must present a minimum of 121 semester hours of credit (unless a higher minimum is specified in a program of study). At least 50 of the total semester hours, whether required or elective, must be earned in courses numbered 300 or higher.

Point Standing

Each student must attain a grade point average of at least 2.0 for all courses in the major field, and 2.0 overall. Details of requirements in programs requiring higher standings may be seen in departmental entries.

Maximum Hours in Major

No more than 40 hours in the major field may be applied toward graduation by candidates for the B.A. degree. No more than 60 hours in the major field may be applied toward graduation by candidates for the B.S. degree. No more than 80 hours in Fine Art (courses designated ART and ARTH) may be applied toward the B.F.A. in Fine Arts.

Second Bachelor's Degrees

To be awarded a second bachelor's degree, students must earn a minimum of thirty (30) additional semester hours in the College. For students pursuing two degrees simultaneously, these thirty (30) hours will be added to the minimum total of semester hours needed for the degree requiring the least number of hours.

Departmental Learning Outcomes Assessment

Completion of a baccalaureate degree also requires students to submit work to the department of the major for the department's Learning Outcomes Measurement. Details about the specific requirements and deadlines of an individual department are available in the department office. Students are advised to make themselves aware of these requirements as early as possible in their academic careers.

Requirements for Minors

The course work requirements for a minor consist of a minimum of 18 semester hours. A maximum of 3 hours of pass-fail work may be applied. Students may elect a major and a minor in the same department only if there is more than one degree program in that department and if the major and minor are in two different programs of the department. Students who elect a minor and a major in the same department are cautioned that no more than 40 semester hours with the same departmental designation may be applied toward the 121 hours minimum for a B.A. degree and no more than 60 hours with the same departmental designation may be applied toward the 121 hours minimum for a B.S. degree. Students also are cautioned that completion of the major, which is required for all degrees, and completion of the minor, which is optional, may require the student to complete more than the 121 semester hours minimum required for a baccalaureate degree. Courses required for the minor may be used to fulfill other degree requirements. Successfully completed minor programs are recorded on the student's transcript.

Application for Degree

Students must apply for their degree at the beginning of the semester in which they expect to complete all degree requirements. The degree application is to be filled out on Ulink at <http://www.ulink.louisville.edu>. The degree application must be submitted by the date published for each semester in the Schedule of Courses and on Ulink. Students are strongly urged to request a preliminary degree check prior to their final semester so that possible deficiencies in degree requirements can be identified early. An appointment can be made with an advisor in the Reinhardt Academic Center.

Minimum Hours

Students pursuing a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, Bachelor of Arts in Economics, or Bachelor of Science in Economics must complete a minimum of 122-129 semester hours (depending upon degree program and major) in academic subjects and all required courses for their degree program and major. These hours exclude physical education courses numbered 100-199 and other non-academic credits (all remedial course work including Reading, English, and Math courses numbered 100 or below). Students pursuing a second bachelor's degree must be admitted to the College of Business in degree status, must earn a minimum of 30 hours beyond their last degree and fulfill all program and GPA requirements of the second degree.

Grade Point Average

Candidates for the Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, Bachelor of Arts in Economics, and the Bachelor of Science in Economics must achieve a 3.0 University GPA and a 3.0 GPA in all major courses (includes major courses that are transferred).

Senior College Hours

Fifty semester hours of required and elective courses must be completed at the senior college (300/400) level. Note that the number of the course, not the student's classification, determines whether or not a course is senior-level.

Other Stipulations

All incompletes must be removed by the end of the final semester. All tuition, fees, fines, and other charges must be paid in full prior to graduation.

College of Education & Human Development

The baccalaureate degrees offered by the College of Education and Human Development include minimum requirements for completion and graduation.

Graduation with Academic Honors

University Policy

Requirements for graduation with academic honors are determined by each academic unit. Please refer to unit information below.

College of Arts and Sciences

Baccalaureate degree students who have earned a minimum of 60 hours of degree credit in residence in the College of Arts and Sciences will be eligible for consideration to graduate with College Honors. Final determination of a student's eligibility to graduate with College Honors will be based on the student's standing upon completion of the degree.

In determining eligibility for graduation with College Honors, the College takes into consideration not only the University cumulative grade point average, but also an "expanded cumulative grade point average" which is calculated only for the purpose of determining eligibility for graduation with College Honors and only if a student's University grade point average is 3.5 or above.

The "expanded grade point average" is based on the grades in all college-level work. In the case of repeated courses, both the original grade and credit hours and the replacement grade and credit hours will be included in the calculation. Similarly, grades and credit hours excluded from the University grade point average through application of the academic bankruptcy provision will be included in determining a student's expanded grade point average. In the case of work done at other institutions, all grades and credit hours in all degree-applicable courses will be included in determining a student's expanded grade point average.

Students should consult the Director of Honors with any questions concerning eligibility and requirements for graduation with College Honors.

For a student to qualify for graduation cum laude, magna cum laude, or summa cum laude, the grade point average and the expanded grade point average must both satisfy the stated minimum requirement. The minimum grade point average requirements for graduation with College Honors are:

- Cum Laude: 3.5

- Magna Cum Laude: 3.75 with no College honors project, 3.65 with College honors project
- Summa Cum Laude: 3.75 with College honors project

To graduate summa cum laude (or magna cum laude with a 3.65-3.74 expanded grade point average), a student must have not only the requisite University and expanded grade point averages, but the student must also give evidence of scholarship and originality by submitting a research paper, or independent study report, or other independent work (college honors project).

It is essential that any student planning to complete an honors project in order to graduate magna cum laude or summa cum laude contact the Director of the College Honors Program early in the senior year with regard to verifying eligibility, and in order to learn deadlines for the proposal, the completed project, and the defense of the project.

College of Business

Candidates for the Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, Bachelor of Arts in Economics, and Bachelor of Science in Economics may receive their degree with honors, high honors, or highest honors by meeting the following criteria upon completion of their final semester. Students pursuing a double major must have the appropriate minimum GPA's in both majors to receive their degree with honors, high honors, or highest honors.

- Degree with Honors: Requires a 3.5 University GPA and a 3.5 GPA in the major.
- Degree with High Honors: Requires a 3.75 University GPA and a 3.75 GPA in the major.
- Degree with Highest Honors: Students may graduate with highest honors with or without a thesis project:
 - Without Thesis Project: requires a minimum 3.90 University GPA and a minimum 3.90 GPA in the major.
 - With Thesis Project: Requires a minimum of 3.75 University GPA and a minimum 3.75 GPA in the major at the beginning of the semester in which the student plans to graduate. The 3.75 GPA minimums must be maintained through the final semester prior to graduation. In addition, the student must write a thesis in his or her major, according to the following procedures:

1. Prior to the beginning of the student's final semester, he or she must contact the discipline Department Chair and initiate a request to be a candidate for graduation with highest honors.
2. The Chair will establish an Honors Committee of three faculty members. In consultation with the Honors Committee, the Chair will prepare a schedule of activities to help the candidate complete the thesis in a timely manner.
3. The Honors Committee will consult with the candidate and agree on a topic. The candidate will prepare the thesis according to the general requirements set up by the Honors Committee. Minimum expectations include a manuscript that strictly follows the rules of English grammar.
4. The candidate will submit the final draft of the thesis by the deadline set out in the initial schedule of activities. The Honors Committee will review the thesis on the basis of grammatical accuracy, substantive contribution, and response to the Committee's input. If the Committee chooses, it may conduct an oral examination of the candidate.
5. After reviewing the thesis, the Honors Committee will forward a positive or negative recommendation as well as a copy of the thesis to the Chair. To be acceptable, the thesis must be approved by all three members of the Honors Committee with the concurrence of the Chair. The candidate who disagrees with the Honors committee recommendation may appeal to the COB Undergraduate Studies Committee. The thesis, along with the recommendations of the Honors Committee and Chair, will be forwarded to the Associate Dean for Undergraduate Programs' office no less than three weeks before the end of the semester in which the candidate is to graduate. It will be retained there in either a public or confidential file, as designated by the candidate. The discipline advisor will also be notified of the decision as the responsible party for notifying the Registrar's Office.

In addition, the student must complete an Honors project as outlined below. In order for a student to be eligible to receive a degree with the distinction of Summa Cum Laude, the student must have the recommendation of the major department faculty indicating an outstanding level of competence in the various phases of field experience as well as in all academic work.

“Departmental standing” is defined as follows: HSS degrees – all HSS and SPAD courses; Teaching and Learning degrees – all EDTP and EDSP courses; Workforce Leadership degrees - all ELFH courses. The cumulative grade point average on credit earned at the University of Louisville only will be the grade point average used in all decisions regarding honors.

Guidelines for Graduating Summa Cum Laude

Students intending to graduate with the distinction of Summa Cum Laude must submit a proposal and present a final paper or project based on the guidelines developed by the College of Education and Human Development Honors and Scholarship Committee. The proposal must be approved by the Committee according to the following schedule:

The final project/paper must be approved by the Honors and Scholarship Committee according to the following schedule:

- May degree applicant: Prior to March 31
- August degree applicant: Prior to April 30
- December degree applicant: Prior to November 30 will be eligible for consideration to graduate with Honors. Commencement programs will list eligible students as "Candidates for Honors" based on a program grade point average of 3.5 or higher earned by the semester preceding the graduation semester. Final determination of a student's eligibility to graduate with Honors will be based on the student's standing upon confirmation of the degree. The program GPA is calculated based on grades earned in specific lower division courses and all upper division nursing courses. Criteria for Honors is as follows:

- Cum Laude: 3.50 program grade point average
- Magna Cum Laude: 3.75 program grade point average
- Summa Cum Laude: 3.90 program grade point average.

Speed School of Engineering

Students who have completed one-half of the credit hours required in their undergraduate degree program while enrolled in the Speed School of Engineering will be eligible to graduate with Honors. Eligibility for Master of Engineering degree graduate honors is based upon the grade point average for the five year degree program and not just courses taken while in Graduate Studies. Speed School has the following distinctions:

- Degree with Honors: 3.25
- Degree with High Honors: 3.50
- Degree with Highest Honors: 3.75

Incomplete Course Work

University Policy

Requirements for incomplete course work are determined by each academic unit. Please refer to unit information below.

College of Arts and Sciences

Students unable to complete course work because of conditions beyond their control, in particular because of severe illness, may be granted an "Incomplete" so that the work can be completed. The "Incomplete" was not created to prolong the available time in a semester for students who fall behind for reasons under their control. Instructors are required to demonstrate that the proper conditions were met for students receiving an "Incomplete."

Those conditions are:

- The majority of the course work was completed by the end of the semester; AND
- The performance in course work completed by the end of the semester met the published standards for a passing grade; AND
- The final portion of the course work could not be completed for reasons beyond the student's control.

Instructors' requests for documentation of the extenuating circumstances must be honored by the student.

Students must complete the course work no later than the end of the next regular semester (by the next fall if the incomplete was given in a spring or summer semester; by the spring semester of the same academic year if incompletes were given in the fall semester). Failure to complete the work by the deadline will result in an automatic change of grade from "I" to "F" unless the Dean grants an extension. If the work is completed by the deadline, the instructor will submit a change of grade from "I" to the letter grade earned. The change of grade forms will not be accepted if delivered by the student.

Note: Students with an incomplete should not register again for the course.

College of Business

"I" means incomplete. It is granted to students unable to complete the last requirements of a course because of circumstances beyond their control and given at the instructor's discretion. Students must complete the course work within 120 days, or the "I" is automatically changed to an "F". An "I" does not enter into grade point calculations until it is changed to a letter grade; however, the hours from the incomplete courses are used to determine academic standing.

Note: Students with an incomplete should not register again for the course.

College of Education & Human Development

A grade of "I" means "work in course incomplete" and carries no quality points until the incomplete is removed, at which time quality points are given according to the grade earned. Work must be completed by the end of the next semester. Otherwise the "I" becomes "F" unless an extension has been granted.

Dental Hygiene Program

The "I" grade represents insufficient information to permit proper evaluation of the student's performance. A student cannot graduate with an "I" grade. The following will determine the disposition of the "I" grade:

1. An unresolved "I" grade automatically will be changed to an "F" grade two weeks after the last day of final examinations for the subsequent term (fall or spring).
2. All conditions associated with the removal of the "I" grade must be conveyed to the student and the Associate Dean for Pre-doctoral Education in writing within ten (10) business days after the grade has been officially recorded.

Kent School of Social Work

A grade of "I" (incomplete) may be awarded as a temporary or conditional grade when students are passing a course, but for reasons beyond their control have not been able to complete a relatively small amount of the course requirements by the end of the semester. Typically an incomplete grade is only given for course work that is not completed due to extenuating circumstances. Students must apply via e-mail to their instructor for permission to take the grade of incomplete and copy the BSW Co-Directors for approval. Incompletes turn into F at the end of the following semester. Summer counts as a semester, therefore students with incompletes at the end of the Spring semester, must complete the work before the end of the summer semester to avoid an F on their transcript.

School of Music

“I” automatically becomes “F” unless removed by the end of the next semester (or after six weeks for applied study).

School of Nursing

In the event a student is unable to complete the course requirements by the end of the semester because of circumstances beyond their control, the instructor has the option to award "I" in place of the grade. "I" means work in course is Incomplete and does not enter into the grade computations until a grade is awarded or it becomes an "F". The student has until the end of the next Fall or Spring semester to complete the required course work. If the work is not completed by this deadline, the grade will automatically change to "F".

Speed School of Engineering

In reporting the grade “I”, instructors shall state the nature of the work that is lacking. The deficiency must be made up within the school’s next academic term. Failure to complete the work within this period will result in a grade of “F” being recorded against the student. When the required work is completed, the instructor will submit a grade authorization form changing the “I” to the letter grade earned. When the grade of “F” is given in any required course, the student shall repeat the course or take an approved equivalent at the first opportunity.

Internships, Cooperatives, and Independent Study

Awarding of Credit for Nontraditional Work

The College is eager to aid superior students who are capable of demonstrating competence in courses without regular class attendance and the customary participation of students during that attendance. For such students, credit may be earned in any course in this catalog through Conference Work or Extramural Examination provided that the student meets the requirements given below:

Conference Work

Conference work refers to completion of course requirements through satisfactory performance on all regularly scheduled writing assignments and examinations, including the final examination. Students enrolled for conference work are excused from regular class attendance. The requirements for conference work are: the instructor excuses the students from all participation except for the writing assignments and examinations; the waiver must be given at the beginning of the semester; the students must be enrolled for credit in the courses; the students must pay the regular fees for credit courses. Students who satisfactorily complete the requirements for conference work receive the same semester hours as though they attended the class regularly, and their grade will be determined by performance on the writing assignments and examinations.

Extramural Examinations

Extramural examinations allow students to fulfill course requirements by meeting criteria established and evaluated by a special examining committee. Extramural examinations are customarily taken by students whose work outside of college classes has given them knowledge equivalent to that of students who have completed the classes.

The requirements for extramural examination are:

- Students must first obtain the approval of the chair of the department in which they propose to earn credit through extramural examination, specifying why credit by extramural examination would be justified in their programs.

- Students must obtain an application for extramural examination from the College Advising Center and return the completed form to the Center.
- Students must pay one half the regular fees for the course.
- A faculty committee must agree to serve as examiners. The committee will consist of a regular instructor for the course, who chairs the committee, and two additional examiners, one of whom must be from outside the Division.
- Students must take both a written and an oral examination.
- Students must submit to the chair of the committee any evidence of achievement, in addition to the written and the oral examinations, which the chair requires.
- Students must be enrolled concurrently in the College for a minimum of 6 semester hours of regular course work.
- Credits earned by conference work and by extramural examination are counted in the student's regular load, which must not exceed 17 semester hours per semester. (See "Normal and Maximum Course Loads.")

Cooperative Internships

The College will award academic credit for eligible work experiences that qualify under the College's Internship Policy. To qualify for enrollment in a cooperative internship course for credit, each student is required to present:

- Either 45 credit hours, including 9 in the unit in which credit is sought, or 60 credit hours, including 6 in the unit in which credit is sought;
- A minimum grade point average of 2.5 for all coursework taken; and
- A completed Application for Enrollment in Cooperative Internship Form.
- Transfer students must have completed one full semester of work (12 hours) at the University of Louisville.

A maximum of twelve credits of Internship (including hours earned in General Studies 301) may apply toward the 121 hours required for the degree.

For information about internships, contact the chair of the department of the major.

Independent Study

Superior students may, with permission of the Departmental or Divisional Chair and the Dean, register for Independent Study in a particular department. The student must have an overall grade point average of 3.0, a grade point average of 3.5 in the department, and at least 18 semester hours' credit in that department. Independent Study consists of a minor research project conducted under the direction of a faculty member. Students obtain forms for Independent Study from the College Advising Center. The completed forms with required signatures must be turned in at registration. Credits earned through Independent Study are counted in the regular load, which must not exceed 17 credit hours per semester.

College of Business*Awarding of Credit for Non-Traditional Work*

The College of Business does not award credit for work experience, noncredit courses or internships, independent studies, or co-ops taken at another academic institution.

Correspondence Courses

The College of Business does not offer courses by correspondence, nor does it grant credit for business courses taken by correspondence. Students who wish to take correspondence courses to fulfill the Arts and Sciences requirements for their program should contact the College of Business, Reinhardt Academic Center.

Cooperative Education

Cooperative Education is an undergraduate educational program through which students get academic credit for new workplace experiences that support the educational goals of the student's academic discipline. Employers work with the College of Business to offer level-appropriate jobs that provide a continuous progression of learning for students. This mutually beneficial program moves the classroom into the community. Educators and employers structure individually appropriate practical experiences through which classroom theories are applied and students, through their work experience, explore career options and responsibilities. The COB Co-op program adds a realistic dimension to the business degrees and supports the leadership role of the University of Louisville, College of Business in the marketplace. Students who participate in the COB Co-op program are better prepared for value-added employment and success in career and professional development. Students may earn up to six (6) hours of academic credit, (maximum of 3 hours for accountancy majors) as elective and/or required courses, through the COB Co-op program, with a maximum of three (3) hours allowed in one semester. One hour of academic credit is given for each 75 hours of approved work. Students are considered full-time during a semester in which they are registered for three (3) co-op credit hours. Students register for credit during the semester in which the majority of the work takes place. Registration for COB Co-op is flexible and deadlines appropriate for each semester are posted in the COB Ulmer Career Management Center.

All majors are encouraged to plan in advance for co-op, which is typically taken during the junior and/or senior years. Co-op credit satisfies major area and/or general business elective course options according to discipline guidelines. Computer Information Systems majors register for co-op as a graduation requirement and usually work full-time for six (6) months prior to graduation. Elective credit to satisfy graduation criteria is available for up to three (3) hours in Accountancy and Management, and for up to six (6) hours in Economics, Finance, and Marketing. Consult the Degree Programs section of this catalog to determine discipline guidelines affecting COB co-op course credit.

International students must validate work authorization eligibility through the International Center prior to working with the COB Ulmer Career Management Center. Four and five year individual academic plans that include COB Co-op require student flexibility and an openness to creative scheduling, but the benefits are many.

Approved COB Co-op opportunities range from full to part-time, temporary to permanent, paid to non-paid. Students may work full-time, alternating semesters of co-op with semesters of campus academics, or accept part-time positions in order to parallel workplace and classroom experiences. Co-op evaluations are graded on a Pass/Fail basis. Employment arrangements are between students and employers while the COB provides structure, focus, guidance, and evaluation for educational components. Program requirements include the following:

- Be enrolled in good standing in the University of Louisville, College of Business.
- Maintain a 3.0 cumulative University GPA.
- Have completed prerequisite courses established by each major area of study.
- Work in positions that are approved for credit in the educational discipline of the student's major.

(These positions must be current level-appropriate experiences that can be characterized as new learning and/or new responsibilities. Credit is not given for past employment experience or continuing employment that does not offer new employment challenges.)

- Apply for COB Co-op on the Ulmer Center website: <http://business.louisville.edu/careers/>

Business minors do not have the option for co-op credit.

Conference Work

Under certain circumstances, a student may complete a course on an individual basis with an instructor. This is called a course by conference. Course by conference forms are available in the College of Education and Human Development Advising Center. Signatures of the instructor, department chairperson, and dean are required on the form. The approved course by conference form must accompany the student's registration form at the time of registration.

Independent Study

Credit may be earned by independent study with the permission of the dean, department chairperson, and instructor. Independent study forms are available in the College of Education and Human Development Advising Center. The approved independent study form must accompany the student's registration form at the time of registration.

Statement on Student Teaching/Field Experience

Placement in field experiences is contingent upon the applicant's prospects for success and upon the availability of a qualified supervisor. The faculty reserves the right to evaluate the qualifications and suitability of student applicants and the quality of the student's performance and to make placements and appropriate changes based on the recommendation of the university coordinator and/or the host school or other agency. Evaluation will be based on standards of conduct and performance established by the faculty. Students must abide by all policies, rules, and regulations of the University and the assigned school. Failure to abide by this policy may result in removal from the program.

Dental Hygiene Program

Kentucky Area Health Education Center (AHEC) Program

AHEC is a collaborative effort of the University of Louisville Health Sciences Center, the University of Kentucky Medical Center and eight regional centers. The AHECs work to improve the recruitment, distribution and retention of health care professionals (particularly in primary care) in medically underserved areas throughout the state commonwealth.

In the final semester of coursework, students spend one month in an AHEC externship which provides opportunities for the students to expand their clinical skills and apply their community knowledge through working in areas identified as being underserved. These areas include underserved urban areas as well as rural areas. The student is expected to spend approximately four days per week, with a minimum of thirty hours or a maximum of 37.5 hours in a clinical setting with the fifth day devoted to developing and providing service to the community based upon an identified and researched community oral health need.

Examples of community service projects include in-service education at nursing homes, oral hygiene programs in school systems, nutritional counseling with the prenatal population or participation in a community based screening and referral program. The receptor is asked to provide assistance in identifying and making arrangements for the community project. It is the student's responsibility to solicit that assistance and ensure that the course requirement for community service is fulfilled making use of critical thinking skills via Ideals to Action and the Paul-Elder methodology.

Clinical Rotations

Senior students participate in enriching clinical experiences on external rotations to various institutions and graduate specialty programs. They gain knowledge and experience in treating children, patients with special needs, and patients seeking care in specialties such as oral surgery, orthodontics, pediatric dentistry, periodontics, public health, and radiology.

School of Music

Students may, with permission of the Division Head and the Dean, register for Independent Study in a particular area. The student must have a grade point average of 3.0 and at least sophomore standing. Independent Study consists of a project conducted under the direction of a faculty member. Independent Study should not duplicate courses that are regularly offered. Students obtain forms for Independent Study from the School of Music Academic Counselor, to whom the completed forms with required signatures and a course syllabus must be returned at the time of registration or no later than the Friday before classes begin. Credits earned through Independent Study are counted in the regular load.

School of Nursing

Enrollment in an independent study course provides the opportunity for the student, under the supervision of a sponsoring faculty member, to pursue individualized study related to research and or nursing practice that is not included in other courses in the nursing curriculum. A title for this individualized study course will be assigned by the supervising faculty member and will appear on the student's academic record. Superior students with the permission of the Associate Dean for Undergraduate Academic Affairs may earn credit through independent study. The appropriate independent study forms are available in the School of Nursing Office of Student Services.

Speed School of Engineering

Correspondence courses

For any student enrolled in the Speed School of Engineering, a maximum of three (3) courses (10 credit hours maximum) may be taken by correspondence from an accredited institution. These courses may be only from the areas of Arts, Humanities, Social and Cultural Studies, and must fulfill all requirements stipulated for such courses. Currently enrolled students must have the permission of their department chair in order to enroll in a specific correspondence course during a particular semester. This policy also applies to students transferring into the School of Engineering.

Independent study courses

Enrollment in an independent study course provides the opportunity for the student, under the supervision of a sponsoring faculty member, to pursue individualized study related to research and/or the practice of engineering that is not included in courses in the curriculum. The student must present an approved written plan that includes the purpose, rationale, activities planned, and expected results. A title for this individualized study course will be assigned by the supervising faculty member and will appear on the student's academic record. An independent study course is not permitted to duplicate an existing lecture course. Independent study enrollments will not be included in the assigned instructional workload of faculty, because of difficulties encountered in evaluating percentage instructional effort and performance in this category.

Cooperative education

The principal purpose of the J.B. Speed School of Engineering is to give the student a thorough, well-balanced training in engineering and applied science as preparation for entry into the profession of engineering. By pursuing an integrated program of both on-campus and employment learning experiences, a student has the opportunity to observe and participate in the practice of engineering. The Engineering Office of Career Development assists each student in obtaining a suitable cooperative work assignment in business and industry or government locally, statewide, regionally, and nationally. During each co-op assignment, students work full-time and receive a salary from their employer.

Objectives of Cooperative Education

- To provide students with experience in the job search process.
- To provide an opportunity for discipline related learning experience in the work place to expand and enrich the student's academic training.
- To provide an opportunity to integrate classroom theory with workplace practice.
- To provide an opportunity for students to assess engineering as a career choice relative to their individual skills and interests.
- To encourage development of critical competencies such as communication, teamwork, and management skills.
- To enable students to develop a knowledge and understanding of engineering applications in business.
- To assist students in developing an understanding of professional and ethical responsibilities.

Engineering Cooperative Education

In order to qualify for the Bachelor of Science degree, students must successfully complete three co-ops within an area directly related to their degree specialization.

Eligibility for Co-op

Co-op eligibility is dependent upon the student's admission to an academic department, being in good standing within Speed School, and upon completion of pre- and co-requisites for the Co-op 288 Seminar. In addition, transfer students must have completed at least one semester of full-time coursework in Speed

School including the Co-op Seminar (288) before their first co-op.

Required Cooperative Education Seminar (non-credit): Students must be enrolled in Departmental Course 288 the semester preceding their first cooperative work assignment. The course description is available in this Catalog.

Student Responsibilities

- Students will alternate co-ops with semesters of full-time class work.
- Students are required to register for the co-op prior to the beginning of each work term.
- Students are expected to work the dates of co-op designated by the Engineering Career Development Office.
- In order to achieve the objectives of Cooperative Education, all co-op work terms will be conducted with the same employer.
- Students are employees of the company or organization while they are on co-op and are subject to employer rules and regulations. Students are expected to maintain the highest performance and behavioral standards while on co-op.
- If a student is terminated from cooperative employment or otherwise disciplined for any reason, it must be immediately reported by the student to the co-op coordinator. A student who is terminated for any reason other than the employer's business conditions will receive an "F" grade in co-op and, in addition, may be subject to academic sanctions as well as disciplinary action in accordance with the Code of Student Conduct.

The University is not liable for any accident or injury involving a co-op student. However, it is the responsibility of the student to see that any serious accident or injury is reported, at the earliest opportunity, to the co-op coordinator. Students are required to sign and abide by the policies and procedures set forth in the Cooperative Education Student Agreement provided in the co-op seminar.

Salary

In general, students are classified as temporary full-time employees and are paid on an hourly basis while on co-op. Pay rates vary according to employer and location.

Length of Employment

In order to be eligible to receive the Master of Engineering degree, all candidates must have completed three alternating cooperative semesters, totaling one year's duration.

Course Enrollment During Co-op

In general, academic coursework is not allowed during the co-op work period. In some instances, with approval, a student may enroll for academic coursework not exceeding four semester hours during any co-op period. Approval will be given only for academic coursework that is taken outside normal working hours (8:00 – 5:00) and which does not interfere with the co-op work assignment.

Permission to take a course must be obtained prior to the beginning of the co-op period. Request forms are available from the Engineering Office of Career Development and on the co-op website.

Evaluation and Academic Credit

Co-op students are graded on a pass/fail basis and earn two semester hours of credit for each completed co-op, for a total of six semester hours. At the conclusion of a co-op semester, each student is evaluated by the appropriate employer representative. This evaluation will assist in the development and counseling of the student and will become a permanent part of the student's file. Each student is required to submit a written report along with the employer evaluation at the end of each co-op period. The report will be reviewed by the co-op coordinator and graded by faculty in the student's major department.

Advanced Credit

Advanced credit for co-op may be awarded upon approval of the department chair, the Director of Career Development and the Dean for Academic Affairs. Students who performed full-time work of a technical nature before entering Speed School and students who have had military experience are eligible. A letter is required from the employer verifying the dates and the nature of the employment. In the case of military experience, veterans may submit a copy of their separation form in lieu of the employer's letter. Students who participate in ROTC or military summer camp may receive credit for one co-op (2 hours).

Forms for advanced credit are available from the Engineering Office of Career Development. Part-time work or work performed subsequent to entering Speed School will not qualify for advanced credit. If the work, however, was comparable to a co-op assignment and was performed during a semester in which the student was enrolled for no more than four semester hours, then the student may be eligible, upon approval, for back registration. The student must pay tuition for the two hours of credit and will be expected to fulfill normal course requirements for co-op, including submission of a co-op report and employer evaluation.

Employment Opportunities

Securing a co-op position is affected by general economic conditions and particular employer specifications. Therefore, the University cannot guarantee employment. However, every effort will be made to assist students in finding cooperative assignments appropriate to their specialization and personal preference. Students who obtain their own co-op employment must have the approval of the cooperative education coordinator and are subject to the policies and procedures stated herein and the Cooperative Education Student Agreement.

Waiver Policy

When a student experiences extreme difficulty in obtaining a suitable co-op position, that student may seek an administrative waiver from the department chair and the Director of Career Development. Waiver recipients are required to complete a minimum of three semester hours of additional courses for each cooperative period waived. The three semester hours must be in addition to courses required for the baccalaureate degree and must be approved by the department chair.

International Students Exemption

A student who holds a student visa is exempt from the mandatory cooperative education requirement. The six semester hours of co-op work experience will be replaced by six semester hours of courses approved by the department.

Graduate Career Employment

Graduating students and alumni should register with the Engineering Career Development Center for job search assistance. On-campus interviews, individual counseling, and group information sessions are conducted throughout the year.

Student Records

Privacy of Student Records

The University of Louisville hereby notifies students concerning the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974. This Act, with which the institution intends to comply fully, was designed to protect the privacy of educational records, to establish the right of students to inspect and review their education records, and to provide guidelines for the correction of inaccurate or misleading information. Students also have the right to file complaints with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act Office, Department of Education, concerning alleged failures by the institution to comply with the Act.

The University has adopted a policy which explains in detail the procedures to be used by the University for compliance with the provisions of the Act and the regulations adopted pursuant thereto. Copies of the policy and other FERPA information can be obtained from the University Archives and Records Center, Ekstrom Library, and at <http://library.louisville.edu/uarc/stupriv.htm>

Questions concerning the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act may be referred to the Director, University Archives and Records Center.

Student Information System

The Student Administration System is the electronic system which is used to register students and record their grades. It is from this system that transcripts are produced for students completing coursework at the University beginning with the 1982 fall semester.

Change of Address

Students requiring address changes during and between terms can make the adjustments on the address change form in the Registration Information newspaper and submitting the form to the Registrar's Office or via the web through ULink at <http://ulink.louisville.edu>. Under heading "Personal Information, select "home and mailing addresses", then select "edit". Students may also go directly to the Registrar's Office, Room 31, Houchens Building, and submit their new address in person. Address changes will also be accepted by calling the Registrar's Office at (502) 852-6522. Verification of student personal identification number will be required.

Drug-Free Schools and Campuses

The Drug-Free Schools and Campuses Regulations (commonly called Part 86 of EDGAR) require that higher education institutions receiving any federal funding must notify each student and employee annually of its program to prevent the illicit use of drugs and the abuse of alcohol by students and employees.

The following is the University of Louisville's Drug-Free Schools Notice:

We, at the University of Louisville, have begun programs in the past few years to combat the misuse and abuse of alcohol and other chemical substances. We realize, however, that only through a concerted effort by all, can we make any major strides in preventing substance abuse.

Drug-Free Schools Notice

As required by the Federal Drug Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989, you are hereby notified by the University of Louisville that on University premises or at University sponsored activities, the following acts are prohibited:

(i) distribution, possession, or use of any illegal drug or controlled substance without legal authorization;

(ii) providing alcoholic beverages to individuals under 21 years of age, or possession of alcoholic beverages by individuals under 21 years of age; or

(iii) illegal possession of an open container of an alcoholic beverage, public intoxication, driving while intoxicated, and drinking alcoholic beverages in an unlicensed public place.

In addition to imposition of disciplinary sanctions under University procedures including suspension or separation from the University for such acts, students or employees may face prosecution and imprisonment under Federal and Kentucky laws which make such acts felony and misdemeanor crimes.

The Code of Student Conduct lists details of offenses and disciplines for students. Staff may be disciplined under Section 1 1.1 of the Staff Handbook. Faculty may be disciplined by Deans per Redbook Sections 4.5.3 or 3.2.2 with review per 4.4 for sanctions less than dismissal or suspension for one year.

The health risks associated with the misuse and abuse of mind altering drugs, including controlled substances and alcohol, include but are not limited to: physical and psychological dependence; damage to the brain, pancreas, kidneys and lungs; high blood pressure, heart attacks, and strokes; ulcers; birth defects; a diminished immune system; and death. The Counseling Center and Student Health Services provide assessment and referral services to University students, as well as serving as an alcohol and other drug information/education resources center. For further information, call 852-6585. Services for faculty and staff are available through the Faculty/Staff Assistance Program. For further information, call (502) 852-6543.

Codes of Student Conduct, Rights, and Responsibilities

Student Advocate

The student advocate maintains confidential contacts with students, institutional officers, faculty and staff to offer informal, alternative means to resolve student complaints; to provide a "one-stop" contact for students who need advice and support in navigating through institutional policies, procedures and bureaucracy; and to negotiate institutional barriers so that students can be successful in school. The student advocate investigates and takes action for a timely resolution of complaints brought by students. The student advocate familiarizes students with unit policies and procedures in compliance with FERPA in order to improve student retention.

The student advocate works closely and cooperatively with student affairs offices, academic units, staff and faculty to maintain open lines of communication to promote available student services to students.

Questions and concern may be addressed by e-mail to advocate@louisville.edu or by phone to (502) 852-8113.

Code of Student Conduct

The University's Code of Student Conduct is the University's policy regarding non-academic discipline of students. Academic misconduct is not covered by this Code, but rather falls within the jurisdiction of the individual academic units of the University. The primary purpose for the imposition of non-academic discipline in the university setting is to protect and preserve a quality educational environment in the campus community. The Board of Trustees has the authority to modify the Code of Student Conduct.

The Code is set forth in writing in order to give students general notice of non-academic prohibited conduct. This Code is on the web at <http://louisville.edu/dos/policies-and-procedures/code-of-student-conduct.html> or contact the Dean of Students Office, SAC W301.

Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities

Section 1. Purpose

The Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities is set forth in writing in order to give students general notice of certain of their rights and responsibilities at the University of Louisville. Further rights and responsibilities are set forth in other University rules and policies, including the Code of Student Conduct, Residence Hall contracts, and academic unit bulletins. It is the students' responsibility to be aware of all University rules and policies; students should check with the Dean of Students Office and with their academic units if they have any questions about the purposes or intent of these policies.

The University is a public educational institution for adults rather than a custodial institution. Consistent with the role of the University to educate its students and to stimulate student autonomy and independence, University regulation and supervision of student life on and off campus is limited. The University does not assume responsibility or liability for the conduct of its students; responsibility and liability for student conduct rests with the student as inherent attributes of his or her adult status, concurrently with the student's freedom of choice regarding his or her presence at the University and his or her own conduct and associations.

Section 2. Definitions

D. A student has the right: 1. to be informed in reasonable detail at the first or second class meeting about the nature of the course and to expect the course to correspond generally to its description in the appropriate University catalog or bulletin; 2. to be informed in writing and in reasonable detail at the first or second class meeting of course requirements and assignments; 3. to be informed in writing and in reasonable detail at the first or second class meeting of standards and methods used in evaluating the student's academic performance; 4. to be informed in writing Of any necessary changes in assignments, requirements, or methods of grading during the semester with the reasons for such changes.

Disclosures of a student's personal or political beliefs, expressed in writing or in private conversation, shall not be made public without explicit permission of the student. Charges of violations of these classroom rights and responsibilities shall be handled through the appropriate academic unit level procedures.

Section 5. Academic Dishonesty

Academic dishonesty is prohibited at the University of Louisville. It is a serious offense because it diminishes the quality of scholarship, makes accurate evaluation of student progress impossible, and defrauds those in society who must ultimately depend upon the knowledge and integrity of the institution and its students and faculty. Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, the following:

A. Cheating:

1. Using or attempting to use books, notes, study aids, calculators, or any other documents, devices, or information in any academic exercise without prior authorization by the teacher.
2. Copying or attempting to copy from another person's paper, report, laboratory work, computer program, or other work material in any academic exercise.
3. Procuring or using tests or examinations, or any other information regarding the content of a test or examination, before the scheduled exercise without prior authorization by the teacher.
4. Unauthorized communication during any academic exercise.
5. Discussing the contents of tests or examinations with students who have not yet taken the tests or examinations if the instructor has forbidden such discussion.
6. Sending a substitute to take one's examination, test, or quiz, or to perform one's field or laboratory work; acting as a substitute for another student at any examination, test, or quiz, or at a field or laboratory work assignment.
7. Conducting research or preparing work for another student, or allowing others to conduct one's research or prepare one's work, without prior authorization by the teacher. Except when otherwise explicitly stated by the teacher, examination questions shall become public after they have been given.

B. Fabrication:

Inventing or making up data, research results, information, or procedures, such as:

1. Inventing or making up data, research results, information, or procedures.
2. Inventing a record of any portion thereof regarding internship, clinical, or practicum experience.

C. Falsification:

Altering or falsifying information, such as:

1. Changing grade reports or other academic records.
2. Altering the record of experimental procedures, data, or results.
3. Altering the record of or reporting false information about internship, clinical, or practicum experiences.
4. Forging someone's signature or identification on an academic record.
5. Altering a returned examination paper in order to claim that the examination was graded erroneously.
6. Falsely citing a source of information.

D. Multiple Submission:

The submission of substantial portions of the same academic work, including oral reports, for credit more than once without prior authorization by the teacher involved.

E. Plagiarism:

Representing the words or ideas of someone else as one's own in any academic exercise, such as:

1. Submitting as one's own a paper written by another person or by a commercial "ghost writing" service,

2. Exactly reproducing someone else's words without identifying the words with quotation marks or by appropriate indentation, or without properly citing the quotation in a footnote or reference.
3. Paraphrasing or summarizing someone else's work without acknowledging the source with a footnote or reference.
4. Using facts, data, graphs, charts, or other information without acknowledging the source with a footnote or reference. Borrowed facts or information obtained in one's research or reading must be acknowledged unless they are "common knowledge". Clear examples of "common knowledge" include the names of leaders of prominent nations, basic scientific laws, and the meaning of fundamental concepts and principles in a discipline. The specific audience for which a paper is written may determine what can be viewed as "Common knowledge": for example, the facts commonly known by a group of chemists will differ radically from those known by a more general audience. Students should check with their teachers regarding what can be viewed as "common knowledge" within a specific field or assignment, but often the student will have to make the final judgment. When in doubt, footnotes or references should be used.

F. Complicity in Academic Dishonesty: Helping or attempting to commit an academically dishonest act. The academic units may have additional guidelines regarding academic dishonesty. It is the student's responsibility to check with their teachers and academic units to obtain those guidelines.

Section 6. Discipline Procedures for Academic Dishonesty

Charges of academic dishonesty shall be handled through the appropriate academic unit level procedures. An academic unit that determines that a student is guilty of academic dishonesty may impose any academic punishment on the student that it sees fit, including suspension or expulsion from the academic unit. A student has no right to appeal the final decision of an academic unit. However, a student who believes that he or she has been treated unfairly, has been discriminated against, or has had his or her rights abridged by the academic unit may file a grievance with the Unit Academic Grievance Committee, pursuant to the provisions of the Student Academic Grievance Procedure; the Unit Academic Grievance Committee may not substitute its judgment on the merits for the judgment of the academic unit. An academic unit that suspends or expels a student from the academic unit because the student has been found guilty of academic dishonesty may recommend to the University Provost in writing that the student also be suspended or expelled from all other programs and academic units of the University. Within four weeks of receiving such a recommendation, the Provost shall issue a written decision.

Neither the student nor the academic unit shall have the right to appeal the Provost's decision. However, a student who believes that he or she has been treated unfairly, has been discriminated against, or has had his or her rights abridged by the issuance of a decision by the Provost may file a grievance with the University Student Grievance Committee, pursuant to the provisions of the Student Academic Grievance Procedure; the University Student Academic Grievance Committee may not substitute its judgment on the merits for the judgment of the Provost.

Section 7. Campus Expression

- B. Students may picket or demonstrate for a cause, subject to the following conditions:
1. The students must act in an orderly and peaceful manner.

assigned, to regulate time and use, and to insure proper maintenance.

B. Preference may be given to programs designed for audiences consisting primarily of members of the University community.

C. Allocation of space shall be made based on priority of requests and the demonstrated needs of the organization.

D. Charges may be imposed for any unusual costs for use of facilities.

F. The organization requesting space must inform the University of the general purpose of any meeting open to persons other than members and the names of outside speakers.

Section 10. Use of University Name and Insignia

4. to inspect the facility as deemed necessary by the University.

Section 13. Campus Organizations

Affiliation with an extramural organization shall not, in itself, disqualify the University branch or chapter from University privileges. A group shall become a formally recognized organization through procedures established by the Student Government Association, upon approval of the Vice President for Student Affairs.

A. Groups of a continuing nature must institute proceedings for formal recognition if they are to receive benefits from the University.

B. Recognition of an organization by the University infers neither approval nor disapproval of the aims, objectives, and policies of the organization, nor liability for the actions of the organization.

C. Membership in all University related organizations shall be open to any member of the University community who is willing to subscribe to the stated aims and meet the stated obligations of the organization, provided such aims and obligations are lawful.

D. Membership lists are confidential and solely for the use of the organization, except

Plagiarism Prevention

Instructors may use a range of strategies (including plagiarism-prevention software at the university) to compare student works with private and public information resources in order to identify possible plagiarism and academic dishonesty. Comparisons of student works may require submitting a copy of the original work to the plagiarism-prevention service. The service may retain that copy in some circumstances. Academic units or programs may establish a more rigorous standard of review or consent, which will be noted in the relevant guidelines.

Awarding of Credit through Placement Exams

University Policy

Advanced Placement Examinations of The College Board

In accordance with Kentucky Senate Bill 74, the University of Louisville awards credit for scores of 3 on all Advanced Placement Examinations of the College Board. A higher score may be required to receive credit for specific courses within certain disciplines. Elective credit will be awarded for Advanced Placement Examinations not listed or for scores of 3 when a higher score is required for specific course credit. Scores should be submitted to the Office of Admissions as soon as they are available.

Advanced placement scores and course equivalencies are available from the Office of Admissions.

College Level Examination Program of The College Board

The University awards credit on the basis of the College Level Examination Program (CLEP) administered by The College Board. CLEP examinations may be taken at any national test center, including the University of Louisville Testing Service. Prior arrangements with the testing center must be made, and there is a fee for the general examination and for each subject examination. A CLEP Bulletin of Information for candidates may be obtained from most testing centers, or by writing the following address: CLEP, Box 1821, Princeton, New Jersey 08540.

Scores obtained should be sent to the Office of Admissions. Areas of study, the amount of credit allowed, and minimum scores are determined by the Office of Admissions. Credit earned through CLEP does not count as credit earned in residence at the University of Louisville.

International Baccalaureate

The University awards academic credit to entering freshmen who have completed the International Baccalaureate (IB) Program. Credit will be awarded for certain IB Higher Level examinations completed with a score of 5 or higher, up to a maximum of 24 semester hours. There is no provision for awarding of credit for IB Standard Level examinations.

Scores and course equivalencies are available from the Office of Admissions.

Foreign Language Advanced Standing

Students who wish to continue the study of a foreign language begun in high school must take placement examinations in order to be placed at the appropriate level. To receive university credit for language study completed at the high school level, the placement examination is required before attempting university language study.

The placement exam is administered via the Internet, and can be completed at the Department of Classical and Modern Languages website.

The placement tests may not be used to earn credit if the student already has received college or university level credit in that language elsewhere or has enrolled in a course in that language at this university.

When a student places into a course higher than 121, credit toward graduation will be awarded for those elementary or intermediate courses by-passed only if the student completes successfully the language class into which she/he is placed. A student placing in the 300 level will receive 12 hours of "pass" credit for 121, 122, 123, or 221 (depending on the language) upon successful completion of a 300-level class in the language. (Eighteen hours of credit by placement are available in Spanish for students who test into 321, 322, or 355.) Any credit earned by placement testing will be posted on the student's record only after completion of a regular semester of full-time study (or 12 semester hours) at the University of Louisville. Students should not enroll for credit in a course they have successfully bypassed through examination.

A student who has earned college credit for work done in high school may choose whether to use that credit OR the credit earned through the placement examination program described above. These regulations also apply to Metroversity students.

For foreign students whose previous academic work has been in a language other than English, the foreign language requirement for graduation will be waived automatically. No credit will be granted for 100- or 200-level language courses to any student for whom this is the native language. Students may obtain credit for courses in linguistics, culture, or literature numbered 300 or above in their native language by extramural examination or by taking the courses.

For information about placement examinations in American Sign Language, contact the coordinator of the Interpreter Training Program, 300 Robbins Hall, (502) 852-4607.

Registration Policy

University Policy

Continuing Registration

Currently enrolled students are expected to register for the upcoming semester or term during the current semester by participating in continuing registration. During this period, students generally have a better chance of getting the courses they want at the desired time periods. The Registration Information newspaper and web have instructions for advising and registering via the web.

Open Registration

Students who do not participate in Continuing Registration may register by web in the days immediately preceding the start of the semester. Students should consult the appropriate unit section for procedures for students wishing to register in this fashion. A late payment fee of $50.00 may be assessed when student accounts are not financially settled by the end of the first week of classes.

E-Mail Notification

The university will use the e-mail system to remind students of some academic and financial deadlines as well as notification of cancelled courses. Please plan to check your campus e-mail account regularly, especially the week prior to the beginning of classes and the first several weeks of each semester.

Metroversity Registration

Kentuckiana Metroversity Inc. is a cooperative effort of seven institutions: Bellarmine University, Indiana University Southeast, Jefferson Community & Technical Colleges, Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Spalding University, and the University of Louisville. A full-time student at any one of these schools enjoys the opportunity of cross-registration, double-degree programs, library privileges, innovative off-campus experiences, and extracurricular activities on the other campuses of the consortium. Full-time University of Louisville students wishing to take courses at another Metroversity school should consult their academic advisor in the unit in which they are enrolled, as well as the Registrar's Office, to ensure proper enrollment and recording of courses. Cross registration is permitted on a space available basis at the discretion of the member institutions.

Additional Unit Policies

College of Arts and Sciences

Concurrent registration in another institution

Students matriculated in the College of Arts and Sciences who wish to enroll in courses at another institution must obtain permission from this College. Such students should contact the Arts and Sciences Advising Center for that permission.

If the student wishes to enroll concurrently in this College and at another college or university, he or she must report all attendance to the Registrar's Office at the time of registration. The combined program of work in all institutions may not exceed the maximum course load permitted for students in the College.

Failure to fulfill these regulations may result in loss of credit from this College or in ineligibility to transfer the credits from the other schools toward the requirements for graduation from this College.

College of Business

Concurrent registration in another institution

Students in a degree-seeking status in the College of Business who wish to enroll in courses at another institution while also enrolled in the COB must obtain permission from the COB Reinhardt Academic Center, Room 024. Upon completion of the concurrently enrolled semester students must report all attendance to the Registrar's Office at the time of the next registration. The combined program of work in all institutions may not exceed the maximum course load permitted for students in the COB.

Failure to fulfill these regulations may result in loss of credit from the COB or in ineligibility to transfer the credits from the other schools toward the requirements for graduation from the COB.

College of Education and Human Development

Concurrent registration in another institution

If a student in the College of Education and Human Development is also registered for courses in another school of the University or elsewhere, the combined program must not exceed 18 semester hours. Students who carry such additional work outside of this school must secure permission of the deans in both schools and must report the fact and the amount so carried to the registrar during the time for registration. Violation of this regulation may lead to loss of credit for the semester.

Undergraduates taking graduate courses

Courses at the 600 level are ordinarily open only to graduate students. With the advisor's approval and special permission of the undergraduate dean, the graduate dean, and the instructor, seniors in their final semester may enter 600-level graduate courses. A "Permission to Enter Graduate Level Courses" form, available in the Dean's Office, must be used for this procedure. When such courses replace courses in the undergraduate curriculum, they cannot be used for subsequent graduate credit. If such course work is beyond the total requirements for the baccalaureate degree, it can be considered for subsequent graduate credit upon the student's admission to the Graduate School.

Dental Hygiene Program

Admitted Upper Division Level Dental Hygiene students obtain their schedule of required courses from the Dental Hygiene Program and the Office of Student Affairs in the School of Dentistry.

For the Bachelor of Science in Dental Hygiene degree, thirty (30) of the last thirty-six (36) semester credit hours must be completed at the University of Louisville School of Dentistry.

Concurrent registration in another institution

A student may choose to complete a nonprofessional course in another institution. Specific permission must be given to take a professional course at another institution and must be granted prior to the student enrolling in the professional course at another institution. A student may enroll in another institution through Metroversity on a concurrent basis and/or a student may enroll as a visiting student.

Students should consult a dental hygiene advisor to determine whether specific Metroversity courses that interest them will meet this School's requirements.

School of Nursing

Concurrent registration in another institution

If a student in the School of Nursing is also registered for courses in another school of the University or elsewhere, the combined program must not exceed 17 hours. Students who carry such additional work outside of this school must secure permission of the deans in both schools and must report the fact and the amount so carried to the registrar during the time for registration. Violation of this regulation may lead to loss of credit for the semester.

Permission to enroll in a course

In order to enroll in a course for which prerequisites have not been met, the student must secure permission from the course/clinical faculty. A petition to the Undergraduate Admissions, Progression, Graduation Sub-Committee may be required.

Speed School of Engineering

Concurrent registration in another institution

Students in the College of Engineering who wish to enroll in a course or courses at another institution must obtain prior permission. Such students should contact the Associate Dean of Academics for that permission.

Undergraduates taking graduate courses

Undergraduate students who are within 6 semester hours of completing baccalaureate requirements may register in 600-level graduate courses, with the permission of the instructor and the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. It is understood that such courses will replace courses in the normal undergraduate curriculum and therefore cannot be used for subsequent graduate credit.

Subsequent graduate credit can be obtained only if these courses have not been used to satisfy part of baccalaureate requirements, and if the recommendation of the chairman of the department involved and the approval of the Associate Dean are obtained.

Residency Status

University Policy

Students earning baccalaureate degrees are required to complete 30 of their last 36 semester hours at the University of Louisville. Students earning associate degrees are required to complete a minimum of 15 of their last 18 semester hours at the University of Louisville. Individual academic units may have more stringent residency requirements. Please refer to unit information below.

Additional Unit Policies

Academic Unit Information

About the College

A college of arts and sciences is central to the fulfillment of the purposes of higher education. Undergraduate study in a liberal arts college is designed to develop the whole person through the free inquiry that trains the mind for critical analysis and aesthetic appreciation. A liberal education begins with introductory studies in the natural sciences, social sciences, and humanities; its end is the development of the intellect to its full potential. Liberal education is a lifelong endeavor, and the goal of a college of arts and sciences is to ensure that the opportunities exist for a substantial beginning to this process.

The College of Arts and Sciences of the University of Louisville is founded on these traditional principles, interwoven with the special role of an urban university. As the college which offers the most comprehensive undergraduate programs and selected graduate programs, the College of Arts and Sciences has an integral role in the fulfillment of the University mission by integrating urban-related courses within the foundation of a liberal education.

The theoretical and practical knowledge in the College's baccalaureate programs is generally regarded as excellent preparation for many careers that do not require professional or advanced degrees and is the academic foundation for most students who enter master's and doctoral graduate programs. The College provides the liberal arts academic base for students who later attend the professional schools. In addition to the undergraduate curriculum, most departments in the College offer programs leading to the master's degree and ten departments offer doctoral degrees.

A university is expected to advance the theories and application of knowledge. This expectation is fulfilled primarily by the creative research of its faculty. This creativity is related directly to the role of teacher, for it ensures that the College's students learn from enthusiastic and excellent faculty members who advocate the principle of lifelong inquiry.

The College's allegiance to the traditions of a liberal education does not end with the preservation of its history or its traditional programs. The vitality of the College is found in its continuing re-examination of itself, and in its willingness to change when change would further the welfare of its students, its faculty, and its community.

Structure

The College of Arts and Sciences has a Division of Humanities, a Division of Natural Sciences, and a Division of Social Sciences. These Divisions represent the disciplines which collectively make up the liberal arts and sciences. Each Division contains departments which offer programs in specific disciplines. In addition to these departments, the College has a number of interdisciplinary programs which involve faculty and coursework from several disciplines.

Most departments, and some programs, offer curricula leading to baccalaureate degrees. Most of the departments also offer the master's degree, and the Departments of Biology, Chemistry, English, Fine Arts, Humanities, Mathematics, Physics, Psychology, Sociology, and Urban and Public Affairs offer the Ph.D. The Department of Theatre Arts offers a Master of Fine Arts degree.

The departments of the college appear in Table 1.

College Programmatic Requirements

The following section states the University and College requirements which, when combined with the requirements of the selected major, constitute a complete degree program. The specific requirements for the major are given in the degree program section of this catalog. It is essential that students seeking a degree understand all of the requirements for that degree. The minimum number of hours required for a bachelor's degree in the College of Arts and Sciences is 121; some programs may require additional hours.

General Education Requirements

Each student in the University must complete requirements in general education, the purpose of which is to ensure breadth of study during the undergraduate work. For specific General Education Requirements and a list of the courses which fulfill them, see the General Information section of this catalog. Academic Bankruptcy & Forgiveness & Fresh Start

Academic Bankruptcy and Forgiveness policies allow students who are returning to college after an absence of two or more years to request the adjustment of their records for one or more entire semesters of previous college work, provided certain criteria are met. View information on Academic Bankruptcy and Forgiveness and the new Fresh Start policy.

Student Discipline and Grievance Policies

Responsibilities of the Student

It is the student's responsibility to read the catalog and official announcements, to be informed about his/her own grades, credits, degree requirements, and quality points, and to abide by the regulations of the University and the College.

Official Notices

All students must respond to official notices issued by administrative officers and instructors, whether these notices be posted on official bulletin boards or sent through the mail. Failure to comply with this regulation may lead to suspension from the College.

Academic Grievance Procedure

The College of Arts and Sciences follows the procedures for academic grievance as stated in this catalog and as published in The Redbook, Chapter 6, Article 8. Any student considering filing such a grievance must consult with the Arts and Sciences Advising Center for advice and information.

Statement of Academic Discipline

In accordance with The Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities academic dishonesty is prohibited at the University of Louisville. Although cheating and plagiarism have never constituted a major problem, both faculty and students thought it important to express clearly, in advance, the standards to which the College adheres. The Statement of Academic Discipline printed below is the result of their effort and serves as the official statement for the College.

Questions which do arise are reviewed by a joint student-faculty committee, which advises the student and faculty concerned. Rights of the student to review and appeal are scrupulously observed, and minutes of all meetings are confidential.

I. Introduction

As members of the academic community, both students and faculty are expected to recognize and to uphold standards of intellectual integrity. The College assumes as a minimum standard of conduct in academic matters that the student is honest; credit for courses is given and received on the assumption and condition that all work submitted represents the student's own efforts.

Unfortunately, cheating and plagiarism do occur. The pressure for grades is often great, and opportunities for dishonesty exist. Nevertheless, both the ideals of scholarship and the need for practices which are fair to all students demand that all dishonest work be rejected as a basis for academic credit. The definitions and guidelines given below are intended to clarify the standards by which academic work is to be measured.

II. Definitions

Cheating on examinations consists of any of the following: 1) borrowing someone's answers; 2) providing answers to someone; 3) using unauthorized materials during the examinations.

Except when otherwise explicitly stated by the instructor, examination questions shall become public property after they have been given.

Plagiarism, in submitting individual work for academic evaluation, means simply to borrow someone's ideas without citing the source, and to use them as one's own. It is a particular type of cheating. Plagiarism in this sense is not limited to the use of direct quotations without citation; a paraphrase is indebted to the author's ideas just as a direct quotation is. Nor is plagiarism limited to the use of published materials; borrowing from the written or oral work of others without citation is equally dishonest. On the other hand, in every area of learning there is a body of knowledge which belongs to the public domain. Guidance and experience may be necessary in order to distinguish where the requirement to cite a source no longer applies. The instructor or perhaps a style manual may be helpful in resolving questions about what should be cited.

III. Guidelines for Instructors

Instructors have at least two roles to play in maintaining proper standards of academic conduct: to assist their students in recognizing the way in which general standards apply in the context of a particular course or discipline, and to take practical steps to prevent cheating and detect it when it occurs. Specific guidelines, several of them obvious, should be followed:

- That instructors take the time to inform students of the standards of conduct expected of them with regard to assignments and examinations.
- That practical measures be taken to minimize opportunities for dishonesty; e.g., adequate proctoring, the use of alternate forms of an examination if seating is crowded.
- The practice of giving identical examinations to different classes, whether separated in time by ten minutes or by a semester, invites cheating. When there are good reasons for such repetition, appropriate security precautions should be taken.
- The repeated assignment of the same material for papers or homework invites plagiarism. When assignments are repeated, students should be informed that the unauthorized reliance on earlier papers is forbidden and that the instructor has effective means of detecting same.
- That the instructor specify with regard to assignments the degree to which students may confer and cooperate in achieving answers.
- The College does not operate on an honor system. If within a particular class an instructor wishes to institute such a system, the students should be clearly informed of their responsibilities.

IV. Guidelines for Students

Recognizing his/her responsibility as a member of the academic community, the student should strive to maintain intrinsically honest academic conduct. The student must seek to avoid any action which would compromise academic integrity. To ensure both the fact and the appearance of proper conduct, the student should follow these basic guidelines:

- During examinations, the student must be careful to do nothing that can be construed as cheating. The student shall follow carefully all directions given by the instructor with regard to taking tests and completing assignments.
- The instructor's request to keep test questions private shall be honored by the student.
- If the student is aware of practices by the instructor which are conducive to cheating, or of acts of cheating by students, he/she may convey this information either to any member of the student-faculty review committee (see section "V. Procedures") or directly to the instructor.
- Learning the proper methods of documentation and scholarship is also the student's responsibility. Such knowledge will help avoid committing plagiarism unwittingly.

V. Procedures

As evidence of the seriousness with which the College regards these matters, a student-faculty review committee, the Committee on Academic Discipline, has been established to assist in dealing with violators. The Committee on Academic Discipline exists also to protect the student's right to a fair and impartial hearing. To ensure its effectiveness, the faculty should view it as the primary channel through which such problems can be resolved. The faculty member who believes a problem of cheating or plagiarism exists should first confront the student or students involved and attempt to resolve the matter. A report of the facts of the case and any decision which was made should be sent by the professor to the Dean or the committee. During this initial encounter the faculty member should inform the student of his/her right to appeal an unfavorable decision to the committee. This committee is comprised of three students, selected by a nominating committee of the Student Council; three faculty members, representing the three divisions of the College, elected by the faculty; and the Dean of the College, ex officio. The committee shall select its own chair. The committee can be convened by notifying either the Dean or the chair that there is a case.

Written statements shall be made by both parties and made available to both parties and the committee prior to any oral testimony. Any refutations may be made in writing or orally at the hearing. Evidence not submitted in the original written statements will not normally be accepted at the oral hearing.

All evidence in writing before the committee in a case shall be available to the principals. The committee shall hear such cases as come before it and allow the student to speak on his or her own behalf and to present evidence and witnesses. Further, the burden of proof rests with the person making the charge.

The committee is given the responsibility of recommending the penalties for the violator, and such penalties shall be commensurate with both the nature and the seriousness of the case in question. Typically, for the first offense of cheating or plagiarism, failure in the course will be recommended; of course, the instructor retains his/her right to assign the grade. Any subsequent offense may result in a recommendation to the Dean to suspend or dismiss the individual from the College. All final actions taken by the Dean that result from committee recommendations shall be entered in the student's record.

The committee may adopt additional principles or procedures as seem appropriate. Such changes, however, should be presented to the faculty for approval.

Any student who believes the processing or final disposition of a charge of academic dishonesty was unfair may initiate a grievance under the Academic Grievance Procedure as outlined in this catalog.

Code of Faculty Responsibilities*1.0 Applicability*

Academic Unit Information

This code shall apply to all faculty members associated with the College of Arts and Sciences of the University of Louisville and to all graduate students and other personnel having teaching or research assignments in that school, hereinafter referred to as the teaching and research personnel.

2.0 Responsibilities

The teaching and research personnel of the College of Arts and Sciences hereby subscribe to the following specific responsibilities:

2.1 General Relations

2.11. The teaching and research personnel shall respect the rights of all members of the University community to pursue their academic and administrative activities, provided these activities do not contravene academic freedom. They retain the right to criticize and seek revision of these activities.

2.12. They shall respect the rights of all members of the University community to free and orderly expression.

2.13. They shall respect the right of any member of the University community to privacy and confidentiality. This right guarantees freedom against violation without consent of assigned physical premises, such as carrels and office space; and also against nonphysical transgressions, such as the unwarranted, improper or false disclosure of a person's political, religious or social views or activities.

2.14. They shall respect the student's right of confidentiality regarding grades.

2.15. They shall respect the rights of all persons of the University community to be free from sexual harassment.*

2.2 Student Relations

2.21. The teaching and research personnel shall uphold the student academic rights as set forth in the Student Bill of Rights adopted by the College on March 1, 1971.

2.22. They shall make known, in writing, as soon as possible during the first week of instruction, their expectations for the course as to assignments, methods of evaluation, and student course participation.

College of Arts & Sciences

2.23. They shall present the subject matter of a course as published in the catalog, and shall avoid the persistent intrusion of material which has no relation to the subject.

2.24. They shall meet classes as scheduled in accordance with university regulations. Absences caused by illness, emergencies, personal responsibilities, or religious observances are excusable but must be reported to the Department Chair, in advance, if possible. Absences owing to professional obligations such as attendance at scholarly meetings or occasional professional service are excusable absences which nevertheless require prior notification of the Department Chair. In the case of anticipated absences, a qualified substitute, or provisions for additional assignments or alternate activity should be arranged.

2.25. They shall make themselves available for advising students by observing posted office hours, and by allowing students to arrange for appointments at other mutually convenient times.

2.26. They shall learn the academic requirements and various degree programs of the University affecting students whom they advise.

2.27. They shall arrange for appropriate interaction and communication with graduate students in the direction of their theses.

2.28. They shall provide students with an evaluation of their completed work within a reasonable period of time, and allow them access to their own papers, quizzes, and examinations.

2.29. They shall give final examinations, when these are required as part of the evaluation of the student, in accordance with schedules and procedures adopted by the College.

2.30. They shall give due acknowledgement to students who contribute to faculty efforts toward professional or personal advancement.

2.31. They shall respect the student's right to decline participation as a research subject in, or to withdraw from, a particular experiment without prejudice to his/her grade. Alternate experiences or exercises shall be provided to assure the equivalent in educational value to those students who wish not to participate as research subjects. Departments which use human subjects in experiments shall adhere to such code of ethics as are established within their respective professions.

Specifically:

2.31.1. Experimenters shall inform human subjects about the nature of each particular experiment so that they can make an informed choice to participate or not.

2.31.2. Experimenters shall keep the results of an experiment and the identity of the human subjects, who participate in it, separate, and the latter, confidential.

2.32. Teaching and research personnel shall respect the rights of all students to be free from sexual harassment.*

* Sexual harassment is here used as defined by current University policy.

About the College

Each year we serve approximately 1700 undergraduate students and 300 graduate students with more than 80 full-time faculty. We are nationally recognized as a metropolitan research institution and the leading entrepreneurial business college in the region. Our graduate and undergraduate programs for entrepreneurs are ranked in the TOP 20 nationally. These are the highest national ranking ever earned by academic programs at the University of Louisville. Overall, the College ranks in the top 7% of all business colleges nationally.

Please see our Points of Progress for a complete listing of our ratings and noteworthy achievements.

The College of Business was founded in 1953. Our business degree programs are accredited by AACSB International - The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business. Our accountancy program is one of a select group with additional AACSB accreditation, and our European MBA is accredited by the Foundation for International Business Administration Accreditation (FIBAA). The College of Business is also home to the only accredited equine business program in the world. Louisville is a great place to study business, because it's where most business in Kentucky happens. Our students, graduates and faculty interact with businesses in Louisville, elsewhere in Kentucky and the U.S., as well as in Europe, Asia Pacific and Central America--three regions where we have graduates. Our Louisville campus includes students from more than 100 countries, almost all 50 states and all 120 Kentucky counties.

We educate future corporate, public and non-profit sector leaders, and entrepreneurs determined to start their own business or help re-invent an existing corporation. Many of our graduates stay in this region and help it prosper; others are spread across the nation and the world.

Our students have access to a great variety of grants, scholarships and financial aid, including scholarships for international travel.

To enhance teaching and learning, our students and faculty also have access to some of the most sophisticated university-based telecommunications and computer information systems.

The modern, well-furnished College of Business building is located on UofL's Belknap Campus near the downtown business district. It houses comfortable, technologically advanced classrooms, a large auditorium, a variety of attractive meeting rooms and advising services, including the Ulmer Career Management Center, whose advanced career services are available to College of Business students and alumni for life.

Academic Bankruptcy & Forgiveness & Fresh Start

Academic Bankruptcy and Forgiveness policies allow students who are returning to college after an absence of two or more years to request the adjustment of their records for one or more entire semesters of previous college work, provided certain criteria are met. View information on Academic Bankruptcy and Forgiveness and the new Fresh Start policy.

Student Academic Rights and Responsibilities

Every student is expected to be thoroughly familiar with the University's Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities and Student Conduct, which can be found in the "General Information" section of this catalog.

Every student is responsible for reading the academic policies in the Undergraduate Catalog and official announcements of the College of Business and for abiding by such regulations. Specifically, every student is responsible for knowing the grade point averages and program requirements needed for graduation. Students are encouraged to see a COB academic advisor to clarify any questions or concerns.

Along with preparing for and attending class, each student has the responsibility to promote high academic standards. Students are expected to cooperate in all classes with faculty members to achieve an optimal learning environment.

Inappropriate classroom behavior may result in the student being withdrawn from the course, and potentially assigned academic penalties. Inappropriate classroom behavior will be dealt with in the same manner as academic dishonesty.

The COB will not tolerate academic dishonesty. The COB has a strong policy of academic discipline for action against students who commit academic dishonesty or conduct themselves inappropriately in the classroom. A proven case of academic dishonesty will normally result in the student being denied admission to or dismissed from the COB.

Academic dishonesty is defined by the Code of Student Conduct in the Undergraduate Catalog. Its definition pertains to but is not limited to cheating, fabrication, falsification, multiple submission, plagiarism, and complicity. It is the student's responsibility to maintain high standards of ethical conduct, and intellectual integrity and to be familiar with the definition of academic dishonesty.

As evidence of the seriousness with which the COB regards these matters, academic dishonesty allegations are handled in accordance with COB Procedures for Dealing with Academic Dishonesty.

Procedures for Dealing with Academic Dishonesty

When an academically dishonest event is discovered, it is the faculty member's responsibility to determine the appropriate course of action, the associated academic penalty, and to inform the student in a timely fashion of the academic dishonesty allegation. Academic penalties are imposed by the faculty member and include penalties such as:

- i) resubmission of an alternative assignment or test
- ii) F on the assignment/test
- iii) F for the course grade

The severity of academic penalty is commensurate with the academically dishonest event. It is the faculty member's responsibility to determine the academic penalty and if an informal or a formal course of action is required.

2. In cases where an academically dishonest event is deemed inadvertent or inconsequential, the faculty member may choose to resolve the academically dishonest event informally with the student. The informal discourse between the faculty member and the student should address the seriousness in how the COB views academic dishonesty, inform the student that it is their responsibility to know what constitutes academic dishonesty, and inform the student that any future academic dishonesty will not be tolerated. Academic penalties in this case should not have a material impact on the student's final grade in the class.

3. In cases where an academically dishonest event requires a material academic penalty, such as assigning an F for a major assignment/test, the faculty member may resolve the matter directly with the student. In this case within a timely and reasonable period, the faculty member must inform the student of the academic dishonesty allegation and present to the student a letter stating the allegation, documenting any associated evidence, and detailing the academic penalty. The faculty member must inform the student that the letter will be placed on permanent file in the COB's Dean's Office, and that any subsequent academic dishonesty will likely result in administrative penalties, (see 4f). If the student agrees to the terms of the letter as evidenced by the student's signature on the letter, the faculty member shall forward a copy of the letter to the Department Chair. The Department Chair shall deliver the letter to the Dean's Office and review the academic dishonesty file to determine if the student has committed any previous acts that may require further administrative penalties. The Department Chair shall report to the Dean of the COB if further action is needed.

4. When procedures outlined in paragraph 3 are inappropriate, insufficient or unacceptable to either the faculty member or the student the following formal procedures provide due process.

a. Except under extraordinary circumstances, within ten school days of informing the student of the alleged academic dishonesty event, the faculty member will prepare a written statement that describes and documents the academic dishonesty allegation. The statement must include all supporting evidence, and the faculty member's recommended academic penalties. The faculty member's statement is to be submitted to

b. Except under extraordinary circumstances, within fifteen school days of receiving the faculty member's statement, the Co-chair will provide to the student through registered mail a letter detailing the academic dishonesty allegation. This correspondence will include notice that a hearing to investigate the academic dishonesty allegation is to be scheduled at the earliest possible convenience for all persons involved.

c. The hearing will be organized and administered by the Co-chair. The Co-chair will appoint a hearing committee, which will consist of the Co-chair plus two COB faculty members that are currently serving on the Undergraduate Studies Committee. The student may be assisted at the hearing by an academic student advisor of his/her choosing. A request for student advisor assistance must be made through written communication to the Co-chair.

d. The student may waive the right to the hearing by admitting to the charge of academic dishonesty in a signed written statement delivered to the Co-chair of the Undergraduate Studies Committee prior to the date of the hearing.

e. At the hearing, the faculty member and the student will each be provided an opportunity to present oral testimony, written evidence, and any other evidence. The burden of establishing the student's guilt is the responsibility of the faculty member making the allegation.

f. Except under extraordinary circumstances, within fifteen school days of the hearing, the hearing committee will render a decision on the academic dishonesty allegation and produce a written report of its findings. The Co-chair will notify the student and faculty member in writing of the hearing committee's findings. If the student is found to be guilty of the allegation, academic penalties will be imposed, and if appropriate, administrative penalties will be recommended. The hearing committee's decisions on academic penalties are final. All guilty findings will be placed on file under academic dishonesty events with the COB Dean's Office. In the case of a guilty finding the Co-chair will review the file of academic dishonesty events to determine if this is a first or a repeat offense.

A repeat offense will likely result in a recommendation for administrative penalties. Administrative penalties in the case of suspension or expulsion from the COB are imposed by the Dean of the COB, or by the Provost in the case of suspension or expulsion from the University.

g. In the case of recommended administrative penalties, the Dean of the COB shall review the hearing committee's report and issue a decision regarding imposing COB administrative penalties and whether any University-wide penalties will be recommended to the Provost. Except under extraordinary circumstances, within 15 school days of receiving the hearing committee's report, the Dean of the COB shall notify the student, the faculty member originating the academic dishonesty allegation, and the Co-chair of the hearing committee of its decision. The Dean of the COB shall forward any recommended University-wide penalties to the Provost.

h. If the student fails to appear before the hearing committee, the hearing will be held in the student's absence and a final decision rendered. If the faculty member making the allegation of academic dishonesty fails to appear, the charges will be dropped. Unforeseen and uncontrollable events that prevent an individual's appearance at the hearing will be considered prior to making a final decision.

i. In the case where multiple students are involved with the academic dishonesty allegation, each student will be dealt with individually, but the composition of the hearing committee will remain the same for all students involved with the alleged event.

j. Any student who believes the processing or final disposition of a charge of academic dishonesty was unfair may initiate a grievance under the Academic Grievance Procedure as defined in the Academic Policies and Procedures of the Undergraduate Catalog.

Student Grievances

Students who wish to pursue grievances of any kind may consult with the Student Grievance Officer or the Associate Dean of the College of Business who will apprise the student of the policies and procedures regarding grievances. The text of the academic and non-academic student grievance procedures are contained in the "General Information" section of this catalog.

Continuing Studies

About the Program

Continuing Studies is a non-degree granting unit that admits adult students who want to begin or return to college as part-time students. In order to be eligible to apply to Continuing Studies, students must be at least 22 years old and have a high school diploma or high school equivalency certificate issued by a state department of education.

Continuing Studies students may enroll for a maximum of 8 hours in any semester or summer session. Students are required to maintain a 2.0 grade point average.

Degree-seeking undergraduate students may remain in Continuing Studies until they accumulate 24 credit hours. Students with 24 credit hours must apply for admission and be accepted by a degree-granting unit of the University if they wish to continue their course work.

Admissions Policies

In order to be admitted to Continuing Studies, applicants must complete an Application for Undergraduate Admission and submit a $40 application fee. Transcripts and ACT scores are not required. However, post-baccalaureate students who wish to take pre-requisite courses for a graduate-level program will need to submit a transcript to verify their status.

Continuing Studies students must meet the following criteria unless they petition the Continuing Studies Office for exception:

- Applicants must be at least 22 years old, unless the applicant will be on active military duty.
- Applicants must self-report that they have a high school diploma or high school equivalency certificate issued by the State Department of Education.
- Applicants with previous college work must self-report that they have not been dismissed from their last attended institution of higher education.

- Applicants for whom English is a second language must offer proof of English proficiency.

Placement Tests

Continuing Studies students may take placement tests to determine the correct level of coursework. Placement tests are available in Math and Foreign Language. CLEP (College Level Examination Program) exams may be used to gain course credit. The placement tests and CLEP exams are scheduled through the Testing Center, 310 Davidson Hall, (502) 852-6606. Students with learning or other disabilities that may interfere with placement test accuracy should contact the Disabilities Resource Center (502) 852-6938.

Transfer Credits

Transfer credits are formally evaluated only when students are accepted into a degree-granting unit.

Enrollment

Students must be admitted to the University and registered for classes by the end of the first day of classes.

- Students may enroll for a maximum of 8 hours in any semester or summer session.
- Students must have a grade point average of 2.0 or better to remain in good standing.
- Students may enroll in undergraduate classes for which they have completed the prerequisites or by faculty permission.
- Degree-seeking undergraduate students may remain in Continuing Studies status until they have accumulated 24 credit hours.
- Degree-seeking students with 24 credit hours must apply for admission and be accepted by a degree-granting unit of the University if they wish to continue their course work. Units will determine which of a student's previously earned credits will apply to a particular degree or major.
- Students not enrolled as an auditor can register for classes before the deadline and then have the audit form signed by the professor and taken directly to the Registrar's office to change the class from graded to audit.

- Post-Baccalaureate students who wish to take a graduate class must get approval from the School of Interdisciplinary and Graduate Studies at (502) 852-6495 for details.

Academic Policies

University Grade Point Average

The University of Louisville calculates a University Grade Point Average, which becomes the standard measure of performance and the official university calculation upon which academic decisions are made. The University Grade Point Average is determined at the undergraduate level, and is based upon all undergraduate course work taken at the University of Louisville. Courses numbered below the 100-level (000-099) taken in the 1998 fall semester or after will not be used in the earned hours or University Grade Point Average calculation.

Continuing Studies students must follow the instructional unit's policies concerning adding or withdrawing from classes, pass/fail grading, incompletes and audits. Academic bankruptcy is not available to Continuing Studies students.

Academic Standing

Students in good standing must maintain a 2.0 cumulative Grade Point Average (GPA) in all coursework taken while enrolled in Continuing Studies. Failure to attain a 2.0 GPA after the first semester results in Academic Warning and a restriction of 6 enrollment semester hours. Failure to attain a 2.0 GPA after two semesters results in Academic Probation and a restriction of 3 enrollment semester hours. Academic support is available for students on Academic Probation. In any subsequent semester, a student whose Grade Point Average falls below 2.0 will be suspended from Continuing Studies.

Period Out

Students suspended from Continuing Studies after a fall semester must sit out the following spring semester; students suspended after a spring semester must sit out the following summer and fall semesters; and students suspended after a summer semester must sit out the following fall semester.

Readmission

Students suspended from Continuing Studies may appeal to the Office of Admissions for readmission after the appropriate period out. Readmission may also require assessment of the student's academic potential and readiness to return. To apply for readmission, students must complete both an application for admission and a petition form, available on the Office of Admissions website. High school credentials and college transcripts may also be requested for review. The forms must be returned to the office at least one month before the first day of classes for the semester for which readmission is requested. Note: Courses taken at another institution while suspended from Continuing Studies may not be accepted for transfer credit.

Normal and Maximum Course Loads

The maximum load for each semester is 8 credit hours. Students with superior scholastic records and/or extenuating situations (e.g. Vocational Rehab, 4C's or military/GI Bill) may petition for an overload.

Federal Veterans Educational Benefits

Students are eligible for benefits while enrolled in Continuing Studies. Contact the Veteran Affairs Coordinator in the Registrar's Office at (502) 852-0998 for details.

Financial Aid

Continuing Studies students are not eligible for State or Federal Financial Aid.

Office of Dental Student Affairs

The Office of Dental Student Affairs is available to assist students in planning their academic program and to provide students with information regarding policies, procedures, and general information. The office is located in Room 231 in the School of Dentistry. Office hours are 8:00am to 5:00pm Monday through Friday. The phone number is (502) 852-5081.

It is the student's responsibility to be knowledgeable of the policies and procedures, and to take the initiative in seeking help and advice. Students are encouraged to contact the office whenever they have a question, a problem, or they do not know where else to go for assistance.

Students are required to come to the Office of Dental Student Affairs for the following:

- Advising and Referral to University Resources
- Complete Withdrawal from all courses or School of Dentistry
- Schedule Changes
- Leave of Absence Request (more information is available in the Student Policy Handbook)
- Evaluation of Transfer Credits
- Repeat Options
- Determination of Status

Name/Address Changes

It is the student's responsibility to update any change in name, address, or telephone number. The student may complete a name/address change through the ULink option available from the U of L website at www.louisville.edu or in the Registrar's Office on Belknap Campus or by calling that office at 852-6522.

Disability Statement

Students with disabilities who need reasonable modifications to successfully complete assignments and satisfy other course criteria are encouraged to meet with the course instructor as early as possible to identify and plan specific accommodations. Students may be asked to supply a letter from the Disability Resource Center or other documentation which will assist in modification planning.

Student Conduct Policies

The University of Louisville expects its students and student organizations to conduct themselves according to generally accepted moral and social standards and to respect the rights and privileges of others. Students who enroll in the University of Louisville Dental Hygiene Program are subject to the Rules and Regulations of the University.

Ethical Violations

The Dental Hygiene Program expects high ethical standards. As future professionals, students should exhibit appropriate professional ethical behavior in all academic and clinical matters.

A student may be dismissed from school because of unethical conduct. A formal procedure has been established to review cases where a student is accused of unethical behavior.

Drug Use Prohibited

In accordance with the statutes of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, the possession, use or distribution of hallucinogenic and/or illegal drugs will not be tolerated on University property. Infractions will result in disciplinary action by the University which may lead to suspension or dismissal from the Dental Hygiene Program.

Students' Rights

Students who believe they have been treated unfairly, discriminated against, or have had their rights abridged may initiate a grievance in accordance with procedures established in the University's Redbook. Students would first seek to have the matter resolved through informal discussion and through administrative channels. Information about processing a grievance may be obtained from the School of Dentistry's Associate Dean for Predoctoral Education.

Student Health Policy

Each student must comply with the current health policy of the School of Dentistry. Because of contractual agreements with agencies and the changing needs of society, this policy is updated periodically. The current health policies are published in the School of Dentistry Dental Hygiene Undergraduate Student Handbook. It is the responsibility of the student to maintain his or her health in order to ensure safety for other students and patients. If faculty or the agency deem that any student creates a health or safety risk, the student may be excluded from the clinical experience and/or program.

Liability and Health Insurance

All Upper Division dental hygiene students are required to submit proof of health care insurance coverage. Students can be covered under the University's student health insurance coverage. If students carry their own coverage, they can waive the University student health coverage by completing the online waiver form.

Liability/malpractice insurance is provided for all ULSD Upper Division students during their intern and extern experiences, including AHEC.

Immunization Requirements

All students are to comply with the University of Louisville Health Sciences Center Immunizations requirements. Those requirements are distributed to students prior to matriculation.

Policies and procedures for immunization, testing, and post exposure incidents have been developed to comply with Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA), Centers for Disease Control (CDC), American Dental Association (ADA), American Dental Hygienists' Association (ADHA), and extramural site recommendations or policies. Dental hygiene students, in the course of their clinical responsibilities, have exposure to blood, blood products, tissue, secretions, or body fluids of patients potentially containing hepatitis B (HBV) and are at risk for HBV as well as other infectious diseases. The following immunizations require documentation prior to matriculation and must be submitted on the Immunization Reporting Form to the Office of Clinical Affairs prior to the first day of class: Measles, Mumps, Rubella, Tetanus-Diphtheria-Pertussis, Varicella, Hepatitis-B (series must be initiated-first and second doses), and Tuberculosis Skin Test. A Tuberculosis Skin Test is required on a yearly basis for all students. All students must maintain compliance with the University of Louisville Health Sciences Immunization and testing requirements. Compliance must be documented on the "Immunization Reporting Form." The School of Dentistry and/or the University Health Services will send notices regarding missing or pending immunizations or tests on a monthly basis to the Office of Clinic Affairs. Immunization Compliance will be verified at the beginning of each semester. Students must be in compliance with immunization and testing prior to contact with patients in the clinical areas. Any student not in compliance will not be allowed in the clinical areas. This will constitute an unexcused absence from the clinic sessions missed and will be reflected in the letter grade for attendance. The University of Louisville School of Dentistry will maintain immunization compliance records for all students, but the University of Louisville Health Services will monitor compliance with the immunization program. The Office of Clinical Affairs will forward notices of missing or pending immunizations or tests to individual students. The Physician Director of the Health Services Office will review any cases requiring special attention. Immunizations or a titer test may be obtained from the student's private physician or through services available at the University Health Services Center. Current information about receiving the vaccine or titer test, including costs, may be obtained from the Office of the Associate Dean for Clinics and Postdoctoral Education at the School of Dentistry.

Students are strongly advised to consider latex allergy testing prior to matriculation if there is a medical history indicating latex sensitivity.

Students who become latex sensitive/allergic, while enrolled in the University of Louisville School of Dentistry must seek a consultation from their private physician. CPR certification for health care providers is also required of students prior to contact with patients. Any student not in compliance will not be allowed in the clinical areas. Documentation of compliance for all students will be maintained by the Office of Clinic Affairs.

Transportation

Students are responsible for providing their own transportation to and from clinical sites as needed. Students are not allowed to provide transportation for patients.

Policy on Clinical Attire

The University of Louisville School of Dentistry expects the student entering the professional clinical/academic program to present a neat, clean, and professional attired appearance. The current policy is published in the School of Dentistry Student Clinic Manual and is updated periodically. All students must maintain compliance with the current policy. Final evaluation of student compliance with the dress code will rest with the Office of Clinic Affairs and the program faculty and director.

Academic Achievement Committee

These Dental Hygiene Academic Achievement Committee Guidelines (DH-AAC Guidelines) have been developed by the Dental Hygiene faculty of the School of Dentistry to provide students and faculty with pertinent information about the academic and professional standards of the School and about the process and procedures used to review student performance. Section I of these guidelines apply only to students enrolled in the Dental Hygiene (DHL) Program Lower Division and Section II guidelines apply exclusively to the students enrolled in the Dental Hygiene (DHU) Program Upper Division.

Committee Organization and Operation

DH-AAC Guidelines

These DH-AAC Guidelines will be the principal standard used in determining the status of each DH student. Approved motions will constitute recommendations to the Associate Dean for Predoctoral Education through the Chair of the Dental Hygiene Academic Achievement Committee.

Other documents which serve as guidance for non-academic reviews include:

- Ethical problems (“Procedures to be Followed When a Breach of Ethical Conduct is Alleged”, June, 1977)
- Clinical protocol problems (“Clinical Review Board”, June 20, 1986)
- ULSD Clinic Manual

Existing documents are amended and new documents drafted as specific needs arise.

A. Composition of the Dental Hygiene Academic Achievement Committee

The Academic Achievement Committee is the committee with the authority to make recommendations to the Associate Dean for Predoctoral Education regarding DH student performance.

1. Academic Achievement Committee (AAC)

The DH-AAC will be composed of all dental hygiene course directors and full-time faculty members of the dental hygiene program. The Chair of the DH-AAC will be elected by the DH faculty and serve for a period of 3 years.

B. Functions of the DH-AAC

The Dental Hygiene Academic Achievement Committee (DH-AAC) will function:

- to review the academic progress of all DH students;
- to make recommendations to the Associate Dean for Predoctoral Education for:
 - students in real or potential academic difficulty, or - students who have demonstrated outstanding ability, and;
- to propose academic policy development or modification to this document to the Dental School Council through the Faculty Assembly.

C. Meetings

The DH-AAC will meet on a regular basis at the end of each term (prior to the beginning of the next term). It may also meet during the course of the term (midterm) to evaluate progress of dental hygiene students and at additional times to act on special interim business, (e.g. progress of remediation, removal of “X” grades, etc).

D. Scheduling and Notification of Meetings

A tentative schedule of DH-AAC meetings is announced at the beginning of the academic year by the Chair. Selection of the actual dates, times, and locations for Standing Committee meetings will be made by the Chair in consultation with the members of the DH-AAC.

E. Meeting Procedures

The DH-AAC will meet to discuss student progress in the curriculum. Written or electronic notification of meetings will be circulated to all course directors, the Department Chair, and DH-AAC members by the Chair at least five (5) business days prior to a meeting. The DH-AAC will deliberate and make recommendations to the Associate Dean for Predoctoral Education, as appropriate regarding:

- Promotion

- Counseling or academic advising
- Remedial work based on departmental recommendations(s)
- Probation
- Dismissal
- Leave of Absence
- Modification of development of academic policy

F. Quorum

A majority of members of the DHAAC present will constitute a quorum.

G. Minutes

The minutes of the DH-AAC are confidential and will not be circulated. Faculty may review DHAAC minutes held in the office of the Associate Dean for Pre-doctoral Education. A student may have access only to those sections of the minutes which deal directly with the processes affecting that individual.

H. Academic Status Report

A student academic status report will be distributed by the Chair of the DH-AAC to faculty and the department chair of Oral Health and Rehabilitation following DH-AAC meetings.

I. Committee Voting Rules

Each member of the DH-AAC will be entitled to one vote with the exception of the Chair. The Chair is entitled to vote only in the event of a tie vote. Recommendations must be approved by a majority of voting members present.

J. Lower Division Course Specific Policies

Students must earn a grade of "C" or above in the following courses (or their equivalents):

Intro. to Biological Systems BIOL 102

Intro. To Biological Systems Lab BIOL 104

Anatomy & Physiology I BIOL 260

Anatomy & Physiology II BIOL 261

Anatomy & Physiology Lab BIOL 262

Chemistry CHEM 101 or 105

Nutrition HSS 303

Repetition of Science Courses

The following courses can be repeated only one time:

CHEM 101 or 105

BIOL 260 Anatomy & Physiology I

BIOL 261 Anatomy & Physiology II

BIOL 262 Anatomy & Physiology Lab

Students who do not pass the course the second time will be dismissed from the program.

K. Performance Evaluation Hearing

The purpose of a Performance Evaluation Hearing is to provide the members of the DH-AAC with an appropriate forum in which to discuss a student's academic problems and provide an opportunity for direct discussions with the involved student. The consequence of the hearing may be a recommendation to the Associate Dean for Predoctoral Education or the Dean, as appropriate.

L. Hearing Process

The Hearing Process will occur as follows:

- The dental hygiene student will receive a written notice to appear for a Performance Evaluation Hearing. The Hearing will be scheduled no sooner than seven (7) days following the DH-AAC motion that a hearing is requested. The notice will include the date, time, and location of the Hearing and outline the reason(s) for the Hearing. The student will be granted time to prepare for the Hearing. A student who wishes to exercise the right to a Hearing must submit a letter in writing to the Chair of the DH-AAC. The Chair of the DH-AAC must receive such letter in a minimum of 48 hours prior to a Hearing date.
- Prior to the Hearing, the student will be permitted to inspect the student's entire dental school academic record and any other materials upon which the Hearing is based.
- The student will be permitted to present relevant information and have an advocate present at the Hearing. The advocate is limited to another student or faculty member from the University of Louisville School of Dentistry. The advocate may address the DH-AAC only by permission of the Chair of the DH-AAC.
- The DH-AAC may offer, through duly approved motion, any formal recommendation(s) to the Associate Dean for Predoctoral Education or the Dean deemed appropriate for the circumstances of a specific student, and consistent with these guidelines.

- The final decision on student progress and promotion rests with the Associate Dean for Predoctoral Education.

M. Hearing Outcome

After reviewing a student's academic circumstance under the provision of a Performance Evaluation Hearing, the DH-AAC may make the following recommendations to the Associate Dean for Predoctoral Education as appropriate:

Dismissal

- A recommendation for the student's dismissal will be based solely upon the evidence presented at the Hearing.
- A student will be dismissed from the Dental Hygiene Program who receives an "F" in one or more courses for two consecutive terms.
- A recommendation for dismissal may include the terms "with preference" or "without preference".
- A recommendation for dismissal without preference reflects a very significant concern about the student's ability to manage the dental school curriculum.
- A recommendation for dismissal with preference reflects the opinion that although the student did not perform well academically, there is the impression that the student possesses the ability to manage the dental hygiene curriculum.

Repeat of a Class Year

- "Repeat the year" means repeat the curriculum and the student may begin classes at the beginning of the next academic year. The repeat of an entire year for the purpose of overcoming academic difficulties will be considered an option when the degree of academic deficiency warrants such a recommendation.

Modified or Decelerated Curriculum

- After reviewing the DH-AAC recommendation, the Director of the Dental Hygiene Program Director, in concert with the appropriate course directors and the Department chair, will prepare the special curriculum.

Other Recommendations

- The DH-AAC may make other recommendations as set forth in section II.

IV. Protocol for Revision or Interpretation of AAC Guidelines

Revisions to the DH-AAC Guidelines may be adopted only by:

- Majority vote of the DH-AAC Committee; and
- Approval by the Dental School Council through the Faculty Assembly.
- The implementation date of any adopted and approved revisions to the Guidelines will be the beginning of the next academic year.
- The DH-AAC Chair is responsible for transmitting revised DH-AAC Guidelines to all Dental Hygiene faculty and students in a timely fashion.

Academic Bankruptcy & Forgiveness & Fresh Start

Academic Bankruptcy and Forgiveness policies allow students who are returning to college after an absence of two or more years to request the adjustment of their records for one or more entire semesters of previous college work, provided certain criteria are met. View information on Academic Bankruptcy and Forgiveness and the new Fresh Start policy.

College of Education and Human Development

About the College

The College of Education and Human Development, established in 1968 as the School of Education, is a college whose mission is to promote and strengthen the professional development of individuals concerned with education and human resource development in a variety of urban settings such as schools, colleges and universities, private and corporate organizations, and government agencies. This is done by conducting research, providing service, and preparing teachers, administrators, training and development specialists, and professionals in sport management, mental and physical health, and student affairs. In 2000, the name was changed to the College of Education and Human Development, to more accurately reflect the College's mission and programs. As an urban institution, the College is particularly concerned with improving the education and quality of life for persons of all ethnic and cultural backgrounds. The administration, faculty, and staff are committed to working with other university personnel and practitioners in carrying out this mission.

As one of five Commonwealth Centers of Excellence and the only one in education, the College of Education and Human Development offers programs, which are:

- based upon established knowledge bases that incorporate urban and global perspectives as well as current understanding of best professional practice;
- consistent with the philosophical standards and ethical practices of relevant professional associations;
- available to qualified individuals without regard to ethnicity, age, religion, gender, sexual orientation, disability, or national origin;
- future oriented and open to change on the basis of inquiry and experimentation as well as the needs and expectations of those we serve;
- rooted in the assumption that members of our faculty and staff are continuing learners who model the practices they teach, including the use of current information technologies; focused upon collaborative approaches to address the concerns of those we serve.

Structure of the College

The College of Education and Human Development provides courses and other experiences designed to prepare professionals in school and non-school settings. It offers curricula leading to the Bachelor of Science degree in early elementary education, middle and secondary education, health and human performance, sport administration, and workforce leadership.

The College of Education and Human Development also offers minors in school health education, community health, exercise science, sport administration, and wellness coaching to support the degree programs of students both within the College of Education and Human Development and those pursuing a degree through another college at the University.

Health and Sports Sciences

The Department of Health and Sport Sciences offers programs for those undergraduate students interested in pursuing majors in Sport Administration and in Health and Human Performance. The goals of the Health and Human Performance program are twofold: first, to prepare certified health and education teachers who can also assume duties as coaches and trainers, and second, to prepare students for employment in the fields of sports medicine, health promotion, and exercise and fitness leadership. The health education program is accredited by AAHE

The goal of the Sport Administration program is to prepare persons for a career in the sport business industry. The Sport Administration students may pursue a career in sport marketing, management or other professional areas in professional level sports, sport related companies, parks and recreation, athletics administration, sport governing organizations, sport or fitness clubs and facilities, or other sport business enterprise. The program is accredited by NASPE/NAASM.

The Department of Health and Sport Sciences offers the Bachelor of Science degree with majors in Health and Human Performance and Sport Administration. Minors are available in the areas of Community Health, Exercise Science, Sport Administration, and School Health Education. Concentrations are available in Exercise Science, Public Health Education, Physical Education, School Health Education.

Department of Leadership, Foundations, and Human Resource Education

The Department of Leadership, Foundations, and Human Resource Education offers an undergraduate degree program in Workforce Leadership with three concentrations. The concentration in Training and Development provides skills for the training and development of adults in non-school settings. Industrial and public service personnel as well as military trainers and health resource coordinators are prepared in this program. The concentration in career and technical education is designed for vocational teachers in experienced trade and industrial crafts areas. The concentration in Leadership and Organizational Development focuses on the development of leaders in the workplace who seek to improve organizational effectiveness.

Department of Early Childhood and Elementary Education

The Department of Early Childhood and Elementary Education offers undergraduate degrees which lead to Kentucky teacher certification. The Bachelor of Science in Early Elementary Education leads to Kentucky certification in grades primary through grade 5. Students choose an additional area of concentration from the following: Learning and Behavior Disorders, Moderate and Severe Disabilities, Early Childhood Education, English, Mathematics, Science, Social Studies, Spanish or French. Students who have completed an Associate of Applied Science in Early Childhood Education from a Kentucky community college may choose to apply to the Bachelor of Science in Early Elementary Education with a concentration in Interdisciplinary Early Childhood Education, which leads to certification in Birth to age 5 only.

Department of Middle and Secondary Education

The Bachelor of Science in Middle and Secondary Education leads to Kentucky certification in grades 5-9 or grades 8-12, and students choose a content area: Business, Biology, Chemistry, Earth and Space Science, English, Mathematics, Physics, Science, or Social Studies. Students may also choose a certification program in grades P-12 focusing on Foreign Language Education (French or Spanish), Health or Physical Education.

Department of Special Education

The Department of Special Education offers a dual certification option with the Bachelor of Science in Early Elementary Education. Students may choose to pursue a certification program for grades P-12 in Learning and Behavior Disorders or Moderate and Severe Disabilities. Students who complete the program are eligible to apply for Kentucky certification in Early Elementary Education (grades P-5) and Special Education (grades P-12).

For further information, please contact the Education Advising Center at 502-852-5597 or teacher@louisville.edu.

Academic Grievance Procedure

The College of Education and Human Development follows the procedures for academic grievances as stated in the General Information section and as published in The Redbook, Chapter 6, Article 8. Any student considering filing such a grievance should consult with the College of Education and Human Development Advising Center for advice and information.

Students who wish to pursue an academic grievance may consult with the Student Grievance Officer or the Assistant Dean for Student Services of the College of Education and Human Development, who will apprise the student of the policies and procedures regarding grievances. The text of the academic and non-academic student grievance procedures are contained in the “General Information” section of this catalog.

Statement of Policy and Procedures with Respect to Academic Integrity

A primary goal of the College of Education and Human Development is to educate men and women who will serve the education community with competence and integrity. To this end, the faculty considers academic honesty on the part of students of paramount importance. At another level, the trust existing between faculty and students must not be tainted with suspicion of dishonesty. Academic dishonesty is defined in the Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities. In the event that a student believes the following procedures for handling allegations of academic dishonesty have resulted in an injustice, that student may seek counsel from the Student Grievance Officer.

Procedures for Dealing with Breaches of Academic Integrity

1. A faculty member who believes that a student has committed an act of academic dishonesty shall, after checking with the clearinghouse to determine if the student has been found guilty of such acts previously, prepare a written statement that specifies the charge and that proposes the

- penalties to be imposed on the student. The proposed penalties shall be described as either:
- a. academic penalties, which are penalties associated with the class in question, such as resubmission of or alternate assignments, F on the assignment, F for the course, etc.; or
 - b. administrative penalties, which are suggested penalties to be imposed by the Dean or Provost, such as suspension or expulsion from the College of Education and Human Development or the University.
2. The faculty member shall meet with the student in person and in private, at which time the faculty member shall:
 - a. explain the basis for the allegation;
 - b. give the student a copy of the written statement of the charge and proposed penalties; and
 - c. give the student a copy of these procedures.
 3. The student shall either admit or deny the charge of academic dishonesty in writing no later than one week after the meeting with the faculty member. If the student does not meet this deadline, the student will be deemed to have denied the charge.
 4. If the student admits the charge, any proposed academic penalties shall be implemented by the faculty member.
 - a. The faculty member shall then forward the Statement of Charges and proposed administrative penalties, if any, the student's admission of guilt, and a statement of the academic penalties imposed, if any, to the Dean.
 - b. The Dean shall review the documents and shall issue a decision, within 15 school days, regarding whether any administrative sanctions shall be imposed on the student by the College of Education and Human Development, and whether any University-wide administrative sanctions will be recommended to the Provost. The Dean shall notify the student, the faculty member, the department chair, and the Associate Dean of this decision. The Dean shall forward any recommended University-wide administrative sanctions to the Provost.
 5. If the student denies the charge, the faculty member shall forward the statement of the charge and proposed penalties to the department chair, or, if the department chair is the faculty member making the allegation, to the Associate Dean. The department chair or the Associate Dean shall schedule a hearing.
 - a. Notice of the hearing shall either be hand-delivered or sent by Registered U.S. Postal Service to the student, at the address listed with the Registrar's Office, and to the faculty member via inter-office mail. The notice should be sent at least 10 school days prior to the hearing. The notice should state the time, date and place of the hearing and contain a copy of the original statement of the allegations.
 - b. If the student fails to appear after proper notice, the hearing will be held in the student's absence and a final decision rendered.
 - c. At the hearing, the professor and the student will each be provided an opportunity to present oral testimony and written evidence. The burden of establishing the student's guilt rests with the professor, who must do so by a preponderance of the evidence.

A student may be assisted at the hearing by an advisor of his/her choosing. However, that person will not be permitted to speak on behalf of the student at the hearing. After the hearing, the chair or the Associate Dean, as appropriate, will render a decision. Decisions of academic penalties will be final. Additional administrative-penalties recommended will be forwarded to the Dean with all materials submitted at the hearing, including a brief, written statement of reasons for the finding.
 - d. The Dean will consider the recommendation. Within 10 school days, the Dean will make a decision and notify the student, the professor, and the department chair or Associate Dean of the final action taken in the case. Notice of the decision will also be sent to the Office of the Provost. If the Dean's decision is not timely, the recommendation is voided and the action is dismissed.

Academic Bankruptcy & Forgiveness & Fresh Start

Academic Bankruptcy and Forgiveness policies allow students who are returning to college after an absence of two or more years to request the adjustment of their records for one or more entire semesters of previous college work, provided certain criteria are met. View information on Academic Bankruptcy and Forgiveness and the new Fresh Start policy.

Policy on Instructional Modification

Students with disabilities, who need reasonable modifications to complete assignments successfully and otherwise satisfy course criteria, are encouraged to meet with the instructor as early in the course as possible to identify and plan specific accommodations. Students may be asked to supply a letter from the Disability Resource Center or other documentation, which will assist in planning modifications.

Diversity Statement

Diversity is a shared vision for our efforts in preparing teachers, administrators, school counselors and other professionals. Students will be encouraged to investigate and gain a current perspective of diversity issues (race, ethnicity, language, religion, culture, SES, gender, sexual identity, disability, ability, age, national origin, geographic location, military status, etc.) related to their chosen fields. Students will also have the opportunity to examine critically how diversity issues apply to and affect philosophical positions, sociological issues, and current events in a variety of areas. Students will examine their belief systems and be encouraged to reexamine and develop more grounded beliefs and practices regarding diversity.

Statement on Student Teaching/Field Experiences

In all phases of the Developmental Teacher Preparation Model, candidates participating in field and clinical experiences must abide by all policies, rules, and regulations of the University and the assigned school. Failure to abide by standards of conduct and performance established by the faculty may result in the removal from the program. Phase 4 includes student teaching, a minimum 15-week clinical experience in school setting(s) related to the teaching certificate a teacher candidate is seeking. Teacher candidates work with a cooperating teacher and University Supervisor participating in the work of teaching. Placement in student teaching is contingent upon the applicant's successful completion of required program coursework and assessments, and faculty recommendation. Evaluation is based on Kentucky Teacher Standards and Professional Code of Ethics.

Kent School of Social Work

From the Dean's Desk

Popularized versions of contemporary urban life have written off today's cities as blights on the American landscape. Portrayed as bastions of criminality, drug and alcohol abuse, child and elder abuse, sexual and domestic violence, among other social ills, the cities are blamed for much of society's disease.

The Kent School of Social Work offers students the opportunity to engage a learning process that prepares them to become leaders in solving the problems of urban life. Committed to the belief that cities have rich potential to foster healthy community living, the School provides an educational experience to develop knowledge and skills of problem solving, blending theories of economics, politics, social policy, family systems, and psychology to name a few. The profession of social work is grounded in a belief in the dignity and worth of individuals, the importance of social and environmental context, the need to advocate for the oppressed and disempowered, the celebration of diversity, and a commitment to working with the focus on the strength of the client.

Students in the program will find a strong generalist orientation in the foundation that prepares them to work with a range of systems from individual, groups, and families to organizations and communities. In the advanced curriculum, students will deepen their understanding of social problems through skills and knowledge associated with complex critical thinking and best-practice evidence. In recognition of the value of greater interdisciplinary involvement, students will find the faculty involved in research interests with a number of other disciplines, including urban studies, medicine, nursing, dentistry, and others. This provides a rich learning environment in the classroom. And towards that end, dual degrees with law, theology, women and gender studies, and Pan African studies help students to match their own professional goals within the context of a collaborative foundation.

At Kent, efforts have been made to meet a variety of students' needs in preparation for advanced social work practice, whether it be programs on the main campus or distance sites, evening or weekend options. The BSW program began in 2007 and offers an exciting opportunity for undergraduate students to learn about generalist evidence-based social work practice; the MSSW program with its urban focus has established a high mark of excellence for the practice of its graduates; the Ph.D. program, offered as a collaborative effort between the University of Louisville and the University of Kentucky, provides preparation for research and leadership in addressing social needs that extend from the Commonwealth to the international community. These educational ventures promise to challenge and excite the learner in the hope of creating and sustaining a better life, a better world.

Terry L. Singer, Ph.D.
Dean

History of the Kent School

The roots of Kent School date back to 1918 when special courses for social welfare workers were offered through the auspices of the Louisville Welfare League. These courses were offered on a regular basis until 1923 when the program became affiliated with the University of Louisville. For the next 13 years, organized courses on the undergraduate level were offered by the University. In 1936, a full 2-year graduate program was established as the Graduate Division of Social Administration. The program became known as the Raymond A. Kent School of Social Work in honor of a former president of the University of Louisville. In 1994, the Family Therapy Program was added to the school, through which counseling in marriage and family therapy is offered. And in 1997 the University of Louisville and the University of Kentucky combined to offer a collaborative program of doctoral study in social work.

Mission

The Kent School of Social Work seeks to prepare well-qualified social workers who practice from a strong professional value base to serve the metropolitan mission of the university. Our graduates promote social justice through their practices with diverse client systems. In the context of a research institution, Kent School is committed to knowledge development that informs social work practice, recognizing the importance of interdisciplinary collaboration to solve complex social problems.

Social Work Profession

Social work is a profession concerned with the prevention and amelioration of social problems and the enhancement of the quality of human life. Social workers achieve these goals through direct practice with individuals, families, groups, and community organizations; advocacy; social planning; social policy analysis and formulation; research; and administration. Social work practice helps people mobilize their resources to deal with present circumstances and to enlarge their prospects for the future. Since problems of the individual cannot be seen in any meaningful way in isolation from the broad social and community context in which they occur, social work also takes a leadership role in bringing about institutional and social change.

Accreditation

Both the Bachelor of Social Work program and Master of Science in Social Work program are accredited by the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE). The Bachelor of Social Work program is under candidacy status by CSWE. The Master of Science in Social Work with specialization in Marriage and Family Therapy as well as the Post-Masters Certification program in Marriage and Family Therapy is accredited by the Commission on Accreditation for Marriage and Family Education. The University of Louisville is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia 30033-4907; Telephone number 404-679-4501) to award associate, bachelor, master's, doctoral, and first professional degrees (D.M.D., J.D., M.D.).

About the Program

The School provides a broad-based education for college or university graduates wishing to continue their studies and for professionals returning to school to enhance their skills. The Bachelor of Social Work (BSW) degree program is designed to prepare students for entry into the profession as generalist practitioners. The Master of Science in Social Work (MSSW) degree program is designed to help students achieve their maximum potential through a carefully structured curriculum of foundation and advanced course work. Preparation for leadership in advanced professional practice is a vital part of the School's curriculum.

Bachelors of social work programs, under the accreditation banner of the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE), are directed in matters of curriculum to promote the knowledge, values and skills of the profession. At the baccalaureate level, students are prepared for entry into the profession as generalist practitioners. Guided by program mission and goals, the generalist model is built upon a conceptual framework that includes relevant theories and knowledge to build practice skills. The professional level courses at the junior and senior year level are grounded in the liberal arts and carefully integrate that knowledge into the learning of professional content. The Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards of CSWE establish the base of program learning expectations.

Goal I (Curriculum): To ensure that graduates will be prepared at the foundation level to practice social work that is framed by a generalist practice base, and an ability to understand social problems at multiple levels. The program objectives derive directly from the Educational Policy (3.0) of CSWE in preparing students for practice at the generalist level and also for providing a firm foundation for those who seek graduate educational opportunities in social work. To meet those requirements, the Kent School has established the following program objectives that will frame the assessment of learning that obtains to the BSW Program.

Students who graduate from the BSW Program will demonstrate the ability to:

- Objective 1: Apply critical thinking skills within the context of professional social work practice.
- Objective 2: Understand the value base of the profession and its ethical standards and principles, and practice accordingly.
- Objective 3: Practice without discrimination and with respect, knowledge, and skills related to clients' age, class, color, culture, disability, ethnicity, family structure, gender, marital status, national origin, race, religion, sex, and sexual orientation.
- Objective 4: Understand the forms and mechanisms of oppression and discrimination and apply strategies of advocacy and social change that advance social and economic justice.
- Objective 5: Understand and interpret the history of the social work profession and its contemporary structures and issues.

- Objective 6: Apply the knowledge and skills of a generalist social work practice with systems of all sizes.
- Objective 7: Use theoretical frameworks supported by empirical evidence to understand individual development and behavior across the life span and the interactions among individuals and between individuals and families, groups, organizations, and communities.
- Objective 8: Analyze, formulate, and influence social policies.
- Objective 9: Evaluate research studies, apply research findings to practice, and evaluate their own practice interventions.
- Objective 10: Use communication skills differentially across client populations, colleagues, and communities.
- Objective 11: Use supervision and consultation appropriate to social work practice.
- Objective 12: Function within the structure of organizations and service delivery systems and seek necessary organizational change.

Goal II (Curriculum): To prepare students for advanced graduate work in social work.

- Objective: The Kent School will prepare students with a quality education that will support their admission to and successful completion of graduate social work degrees.

Goal III (School's relationship with the community): To build collaboration and partnerships for community building and problem solving:

- Objective: The Kent School will provide professional expertise in the community in partnership with agencies and institutions to build a stronger community in the metropolitan region of Louisville.

Goal IV (Overall program goal): To contribute to the development of new social work knowledge through scholarship and research.

- Objective: The Kent School will develop research and scholarship that adds to the knowledge base of the social work profession.

Curriculum Information

The Kent School Curriculum is designed to enhance students' ability to help them and the diverse client systems they work with to make decisions that contribute to the quality and health of these client systems and that will promote social justice. It is designed to graduate social workers who think critically about what they do, why they do it, and what outcomes they hope will result from the social work practice they do.

Critical thinking is defined as “the intellectual disciplined process of actively and skillfully conceptualizing, applying, analyzing, synthesizing, and/or evaluating information gathered from, or generated by, observation, experience, reflection, reasoning, or communication, as a guide to belief or action” (Scriven & Paul, 2004). Critical thinking includes specific skills such as problem-solving and the ability to integrate knowledge from multiple disciplines and theories of human behavior. Throughout the curriculum, there is an emphasis on critical reflection, or appraisal of various points of view no matter what the source. The curriculum draws heavily on social science knowledge and integrates this with problem-solving phases such as assessment, intervention, and evaluation. In this respect, the curriculum is designed to teach students to access, integrate, and assess practice and policy related research to solve social problems and to work towards social justice. When critical thinking skills are used effectively, it leads to transparency and promotes social change, particularly with and on behalf of vulnerable and oppressed individuals and groups of people.

In the foundation curriculum, students are introduced to critical thinking. They are guided by faculty to develop critical thinking skills throughout all the foundation level courses. The BSW curriculum promotes a generalist perspective in which the simultaneous impact of many systemic levels (individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities) on clients' lives is critically analyzed and recognized. The curriculum builds upon a liberal arts base that fosters an understanding of society as a complex organization of diverse people and ideas. Social problems are understood as occurring within the nexus of culture, conflict, development, ecology, and systems and as such, efforts to help or intervene must include consideration of these forces. Students will be able to critically identify and assess social problems, specifically attending to 1) how such problems are maintained, 2) how they impact the quality of people's life, 3) cultural sensitivity and appreciation of marginalized people, and 4) how to actively promote social and economic justice.

In the foundation year, the focus is on the development of critical thinking skills in all the areas mentioned. The BSW curriculum is to prepare students for generalist practice; that is to develop knowledge and skills for entry level professional social work practice that recognizes the importance of multi-level systemic intervention.

Electives

The Kent School of Social Work provides electives as enrichment to the specialized learning in the concentration year. Social work jobs call for skills and knowledge that are broader than any narrowly defined specialization. For example, mental health workers are asked to know psychopathology, substance abuse, managed care, AIDS, and a range of other substantive areas. Many school social workers share the need for the same content. In addition, it is noted that social workers frequently change jobs, often to another field of practice. Social work education seeks to teach students to think critically, analyze systematically, and know where to find information and resources within the context of social work history, development and values. It is this type of education that best prepares students to function in a rapidly changing society.

In this curriculum paradigm, electives are considered enrichment. Some of this enrichment is in the form of very specific course content that aligns with a specific focus area. For example, a person interested in the substance abuse area may elect to take a course in this area to prepare for work in a substance abuse treatment facility or other related employment agencies. Or, the enrichment may take the form of exploration as in the case of the student taking an aging or child welfare course to better understand those fields of practice and to prepare for various job prospects.

Practicum Education

One component of the BSW program includes a practicum placement in a social work community setting. It is intended to reinforce the student's identity with the profession, supplement classroom learning, provide a laboratory to develop practice skills, and promote professional competence. Students are carefully placed in these experiences and monitored by the Office of Practicum Education of the School under the weekly supervision of qualified agency supervisors and overseen by a Practicum Faculty Liaisons. These students receive weekly supervision and regular oversight by the School. The School has a long history of successful community partnerships that includes approximately 300 different social service agencies. A formal Community Advisory Board comprised of our agency partners keeps us well connected to and collaborative with the human service community. Accreditation standards are satisfied as our program requires students to complete a minimum of 450 hours of field education. For each semester of practicum, students earn 6 credit hours. Students will be in placement for two days per week for two consecutive semesters.

The School's present policies about on-job field placements are explained below and in The Practicum Education Handbook. If employed in a human services agency meeting the School's criteria as a placement site, the student may apply to undertake the practicum at her/his place of employment. This may be accomplished when the agency is willing to shift the student's work role and supervision in such a manner as necessary to meet the School's educational objectives for practicum instruction.

Practicum education is offered in a concurrent format so that students enrolled in a practicum course simultaneously must be enrolled in a practice course and the practicum lab/seminar, i.e.; SW 470 with SW 405 (Practice III) and SW 472 (Seminar and Lab I), SW 471 with SW 406 (Practice IV) and SW 473 (Seminar and Lab II).

Policy Concerning On-Job Practicum

A request for an on-job placement must be made at the time of application for the practicum. Students must have been employed within the agency where a placement is being requested a minimum of 6 months by the start of the practicum semester. The on-job practicum must be different in scope and content from the student's regular job. The practicum supervisor must hold a MSW degree from an accredited college and have 2 years of post-master's social work experience, and must be a different person than the student's work supervisor. The educational objectives remain the same for on-job practica as for other practica. Each request will be carefully reviewed by the Assistant Director of Field Education. Please see the Practicum Education web page for additional information about on-job practicum.

Practicum Credit

Course credit for the Practicum (6 credits hours each for SW 470, SW 471) is earned only when the practicum has been completed. Students who withdraw from the practicum do not earn any credit - either in terms of clock hours or course credit hours - for any time spent in the placement, just as students who withdraw from other courses do not earn any credit for the hours they have attended class. Under exceptional circumstances, when students are transferred from one placement setting to another by the Kent School Assistant Director of Field Education the number of clock hours - if any - credited for the initial placement is determined by the Faculty Practicum Liaison in consultation with the Assistant Director of Field Education. Credit for such hours is not to be routinely expected by the student. Subsequent Faculty Practicum Liaisons and agencies may be willing to allow this credit and accept a transferred student for fewer than the number of clock hours typically required, but are not obliged to do so.

Public Child Welfare Certification Program

Taken from the PCWCP Brochure, 2007, Eastern Kentucky University.

The Public Child Welfare Certification Program (PCWCP) has been implemented by the Kentucky Cabinet for Health and Family Services and ten university undergraduate social work programs in order to better serve the children and families in this state. The goal of this program is to fill the ranks of Child Welfare Workers with the most competent and well trained workers who can provide high quality services immediately following employment. The Cabinet has partnered with the Universities to offer Bachelor Social Work juniors and seniors their academic program in conjunction with participating in the Cabinet's child welfare training curricula prior to graduation. These students are provided full instate tuition, a stipend and must complete a two year employment commitment with the Cabinet upon successful completion of this program participating universities. The following state and private universities participate in PCWCP:

Brescia University
Campbellsville University

Eastern Kentucky University
Kentucky State University
Morehead State University
Murray State University
Northern Kentucky University
Spalding University
University of Kentucky
Western Kentucky University
University of Louisville

Students will be required to follow their curriculum plan as outlined with the Coordinator of Academic Affairs.

PLEASE NOTE:

- All curriculum plans begin in the Fall Semester. Some students may need to take supporting courses or prerequisites beginning in the Summer, please take note of this special starting semester.
- All classes are taken two days a week, except for elective courses. For 3 credit hour undergraduate courses, the class will be scheduled for two days each week for 1 hour, 15 minutes each. Each course is offered TWICE a week over 15 weeks during the semester.

If you are interested in the Public Child Welfare Certification Program, please see the brochure that can be found on the website www.louisville.edu/kent/bsw. After reading the brochure and deciding you would like to be considered for this program and accompanying scholarship, please submit the following materials in addition to the previously listed materials on this checklist. All of the following forms can be found at www.louisville.edu/kent/bsw.

- Completed PCWCP application packet
- 3 letters of reference (forms are contained within the PCWCP application packet)
- Authorization to conduct a Criminal Records Check and Child Abuse/Neglect Central Registry Check
- Four to five page essay which addresses the following:
 - If you had to explain the term child welfare to someone, what would you say?
 - Why are you interested in the field of child welfare?
 - What qualities do you feel that you have that would make you a good child welfare worker?

- Discuss areas where you need further exposure, growth, and development in order to become an effective child welfare worker.
- Describe your short-term (5 years from now) and long-term goals.

When Kent School receives all of the PCWCP materials, an interview will be scheduled with the applicant, the BSW Co-Directors and various Department of Community Based Services representatives to explore the match between the student's interest and strengths and this specialization.

The Kent School Admissions Committee will review the application only when all credentials are on file.

BSW Entry Date

New students enroll in the fall semester only, while a limited number may enroll in spring.

BSW Admission Application Date

You may apply to Kent School as early as the November prior to the year of your planned enrollment. The final deadline varies, but because entry into the program is highly competitive, applicants are encouraged to submit their applications early to ensure a space. All admissions materials must be received in the BSW Office of Admissions by the deadline date in order for an applicant to be considered for admission by a particular deadline. Earlier applicants have more options and enjoy clear advantages.

Academic Bankruptcy & Forgiveness & Fresh Start

Academic Bankruptcy and Forgiveness policies allow students who are returning to college after an absence of two or more years to request the adjustment of their records for one or more entire semesters of previous college work, provided certain criteria are met. View information on Academic Bankruptcy and Forgiveness and the new Fresh Start policy.

Student ID Number and ID Card

Upon admission into the university you will be given a student identification number (please refer to your admission letter to find out your student identification number). This number replaces your social security number and should be used with all correspondence so that University offices can locate you quickly. Please remember and use your student identification, as you will be called upon to use this number for a number of things.

Your student ID number is printed on your student identification card. This card is called the Cardinal Card and will serve as your identification card, library card, meal plan card, and if you have a US Bank checking account, it can also be used as your ATM card. Coming soon the Cardinal Card can be used for facilities access and student elections.

Cardinal Cards are issued in the Campus Card Office. The main office, located on the Belknap Campus, is in the lower level of the Houchens Building in Room 08K. The satellite office, located on the Health Science Campus, is located in the Abell Building first floor security station. If you are a newly admitted student, identification cards will be given to you during the fall admission term. You must bring a photo id, know your student id number and bring the completed Cardinal Card Agreement form (<http://louisville.edu/campuscard/getacard.html>) All found Cardinal Cards should immediately be returned to the Campus Card Office. For more information on Cardinal Cards visit: <http://http://louisville.edu/campuscard/index.html>.

Communication with Kent School Faculty and Staff

The fastest way to reach most Kent School personnel and university offices is via e-mail. The Kent School directory of e-mail addresses can be found at: <http://louisville.edu/kent/kentphone.pdf>

It's a good idea to save e-mail notes for your record and keep a correspondence log to track your interactions with faculty and staff. Please use a closing salutation including your name, your student id number, your telephone numbers (cell, work, home) and your e-mail address. This comes in handy in the event someone needs to contact you by alternative means and also helps staff when researching any concerns you may have addressed; your student id is the way that we research your records.

Student E-Mail

The University of Louisville will provide GroupWise accounts for all students upon admittance to the program. GroupWise is the standard email platform for faculty, staff and students. Benefits of the GroupWise system include access to global email address books for faculty, staff and students, increased email storage space, mobile access for PDAs, smart phones, etc. with appropriate data plans, ability to share and view calendars, one userID and password for ULink and Groupwise.

You can download the full GroupWise client to your personal PC from the IT Store at <http://louisville.edu/it/itstore>. You will be prompted for your ULink userID and password. The website at <http://louisville.edu/it/services/e-mail/groupwise/> contains detailed information regarding GroupWise. There is online training available at <http://louisville.edu/it/support/training/gw/group-tutorials.html>/ You can get help by reading the documentation on the web at <http://louisville.edu/it/services/e-mail/groupwise/>, or by contacting the Help Desk at 852-7997 or Helpdesk@louisville.edu.

Kent School administration, faculty and staff as well as the University's Bursar's office, Registrar's office and Financial Aid office only communicate with students via their university e-mail accounts. Personal e-mail accounts will NOT be used. It is very important that students use their university e-mail accounts and check their e-mail on a regular basis. This is the best way to stay connected with the school and to be informed of any important issues.

Change of Address

It is the student's responsibility to contact the Kent School and the Registrar's Office to update contact information. You should change this information online through ULINK (<http://louisville.edu/ulink>) and you should send an e-mail to the Kent School (kentssa@louisville.edu) to update any change in your contact information, i.e., address, phone number.

Kent School Student Association

KSSA is the voice of students of the Kent School of Social Work. KSSA is designed to represent the concerns and needs of students to the Kent School administration, university administration and student government and to provide programming of special interest to students. Become involved in KSSA by sending an e-mail to the KSSA council at: kssa02@gwise.louisville.edu

Kent School Portfolio

It is important to keep certain information throughout your tenure at Kent. Some of this information will be useful during your time at Kent, others will be important for licensure after graduation: 1) Student Identification Number; 2) Transcript; 3) Admission Letter from Kent; 4) E-mail address and password; 5) Credit Hours required to complete your program; 6) Course Syllabi and Description; 7) Practicum Information (i.e., evaluations, names of pertinent people); 8) Any correspondence from Kent School.

Registration Procedure

Registration is fast and simple. Students are encouraged to use the early registration option each semester to ensure a place in a class that fits your schedule. Before registering, please consult the BSW curriculum plan. Please follow this model exactly throughout your tenure at Kent School.

To find the online schedule of classes, please go to (<http://htmlaccess.louisville.edu/classSchedule/setupSearchClassSchedule.cfm>). Find the classes to match your curriculum plan. The online schedule is the most up-to-date schedule. It lists cancelled classes, lets you know how many students are registered in your class, instructs you on whether you should take an additional class with the class you are registering for and gives a course description. Remember to always check the campus location while viewing the online schedule of courses. On the Registrar's website

<http://louisville.edu/student/services/registrar/reginfo.html> you will find the listing of scheduled downtimes for registration, please make note of these dates and times. There are 2 ways to register for classes, online over the internet or by touch-tone telephone. The preferred method to register for classes is online at the ULINK (<http://ulink.louisville.edu>) website. Always print your schedule and keep for your records. Student information can get distorted or deleted, so maintaining a printed copy of your schedule is an easy way to prove you have registered. If you need to register by telephone (touch tone (502) 852-2222), follow the prompted touch tone instructions, or before doing this review the Registrar's website <http://louisville.edu/student/services/registrar/reginfo.html>.

Waitlisting Courses

The University allows students to place themselves on a waitlist for all courses. Before requesting to be placed on the waitlist, students should be aware of the following:

- Students can only request to be put on a waitlist through online web registration using ULink. When a student enters a class number on the enrollment panel, there is an option to request being placed on the waitlist if the class is closed. Touch-tone is not equipped for the waitlist process.
- If the course becomes open, the first student on the waitlist will be added into the class by a process that will be ran several times a day and more often during peak periods.
- Students are responsible for checking the status of the waitlisted course by logging on ULink and viewing their schedule to see if the course has been added. Students will not be informed when they are added or if the add is attempted and fails.
- If the meeting time of the course the student is waitlisted in is not available on the student's schedule, the student will not be added to the course.
- If adding the student into the course would exceed the student's maximum hours for the term, the student will not be added to the course.
- If a student does not meet the pre-requisites or other restrictions for that course, the student will not be allowed on the waitlist.
- Students cannot use this for the purpose of trying to find a more suitable time of a course as enrollment in multiple sections is not allowed.
- Students are cautioned not to use the "Swap" option if using the waitlist option as doing this would take them out of the course they are currently enrolled in immediately and may not get into the class they waitlisted for.
- The last day we will allow students to waitlist for Summer is the first day of the class. For Fall and Spring semesters, the last day to waitlist is through the Wednesday of the first week of classes. The last day that we will move students from the waitlist and enroll them for Summer is the first day of the class. For Fall and Spring semesters, students will be enrolled from the waitlist through 10:00 pm on the Friday of the first week of classes.

- Please note that a course that is closed may appear to be open for a short time if a student drops and there are students on the waitlist. The closed class message given to the student includes a message explaining that - if a course appears to be open with a space, but the student receives back a message that the course is closed, it is due to a student being on the waitlist. The student will be moved off the waitlist by a process we run several times a day and more often during peak registration times.
- If you check the online schedule of classes, you will see a column titled “Wait”. This shows the number of students waitlisted and the maximum number of students allowed on the waitlist. If there are students on the waitlist and the course is displayed as open, this means the waitlist process has not been ran since someone dropped the course. The first student on the waitlist will be moved into the class the next time the process is ran.
- Students are first informed of their place on the waitlist when they are initially added to the waitlist. After that, students can view their current place on the waitlist by viewing their schedule online.

Registration into a Closed Class

Open Registration Period

To register into a closed class when registration is still open, students should e-mail the instructor and copy the BSW Coordinator of Academic Affairs to obtain permission to enroll into their closed section with the following information: 1) Your Name; 2) Student ID; 3) Semester and year that you want to enroll; 4) 9 digit course # (course numbers available on the online schedule of classes); and 5) Name of the course. Also in your e-mail request, if the over enrollment is granted, ask the instructor to please forward the approval to the BSW Coordinator of Academic Affairs’s attention. At the close of your request, please indicate alternative contact information, i.e., office phone, home phone, cell phone, alternative e-mail address. The BSW Coordinator of Academic Affairs will then clear you for enrollment, after which she will send you an e-mail requesting that you enroll into the class. Please allow a few days for this transaction to occur. If a problem occurs, the BSW Coordinator of Academic Affairs will contact you via e-mail or telephone. If you experience additional problems, please contact the BSW Coordinator of Academic Affairs.

If there is a large demand for the full course, the Kent School reserves the right to open another section. In the event that this occurs, we will not allow over enrollments into closed classes. If you have additional concerns, e-mail the BSW Program Co-Directors to learn of the latest class arrangements.

It is your responsibility to check your online schedule to make sure you are enrolled into all of your classes. It is a good idea to print your schedule for your records anytime there is a change to your schedule. You will not be permitted to attend a class in which you are not enrolled.

Closed Registration Period

When registration has already closed for the semester, a different procedure should be followed. In the event of closed registration, you must first submit an e-mail request as stated above. After the instructor has granted permission, you should follow the following steps: 1) Complete a drop/add form (this form is located online should be printed at <http://louisville.edu/student/services/registrar/DropAdd.pdf>); 2) Obtain the instructor’s signature; 3) Submit the form to the BSW Coordinator of Academic Affairs for processing; 4) Please be prepared to make financial settlement at this time.

Class Cancellations

Kent reserves the right to cancel classes at any time. Although Kent School tries to prevent any unnecessary cancellations, they reserve the right to cancel a class with less than 10 students enrolled. Sometimes the classes will still be offered, even in the event of low enrollment, due to special circumstances. It is therefore important not to drop a class with low enrollment and first wait for official notification before acting. The BSW Co-Directors will send notifications to all students informing you of the classes that will be cancelled prior to the start of the semester. The Registrar’s office may also send notification to you that your class has been cancelled. In the event of a cancelled class, please check the online schedule of courses to find and add a new class.

Classroom Assignment Changes

From time to time the university must make changes to classroom locations. You may receive notification via e-mail that your classroom has been changed. In most cases, the University room scheduler has made the change. The instructor and the students enrolled are the only students notified. Please note that some room changes are only for specified dates. Please print the note for future reference. It is your responsibility to note when and where your class meets. If you have questions, contact your instructor.

Kent School Severe Weather Policy

Official announcements related to cancelled or delayed classes will be posted on the U of L website and announced via the local media. However, it is impossible for us to determine what the weather will be in all the regions our students commute from; therefore, a specific severe weather policy was adopted by Kent Faculty. The policy reads as follows: If the weather or road conditions pose a serious hazard to your commute to class, use your own judgment as to whether or not you should make the trip. If you decide not to attend class, it is important that you inform your instructor of your decision and explain the situation as it pertains to your region. If the class is held (and you are absent due to your judgment to not travel to class), you are responsible for making up all assignments and collecting class notes/handouts. It is possible that if you have missed a significant in-class activity, the instructor may request you do a make-up activity to account for the exercises/experiences you missed in class. If the entire class is cancelled due to weather or road conditions, the instructor will decide how best to make up the material that was scheduled for that cancelled class. This could include an extra class session sometime during the semester, adding some time to subsequent class(es), use of Blackboard, etc.

Writing Guidelines (APA)

Kent School requires student papers to conform to the APA (5th edition) writing style. Please visit the Kent school website for more information about APA writing style at <http://louisville.edu/kent/masters/writingreqs.htm>

Students are recommended to use or have access to the APA manual for those questions that go beyond the scope of writing pointers. Please note that quite a few of the writing recommendations listed at the Kent School APA website are outside the scope of the APA guide but are required aspects of writing scholarly documents at Kent School. The University's Writing Center located on the third floor in Ekstrom Library is available to assist students with writing papers. Please contact them at <http://coldfusion.louisville.edu/webs/as/writingcenter/>

Plagiarism

It is expected that a student in the Kent School of Social Work will refrain from plagiarism and cheating. Plagiarism and cheating are serious breaches of academic conduct and may result in permanent dismissal. Each student is advised to become familiar with the various forms of academic dishonesty as explained in the Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities. A plea of ignorance is not acceptable as a defense against the charge of academic dishonesty.

The code of Student Rights and Responsibilities defines plagiarism as follows: Representing the words or ideas of someone else as one's own in any academic exercise, such as: a) Submitting as one's own a paper written by another person or by a commercial "ghost writing" service; b) Exactly reproducing someone else's words without identifying the words with quotation marks or by appropriate indentation, or without properly citing the quotation in a footnote or reference; c) Paraphrasing or summarizing someone else's work without acknowledging the source with a footnote or reference; d) Using facts, data, graphs, charts, or other information without acknowledging the source with a footnote or reference. Borrowed facts or information obtained in one's research or reading must be acknowledged unless they are "common knowledge." Clear examples of "common knowledge" include the names of leaders of prominent nations, basic scientific laws, and the meaning of fundamental concepts and principles in a discipline. The specific audience for which a paper is written may determine what can be viewed as "common knowledge": for example, the facts commonly known by a group of chemists will differ radically from those known by a more general audience. Students should check with their teachers regarding what can be viewed as "common knowledge" within a specific field or assignment, but often the student will have to make the final judgment. When in doubt, footnotes or references should be used.

The University's Writing Center located on the third floor in Ekstrom Library is available to assist students with plagiarism issues. Please contact them at <http://coldfusion.louisville.edu/webs/as/writingcenter/>

Course Evaluations

At the end of each semester, students complete an anonymous online course evaluation for each of the classes in which they have been enrolled. The BSW Director sends a note to all students via e-mail 2 weeks before the end of the semester, reminding them to take part in the course evaluations. The link to the course evaluation survey will always be on the Kent School website at <http://louisville.edu/kent/>

Kent School takes the evaluations very seriously. Each instructor receives their score together with all the qualitative comments made about the class and the teaching style of the instructor after the close of the semester. These evaluations are used every year to revise the curriculum, change instructors where needed and overall to improve the quality of the education at Kent. It is important that students spend the time to provide constructive feedback to faculty at the end of each semester.

Redundancy Policy

A student may petition the BSW Program Director for course credit based on the belief that course material has been mastered. This should take place well before the start of the semester to ensure placement in proper course. Once the semester has begun, there are no reviews of petitions for courses concurrent with that semester.

The student will be referred to the instructor of the specific course in question and must present syllabi from any previous course that corresponds to the Kent School course for which the student seeks credit. The student must also present copies of all written assignments and examinations from that previous coursework (no exceptions). The course for which the student seeks credit could have conceivably been content mastered in several courses and, in such cases, all syllabi and corresponding assignments and exams must be presented. Students who are unable to produce the required information will not be eligible for course reduction consideration.

After review of this material by the instructor of the specific course in question, s/he will require the student to complete sequence specific assignments (e.g. papers, exams or other written work). Then the instructor of the specific course in question will grade the submitted work for content mastery. If the instructor feels the students have achieved a grade of a B or better on the completed work, then they will forward a recommendation about the level of mastery to the BSW Program Co-Directors who will notify the student of action taken.

Possible action related to student petition:

- Student has demonstrated an acceptable level of mastery of the course content expected in the Kent School course about which the student has petitioned, and the student is granted placement out of the course and receive course credit.
- Student has demonstrated insufficiency of mastery and is required to enroll in the course about which the student has petitioned.
- Student has demonstrated mastery of some of the course content, but not sufficiently enough to be awarded placement out of the course. In these cases, 1 of the following actions may be taken, based on the preference of the student. For either action, the student must register for credit in the course in question:
 - Student may elect to enroll fully in the course with other students.
 - Student may work out a system of independent study with the teacher of record to correspond with the content deficiency as established by the instructor of the specific course in question. This may entail partial engagement in the actual class, supplemented with related assignments and exams, or it may be done totally independently based on assignments and exams provided by the instructor.

In all cases here, the faculty, in concert with the instructor of the specific course in question and BSW Program Director, will develop a learning contract which will be signed by the student and the faculty of record.

Student Conduct Policies

Students entering the Kent School of Social Work, by their formal acceptance into the School, agree to abide by The Code of Ethics of the National Association of Social Workers and the Code of Student Conduct of the University of Louisville.

The NASW Code of Ethics provides guidelines for the professional conduct of social workers. Since the profession is directed by a commitment to core values, the Code provides for conduct related to principles of service, social justice, dignity and worth of the individual, the importance of human relationships, integrity, and competence. These values and the standards inherent in them provide a context for expected behavior during the period of enrollment in the educational programs of the Kent School of Social Work, and for the development of lifelong professional standards. Issues of concern related to this area are referred to the Academic and Professional Standards Review Committee.

Code of Student Conduct at U of L

The Code of Student Conduct is the University's policy regarding non-academic discipline of students. The Code is set forth in writing in order to give students general notice of non-academic prohibited conduct. The primary purpose for the imposition of non-academic discipline in the University setting is to protect and preserve a quality educational environment in the campus community. The University is not designed or equipped to rehabilitate students who do not abide by the Code. It may be necessary to remove those students from the campus and to sever the institutional relationship with them, as provided in the Code. The University is concerned with the rights of individuals as well as the general welfare of the University community. The Code of Student Conduct provides the rules, regulations, and procedures for acceptable standards of behavior and for due process. The Code should be read broadly and is not designed to define non-academic misconduct in exhaustive terms. For further information about the Code of Student Conduct, please contact the Office of Campus Life, W302 Student Activities Center, (502) 852-5787. <http://campuslife.louisville.edu/policies/studentconduct.html>

Dismissed Students

If the Academic and Professional Standards Review Committee decides to dismiss a student from Kent School and if this dismissal is approved by the Dean, students will only be allowed to return to Kent School in rare cases. Students who wish to return must write an appeal letter to the BSW Director, stating their reasons why they think they can return to Kent School to complete their studies.

Academic Grievances

A uniform student grievance procedure is contained in The Redbook, (Chapter 6, Article 6.8) the official document for the governance of the University.

Nonacademic Grievances

Students enrolled in the University of Louisville are governed by the nonacademic grievance procedures administered by the Office of the Vice-President for Student Affairs. Guidelines are set out in the Redbook, Chapter 6, Article 6.7.

School of Music

About the School

The University Of Louisville School Of Music offers the serious student of music an opportunity to study with distinguished faculty and to participate in a wide range of musical activities, both within the School and the community. Historically and philosophically, the School has had a profound impact on the cultural life of Louisville; its faculty and administration have provided much of the leadership and talent for such groups as the Louisville Orchestra, the Kentucky Opera Association, the Louisville Bach Society, and the Chamber Music Society.

The goals of the School of Music are to train students for careers in music and to enhance the quality of life for the University and larger public through performances, compositions, research, and instruction. While pursuing their studies, students are exposed to a full schedule of concerts and recitals by world-renown artists and performers.

The School of Music, founded in 1932, has been located on the Belknap Campus since 1980 in a building which was designed and built specifically for music. It contains two recital halls, a 15,000 square-foot music library, forty-four teaching studios, seventy-six practice rooms, and three dance studios.

General Regulations

The officials and instructors of the School of Music do not assume the responsibility of notifying students concerning the regulations of the School of Music or their particular status in regard to credits, requirements, or quality points. They are more than willing to inform them at any time they request the information. It is the responsibility of students to inform themselves in regard to grades, credits, requirements, quality points, and the regulations applying to students in the School of Music. The schedules, fees, and regulations specified are subject to change without notice.

Advanced-standing credit: Advanced-standing credit in any applied music subject (piano, voice, organ, guitar, band, or orchestral instruments) or in music theory will be granted only by examination, and then only after the student has satisfactorily pursued advanced work in that subject for one semester.

Applied music lesson credit: All full-time students pursuing a professional degree in music will receive a one-hour private lesson per week in their major applied music subject, regardless of the number of credit hours allowed for the course. Students enrolled in the B.A. degree program will receive at least a half hour lesson per week in applied music. In general, applied music courses require one hour of daily practice for each hour of credit.

Applied music teacher assignment: Each entering student will be assigned to an applied music instructor. If the student prefers to choose his/her own teacher, every effort will be made to accommodate those students who wish to choose their own teachers.

If, for any reason, students desire to change applied music teachers, they shall address their request in writing to the division head. The action taken must depend upon the circumstances in each instance.

Applied music jury examinations: Students requesting credit for applied music study shall be examined by a committee of the faculty at the end of each grading period. Literature presented for examination may not be repeated in whole or in part at a subsequent examination.

For the sophomore evaluation applied examination (students registered for MUS 202, 204, 206, 212, 214), each student must perform eleven minutes of music consisting of a minimum of three pieces of varying styles. If the length of the selected works will not allow three pieces to be heard within the allotted time, the student should consult with the applied teacher to select appropriate cuts or stopping points. If a composition has an accompaniment, it must be performed with accompaniment. At least one of the pieces on the jury must be with accompaniment (with the exception of keyboard instruments, guitar, and harp).

Faculty may grade their own students on all applied exams, including the sophomore evaluation applied examination.

For all applied exams, including the sophomore evaluation applied examination and graded recitals, the applied instructor shall have the right to raise or lower the jury or recital grade by one letter for the final grade; in cases where the student has failed to fulfill syllabus requirements, such as attendance, the instructor may lower the jury grade by more than one letter for the final grade.

Applied music grade requirements: A student pursuing a degree in music who does not receive a grade of “C-” or above on their instrument or voice at the end of any semester must repeat that level. If a grade of “C-” or above is not received at the end of the next semester’s study, the student will not be allowed to continue study in the School of Music. Exceptions to this rule must be by written notice of faculty action.

Attendance at Area Meetings: Attendance is required at all Area Meetings for students in the area. These are usually not weekly events, but held a few announced times during the semester. Non-area meeting weeks are reserved for studio master classes during that time.

Electives: Music electives in any Bachelor of Music degree should be chosen from courses in Music History, Music Theory/Composition, Music Education, Music Literature, Music Pedagogy, Music Therapy, Jazz, a secondary applied area, or a non-required ensemble. Courses beyond the degree requirement in the student’s major applied area or in the required major ensemble(s) are not appropriate.

For the Bachelor of Arts degree, in addition to the electives listed for the Bachelor of Music, applied music courses beyond the required four semesters are acceptable as music electives. MUH courses will not be accepted as music electives. School of Music students may count up to two one-hour Physical Education courses toward the general elective requirement.

Enrollment: In order to take music courses, students must be enrolled in the School of Music or have permission of the instructor.

Official notices: Students must respond to official notices issued by administrative boards or sent by individual letters. Failure to comply may lead to suspension from the school. During the semester, an instructor shall notify each student whose work is below the grade of “C” and shall report his/her name to the Dean.

Participation in ensembles: The following are the guidelines by which undergraduate music students participate in ensembles:

- 1) All full-time undergraduate music majors are required to participate each semester in the principal ensemble designated for their primary instrument:
 - Strings: Symphony Orchestra
 - Woodwind, brass, or percussion: Symphonic Band, Concert Band, Wind Ensemble, Wind Symphony, Marching Band *
 - Voice: Collegiate Chorale, University Chorus *
 - Keyboard/Guitar: Any of the above dependent upon qualifications and/or interests. *
 - Jazz: Jazz Ensemble or Jazz Repertory Ensemble*

* Specific ensemble assignment is solely dependent on the result of the ensemble audition.

Note: The principal ensemble is the only ensemble that can fulfill the ensemble requirement for each degree program.

Full-time students who fail to enroll for a major ensemble each semester will be in violation of the catalog and subject to academic action. A student who fails to register for the appropriate ensemble during a semester will be placed on immediate Academic Warning. If the student has failed to resolve the ensemble registration by the end of the semester, the student will be placed on Academic Probation. A student who fails to register for the appropriate ensemble in a second consecutive semester will, if the ensemble has not been added by the end of the first week of classes, be placed on immediate Academic Suspension.

- 2) For all part-time students, participation in a principal ensemble must keep pace with the number of hours accumulated. For each 15 hours completed, at least one credit hour must be in ensemble.

- 3) Full-time non-degree (special) students must participate in an appropriate principal ensemble. Part-time non-degree students are not required to do so.

4) Music Therapy equivalency students holding a degree in music (or with a bachelor's degree in a different field, but whose transcripts indicate that they have taken eight ensembles), are not required to take an ensemble.

5) Under no circumstances will participation in amateur, semiprofessional, or professional organizations outside the University be substituted for the University requirement.

6) After achieving Upper Division status, the student may petition to have a different major ensemble substituted for the designated principal ensemble. The petition must be made prior to the ensemble auditions for the semester during which the substitution will take place. Petitions for Fall semester substitutions will be due by April 21st of the preceding semester. Petitions for Spring semester substitutions will be due by October 21st of the preceding semester. The petition will be considered by the Ensemble Directors' Committee, and the student will be notified of the committee's decision prior to ensemble auditions. The committee will consider the following criteria, among others:

- a) Student's degree program
- b) Needs of the ensembles

Note: Substitution for principal ensembles is considered an exception to the guidelines for ensemble participation. Petitions must be submitted for each semester of substitution.

7) Wind/brass/percussion principals enrolled in the Bachelor of Music (Pre-Certification-Instrumental) or Bachelor of Music in Music Education degree programs are required to fulfill two years of ensemble performance in the Marching Band. Entering students will be expected to fulfill this requirement during the freshman and sophomore years. Transfer students will be required to fulfill a minimum of one year. A second year may be required based upon evaluation of the transcript.

Public performance: Students are encouraged to be active in public performance and should consult their applied teacher in preparing for their performances.

Public recitals: School of Music students may schedule recitals any day when the recital halls are free and the building is open, provided they have the approval of their instructor and the necessary signatures of appropriate faculty for grading when applicable. Before a student schedules a recital, the student must obtain a syllabus from the applied teacher. The syllabus will outline the following steps:

Guidelines for Degree Recitals

1. A completed Recital Reservation Form, along with payment of recital fees, must be submitted to the Facilities Coordinator, within two weeks of the time a recital date is tentatively reserved, or the date will be released. This form must include:
 - a) the applied teacher's signature.
 - b) the names and signatures of all performers (except for composition recitals).
 - c) the names and signatures of the recital committee.
 - d) the specific repertoire.
 - 1) Performance and pedagogy degree recitals are expected to show the performer's musical maturity and versatility. A degree recital program must be approved by the student's applied instructor. Minimum recital lengths will be determined by the appropriate area faculty and indicated on all applied syllabi.
 - 2) For composition degree recitals, all works must be by the student presenting the recital. Performance time must be a minimum of 50 minutes.
 - 3) Practicums by Master of Music candidates in conducting must be a minimum of 30 minutes. In some cases, it may be necessary to consider a conducting practicum a cumulative effort including performances from more than one concert, with a minimum of 30 minutes of music.
2. The recital committee shall consist of a minimum of three faculty members:
 - a) the student's applied teacher.
 - b) an additional faculty member from the student's applied area.
 - c) a faculty member from a different division.

At least one member of a graduate recital committee must be a Senior Member of the Graduate Faculty. The committee will hear the recital and grade it.

3. Recital Approval Process:
 - a) For performance and pedagogy degree recitals, a recital hearing will be required at least four weeks in advance of the recital date, to be heard by the applied teacher plus two other faculty members. The student, in consultation with the applied teacher, is responsible for arranging the hearing. The student must bring a Recital Hearing Form and a listing of the recital program to the hearing. After the hearing, the applied teacher will immediately submit the completed form to the Academic Counselor to confirm the recital date.
 - b) For composition degree recitals, the student must show all scores and parts to the private teacher and one other composition faculty member, who will verify that all necessary materials are complete and of an acceptable quality for rehearsal and performance. This review committee must sign the Composition Recital Approval Form, which must include the names of all performers, at least four weeks in advance of the recital date. The student is responsible for obtaining the necessary signatures by the designated date, and the private teacher is responsible for submitting the form to the Academic Counselor to confirm the recital date.
 - c) For conducting practicums, the hearing shall consist of attendance at rehearsal(s) of the ensemble(s) preparing the practicum by the applied teacher plus two other faculty members between one and three weeks in advance of the recital date. The student, in consultation with the applied teacher, is responsible for disseminating a rehearsal schedule to members of the hearing committee. The student must bring a Recital Hearing Form and a listing of the recital program to the rehearsal(s). After the hearing, the applied teacher will immediately submit the completed form to the Academic Counselor to confirm the recital date.
4. All students presenting degree recitals are required to write program notes, except students presenting junior recitals. Piano Pedagogy students using the lecture recital option may substitute an appropriate hand-out. For vocal works, the program must also include the original texts and English translations. Program notes must be reviewed at least five weeks before the recital date by the applied teacher and one other faculty member. The program notes must receive approval by both reviewers (on the Program Information Sheet) before being submitted for printing.

5. At least three weeks in advance of the recital date, the student must submit a completed Program Information Sheet, with the appropriate signatures, along with a complete recital program and approved program notes (including texts and translations for vocal works), to the Publications and Media Relations Office for printing. The student must submit the recital program and program notes electronically, in the format specified by the Publications and Media Relations office, along with a typed hard copy.
6. The student must be enrolled in applied lessons (or conducting seminar for conducting practicums) during the semester in which the recital is presented.
7. The student is guaranteed at least three hours of rehearsal in the appropriate recital hall.

Guidelines for Non-degree Recitals

1. A non-degree recital may be a full recital (performance time must be a minimum of 50 minutes) or a shared recital (each participant's performance time must be a minimum of 25 minutes).
2. If the recital is intended to take the place of a jury examination, the recital shall be graded by a committee of three faculty members from the student's applied area.
3. A completed Recital Reservation Form, along with payment of recital fees, must be submitted to the Facilities Coordinator within two weeks of the time a recital date is tentatively reserved, or the date will be released. This form must include:
 - a) The applied teacher's signature.
 - b) The names and signatures of all performers.
 - c) The names and signatures of the recital committee, if one is required.
 - d) The specific repertoire.

4. At least three weeks in advance of the recital, the student must:
 - a) Submit a Recital Approval Form, signed by the applied teacher, to the Academic Counselor to confirm the recital date.
 - b) Submit a completed Program Information Sheet with the applied teacher's signature, along with a complete recital program, to the Publications and Media Relations Office for printing. The student must submit the recital program electronically in the format specified by the Publications and Media Relations Office, along with a typed hard copy.
5. If the student wishes to include program notes (not required for non-degree recitals), they must also be submitted electronically, along with a typed hard copy at least three weeks in advance of the recital. All program notes must be approved by the applied teacher.
6. The student must be enrolled in applied lessons during the semester in which the recital is presented.
7. The student is guaranteed at least three hours of rehearsal in the appropriate recital hall.

Additional Guidelines For All Recitals

1. A required or non-required recital of a minimum of 30 minutes of music may take the place of the jury at the end of the semester in which the recital is given, but with the following restrictions:
 - a) a student must appear for a minimum of one jury per year.
 - b) a recital may not replace the Sophomore Examination.
 - c) a substitution cannot be made if there is an application for advanced standing.
2. The above stipulations do not apply to those students whose teachers desire that they perform in programs not announced or open to the general public.
3. There is a fee for all recitals to help cover the cost of programs and recording. Students must refer to the Recital Guidelines Packets available in the Dean's Office.

Recital Attendance Requirements: All undergraduate music students must enroll in and complete six semesters of MUS 97 Recital Attendance. To receive the grade of “Satisfactory” for this required non-credit course, each undergraduate student must attend a minimum of twelve (12) convocations or recitals for each of the six enrollments in MUS 97. Students are encouraged to attend concerts over and above the twelve required events, both on and off campus.

The grade will be determined as follows:

Attend 12 or more = S (Satisfactory)
Attend 9-11 = I (Incomplete)
Attend less than 9 – U (Unsatisfactory)

The grade of “I” (Incomplete) must be made up the following semester by attending double the number of recitals/concerts missed to attain the grade of “S.” If the Incomplete is not made up the following semester, the Incomplete will lapse to the grade of “U” and the entire semester of Recital Attendance must be repeated to earn the required credit. No petitions will be considered.

Designated recitals and concerts include the following:

- Thursday convocations—students may count a maximum of 7 (seven) Thursday convocations per semester toward their Recital Attendance requirement.
- Faculty recitals
- Senior or Master’s recitals
- School of Music concerts given by the school’s major ensembles (Symphony Orchestra, Symphonic Band, Early Music Ensemble, Opera Theater, Collegiate Chorale, New Music Ensemble, Jazz or Jazz Repertory Ensemble, Concert Band, Wind Symphony, Wind Ensemble, University Chorus)
- A maximum of four concerts given by the school’s minor ensembles (Piano/String/Woodwind/Brass/Chamber Ensembles, Jazz Combo, Clarinet/Flute/Guitar/Harp/Horn/Irish Music/Percussion/Historical Brass/Saxophone/TECHLA/Trombone/Trumpet/Tuba-Euphonium Ensembles, Community Band, Opera Workshop)
- Student composer concerts
- One musicale per semester sponsored by Delta Omicron
- One musicale per semester sponsored by Phi Mu Alpha

In addition, the following events held in the School of Music Building are acceptable:

- Guest artist recitals
- New Music Festival
- Louisville Orchestra concerts
- Chamber Music Society of Louisville
- Hattie Bishop Speed Endowed Concert Series
- Louisville Bach Society
- Kentucky Center Chamber Players
- Ceruti Chamber Players
- Ars Vocalis

A minimum of 2 (two) attendance credits must be attained from attending concerts by the Louisville Orchestra, Kentucky Opera, Louisville Ballet, Louisville Bach Society, Chamber Music Society, Choral Arts Society, Kentucky Center Chamber Players, or Speed Series.

In order to receive credit for an off-campus concert, a student must submit a ticket stub (except in the case of a free concert) and program to the Instructor of Record for MUS 97. The student’s name and ID number must be clearly written on the ticket stub and program submitted, and the ticket stub and program must be submitted within one week of the performance date.

Students may not receive recital attendance credit for convocations or other performances in which they participate as a performer. Students are advised to note this change from recital attendance requirements in previous years.

Student Performance Requirement: Students taking applied lessons for 2 or 4 credit hours must perform at least once per semester in a public forum after receiving credit for their first semester of applied study. Such performances may be of the following types: convocation, area recital, major opera role, full or half solo recital, solo performance with a major ensemble, or other performance sanctioned in advance by the student’s instructor. Each performance must be included on the Repertory Record form submitted at the applied exam.

Teaching: Students wishing to teach should confer with their applied teacher.

Note: Teaching in the Music Building is strictly prohibited except under the auspices of the Community Music Program or collegiate programs of the School of Music.

Upper Division Assessment: All students enrolled in a music degree program will be reviewed at the approximate midpoint of the selected program in order for students to achieve Upper Division status.

Students must meet the standards of this review to register for 400-level courses in music. Both the elements and standards of the review are established by the faculty and include credit for MUS 242 Theory IV; MUS 361-01 and 361-02 Music Literature; 4 semesters of Applied Instrument at the course numbers required for the degree; MUS 359 Conducting (all BM programs; not required for BA programs); Piano Proficiency Examination; MUS 97 Recital Attendance, with “S” for 4 semesters; Ensemble Participation; cumulative 2.5 GPA (good standing); minimum of 48 credit hours completed; pass English 101 or 105 and 3 additional Gen Ed courses.

Additional specific elements and standards appropriate to specific degree programs in jazz studies, music composition, music education, music history, instrumental and vocal performance, pedagogy, music theory, and music therapy are required of students in order to achieve Upper Division status and to continue in the degree program. Specific degree requirements are determined by the division and area faculties and are outlined in the Music Student Handbook and the various Division handbooks.

School of Nursing

Office of Student Services

The Office of Student Services (OSS) is available to assist students in planning their academic program and to provide students with information regarding policies, procedures, and general information. The office is located in Rooms 3063-3066 in the K Wing Building. Office hours are 8:30am to 5:00pm Monday through Friday. The phone number is (502) 852-1196.

Orientation

Students admitted to the Upper Division of all BSN programs, will be required to attend a mandatory orientation conducted by the School of Nursing.

Clinical Requirements

Before beginning the first clinical course for any BSN program, (BSN, RN-BSN or Accelerated 2nd Degree BSN) students must be in compliance with the following clinical requirements:

- valid RN license with no restrictions for students in RN-BSN program
- submit documentation of CPR certification (Adult, Child and Infant).

Additional clinical compliance requirements are published in the School of Nursing Student Handbook. It is the student's responsibility to read the catalog, student handbooks, and official notices (e.g. School of Nursing web page, Blackboard, mailings) to be informed about grades, credits, and requirements, and to abide by the regulations of the University and the School of Nursing. This handbook is available to students upon admission to the Upper Division and is updated annually.

Removal from Clinical

A student may not participate in clinical sections assigned to nursing units or small agencies where the student currently works or previously has worked for pay, or in which the student has been hospitalized, without permission from the appropriate instructor. Any student participating in a clinical section addressed by this policy may be removed from that section at the request of the agency or the instructor. Every effort will be made to accommodate the student in other clinical sections of the courses. A student who is unsafe in the clinical area may be dismissed from the program.

Health Services Fee

On April 26, 1999, the University of Louisville Board of Trustees approved a Health Services Fee. Every HSC student will be assessed the Health Services Fee each semester. Service provided by the fee:

- All pathogen exposure (TB and needle stick) to include outside labs, x-ray, and medications
- All visits to the Student Health Services

Mental Health Services Medications, lab, or X-ray costs that might be associated with these visits are not covered by the fee.

Clinical Laboratory Fee

The U of L Board of Trustees approved a Clinical Laboratory Fee for all upper division nursing students effective Fall 2005. ~~DELETE THIS SENTENCE~~ The fee is $75.00 for each semester (summer, fall, spring) a student is enrolled in any upper division nursing course. The purpose of the fee is to support the maintenance and operation of the Learning Resource Center and the expenses associated with providing clinical instruction.

Transportation

Students are individually responsible for arranging their own transportation to the clinical sites or other outside clinical experiences. Absence from class or scheduled clinical experiences due to transportation problems is not acceptable. Carpool arrangements will not be part of the decision making process when clinical assignments are made.

Student Paper and Assignments

Student papers/assignments may be displayed as student examples for course files and accreditation purposes. Identifying student information will be removed in the event of such usage. Student work used for any other purposes will require permission from the student(s) prior to faculty use.

Technical Standards for Performance

Technical standards, distinguished from academic standards, consists of the minimum physical, cognitive, and emotional requirements for the full participation in the nursing educational programs. The nature of professional nursing education is to prepare practitioners to interact with clients and provide safe, competent nursing care. It is the responsibility of the faculty to regularly assess all individual student performance and abilities in relation to both the academic and technical standards of the program. Fitness for the profession will be based on an individualized assessment of the student's abilities to achieve an array of competencies essential for safe nursing practice.

Physical attributes

Students must have functional use of the somatic senses and the senses of vision and hearing. Students must have the ability to observe through visual, auditory, and somatic senses. Students must have adequate motor capabilities to safely perform required diagnostic and therapeutic maneuvers and procedures.

Communication Skills

Students must possess basic communication skills upon which to base the development of client oriented professional communication.

Cognitive Functioning

Students must possess the cognitive abilities required to receive information, categorize, analyze, and manipulate data essential to the care of clients. Students must have the ability to make decisions quickly, and to function effectively on a regular and predictable schedule.

Social and Behavioral Functioning

Students must possess social patterns of behavior consistent with safe and ethical practice with individual clients, families and groups of people. Students must have the mental control to handle emotions that might affect practice performance.

Minimum Grade Requirements

Students must earn a grade of "C" or above in the following courses (or their equivalents):

ENGL 101: Introduction to College Writing
 ENGL 102: Intermediate College Writing
 BIOL 257: Introductory Microbiology
 BIOL 258: Microbiology Lab
 CHEM 105: Chemistry for Health Professionals or equivalent
 HSS 303: Human Nutrition
 BIOL 260: Anatomy & Physiology I
 BIOL 261: Anatomy & Physiology II
 BIOL 262: Anatomy & Physiology Lab
 NURS 338 Pathophysiology
 NURS 395 Pharmacology

Repeating Anatomy and Physiology courses

The following courses can be repeated only once. Students who do not pass the second time will be dismissed from the program.

BIOL 260: Anatomy & Physiology I
 BIOL 261: Anatomy & Physiology II
 BIOL 262: Anatomy & Physiology Lab

Anatomy and Physiology Completion Requirement

The School of Nursing requires the completion of two semesters of Anatomy and Physiology with a lab to be completed at the same institution prior to admission into the upper division curriculum. (BIOL 260, 261, 262)

Transfer courses must be officially evaluated and determined equivalent to the University of Louisville's anatomy and physiology courses. Students completing these courses at different institutions must have them evaluated and petition to the Undergraduate Academic Affairs Committee for approval of transfer credits.

Academic Bankruptcy & Forgiveness & Fresh Start

Academic Bankruptcy and Forgiveness policies allow students who are returning to college after an absence of two or more years to request the adjustment of their records for one or more entire semesters of previous college work, provided certain criteria are met. View information on Academic Bankruptcy and Forgiveness and the new Fresh Start policy.

Student Grievance Policies

Representatives from administration, faculty, and students serve on the School of Nursing's Undergraduate Admissions, Progression,

Graduation Sub-Committee. This committee reviews academic policies related to undergraduate nursing students. Student representatives have full voting rights except on confidential matters involving other students; in these cases the student representatives are excused. Students wishing to petition a School of Nursing policy should contact an Academic Counselor concerning procedure, students' rights and responsibilities, and appropriate steps to take for resolution within the unit. University of Louisville also has a Student Academic Grievance Policy designed to provide fair means of dealing with student complaints regarding a specific action or decision made by the faculty as a whole, a faculty member, or the unit. Students who believe they have been treated unfairly, discriminated against, or have had their rights abridged may initiate a grievance which shall be processed in accordance with the Student Academic Grievance Procedure pursuant to The Redbook. (See University of Louisville Student Handbook for more information.)

Student Petitions

Any student wanting to be exempted from a School of Nursing policy should make an appointment with an academic counselor for advice and, if necessary, to file a petition. The academic counselor will submit the request to the Associate Dean for Undergraduate Programs who will make the decision or determine that the Undergraduate Admissions, Progression, Graduation Sub-Committee should hear the petition. After hearing the petition, the committee makes a recommendation to the dean, who makes the final decision. A student may not petition to the Undergraduate Admissions, Progression, Graduation Sub-Committee for a change of grade in a course. However, the student may petition to the Committee regarding the fairness in which a grade was calculated. The Committee does not have the authority to recommend grade changes.

Academic Dishonesty Policy

Procedure for Suspected Academic Dishonesty

The term "academic dishonesty" means obtaining or seeking to obtain an unfair academic advantage for oneself or for any other student; it includes lying, cheating, stealing, or engaging in otherwise dishonest conduct in the course of or related to any academic exercise (Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities, University of Louisville). According to the Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities at the University of Louisville, academic dishonesty is prohibited at the University. Academic dishonesty is a serious offense because it diminishes the quality of scholarship, makes accurate evaluation of student progress impossible, and defrauds those in society who must ultimately depend upon the knowledge and integrity of the institution and its students and faculty. Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, cheating, fabrication, falsification, plagiarism, multiple submission, and complicity in academic dishonesty (Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities).

After identifying suspected academic dishonesty occurring in any academic program at the University of Louisville School of Nursing, the following steps will be taken:

1. A meeting to discuss the suspected academic dishonesty will occur with the faculty member, the course coordinator/leader, and the student(s). This meeting should take place, if possible, within 10 working days after identification of the suspected academic dishonesty.
2. The faculty member in collaboration with the course coordinator/leader will provide a letter to the appropriate Associate Dean or his/her designee, if possible, within five working days of completion of investigation of the academic dishonesty. The faculty member's letter shall include (1) a detailed description of the academic dishonesty; (2) copies of supportive material; and (3) a recommendation commensurate with the seriousness and circumstances of the academic dishonesty.
3. The appropriate Associate Dean or his/her designee will schedule a meeting with the involved parties prior to making a decision.
4. The appropriate Associate Dean or his/her designee will respond in writing to the faculty member by accepting or modifying the recommendation, if possible, within five working days of receipt of the recommendation.
5. The appropriate Associate Dean or his/her designee will send a letter to the student(s) regarding the outcomes of the - investigation and/or consequences, if possible, within five working days of notifying the faculty member of his/her written recommendation. Copies of this letter will be sent to the student's Office of Student Services advisor and the Dean of the School of Nursing. The letter to the student(s) shall include a copy of this procedure.

6. All records and documents obtained, prepared or related to the investigation and disposition of a charge of academic dishonesty will be maintained in the student's Office of Student Services file.

Disability Statement

Students with disabilities, who need reasonable modifications to successfully complete assignments and otherwise satisfy course criteria, are encouraged to meet with the instructor as early as possible to identify and plan specific accommodations. If determined necessary, students will be directed to the Disability Resource Center. Any identified modification(s) deemed necessary must be documented in writing by the Disability Resource Center and provided to the School of Nursing. The Disability Resource Center must re-evaluate and provide documentation each semester.

J.B. Speed School of Engineering

Mission

The mission of the J.B. Speed School of Engineering is to serve the university, the Commonwealth of Kentucky, and the engineering profession by providing high quality educational programs to all students; engaging in research and scholarship that will extend knowledge; and assisting the economic development of the regional, state and national economies through technology transfer.

History

The Speed Scientific School was established as part of the University of Louisville in September 1924 as a result of a $250,000 endowment from the James Breckenridge Speed Foundation. James Breckenridge Speed (1844 - 1912) was a descendant of the prominent Speed family and an industrial pioneer in the City of Louisville. An illustrious business leader, he oversaw the establishment of Louisville's street railway system, developed and operated large coal interests in Kentucky and was president of the Louisville Cement Company and the Ohio Valley Telephone Company. These industries, in which he maintained an active interest until his death in 1912, were a nucleus around which the City of Louisville and its greater metropolitan area grew to their present industrial stature. It is fitting that his memory be perpetuated in an engineering school bearing his name.

A pioneer class of 72 students started in Fall 1925 in chemical, civil, electrical, and mechanical engineering. The newly renovated Brigman Hall served as the main engineering building until 1942. Upon its inception, the Speed Scientific School offered a four-year Bachelor of Science degree based on a quarter plan, with alternating quarters of coursework and cooperative industry experience in the sophomore and junior years. To this day, the cooperative education program has been a mainstay of the curriculum and Speed School remains as one of the few engineering schools with a mandatory program.

The engineering campus continued to grow through the generosity of Dr. William S. Speed and Mrs. Olive Speed Sackett, the children of James Breckenridge Speed and benefactors of his foundation, and Mrs. Virginia Speed, his wife. They made additional grants toward the erection of the James B. Speed Building (1942), Frederic M. Sackett Hall (1948), and William S. Speed Hall (1958). The Institute of Industrial Research (1946) was also constructed during this period and was later renovated to become the Laura Kersey Library, named after the first Speed School librarian.

The Speed School campus continued its growth on the south-side of Eastern Parkway. The Chemical Engineering Building was built in 1967 and renamed in 1975 to honor Robert C. Ernst, who served as the third Dean of Speed School. The Vogt Building, a computerized engineering design center, was built in 1989 to honor Henry Vogt, whose family continues to play an important role in Speed School. Speed School then spread to the other side of Eastern Parkway with the construction of the New Academic Building in 1996. This building was later dedicated to Paul B. Lutz, an outstanding engineering faculty member and benefactor. Lutz Hall houses several research labs and centers and is home to the bioengineering program, the newest of the degree programs. In the 1970's the school had also added degree programs in computer and industrial engineering. The newest addition to the Speed campus is the Shumaker Research Building (2006), housing a world-class cleanroom facility and numerous engineering research efforts.

In 2004, the J.B. Speed Scientific School officially changed its name to the J.B. Speed School of Engineering, reflecting its emphasis on engineering. It is also simply referred to as Speed School by those familiar with the school.

Definition of the Profession

A formal definition of engineering was approved in 1979 by the Engineers Council for Professional Development, now known as ABET, Inc., the accrediting board for engineering and technology programs. This definition still applies today:

"Engineering is the profession in which knowledge of the mathematical and natural sciences gained by study, experience, and practice is applied with judgment to develop ways to utilize, economically, the materials and forces of nature for the benefit of mankind."

Students of engineering should graduate with knowledge of engineering sciences and design, experience in working in teams, have strong written and oral communication skills, and be well-versed on the impact of solutions in a global, economic, environmental, and social context. In particular, engineers have a duty to society to understand and abide by their discipline's Codes of Ethics. The preamble of the National Society of Professional Engineers (NSPE) Code of Ethics for Engineers states:

“Engineering is an important and learned profession. As members of this profession, engineers are expected to exhibit the highest standards of honesty and integrity. Engineering has a direct and vital impact on the quality of life for all people. Accordingly, the services provided by engineers require honesty, impartiality, fairness, and equity, and must be dedicated to the protection of the public health, safety, and welfare. Engineers must perform under a standard of professional behavior that requires adherence to the highest principles of ethical conduct.”

Structure of Speed School Programs

The engineering programs are structured such that students will complete a program consisting of two semesters in Engineering Fundamentals, nine or ten semesters in Departmental Studies to complete the Bachelor of Science degree, followed by a fifth year in Graduate Studies for the Master of Engineering degree. To complete the program in five years, Speed School students have a full course load during the summer semesters. The curriculum is designed as an integrated five-year program, with a cooperative education component, culminating in the Master of Engineering (M.Eng.) degree. The Bachelor of Science and Master of Engineering programs are both accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission of ABET, Inc.

Programs

The engineering programs of the University of Louisville are offered through the J.B. Speed School of Engineering. The typical undergraduate program of study covers a period of four calendar years spanning eleven semesters, which includes three summer semesters. Study includes both academic course work and cooperative work experience with industry, wherein a student is provided with conditions similar to those encountered in engineering practice.

Upon successful completion of undergraduate study and cooperative education, the student receives the Bachelor of Science degree in one of seven areas of specialization:

- Bioengineering
- Chemical Engineering

- Civil Engineering
- Computer Engineering & Computer Science
- Electrical Engineering
- Industrial Engineering
- Mechanical Engineering

Students completing requirements for the Bachelor of Science degree at the J.B. Speed School of Engineering and achieving the required grade point average are encouraged to complete the requirements for the Master of Engineering (M.Eng.) degree if the professional practice of engineering is a career objective. According to the requirements of the Kentucky State Board of Licensure for Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors, a student of the J.B. Speed School of Engineering who has completed 105 semester hours in an engineering curriculum is eligible to sit for the Fundamentals of Engineering examination as part of the requirements for registration as a Professional Engineer in Kentucky. All seven Bachelor of Science programs are accredited by ABET, Inc. The five year M.Eng. program at the University of Louisville includes one year of graduate study beyond the four years of undergraduate studies and is also accredited by ABET, Inc.

Students who come to the J.B. Speed School of Engineering with a Bachelor of Science degree from another accredited program enter into a one year Master of Science program. In addition to the previously mentioned seven areas of specialization, a master's program in Engineering Management is also offered by the Industrial Engineering Department. Those who are interested in advanced engineering research or in engineering education, may also pursue the Doctor of Philosophy degree. The Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy degrees are available in all areas of specialization except for bioengineering (a new program which will soon be offering these graduate degrees). Information about these degrees and other advanced degrees awarded by the University of Louisville may be obtained from the Graduate Catalog.

The conferring of degrees by the University of Louisville is conditioned upon timely completion of all requirements in the opinion of the Dean and faculty and issuance of appropriate formal documents by the Registrar, regardless of participation in commencement.

Accreditation

The agency responsible for the accreditation of educational programs leading to degrees in engineering is the Engineering Accreditation Commission (EAC) of ABET, Inc., originally known as the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology. The purpose of accreditation is to identify those institutions which offer professional programs in engineering and demonstrate that the programs meet specified criteria. Accreditation of engineering programs began in 1932 and the University of Louisville's engineering programs have been continuously accredited from this time.

All accredited engineering programs must demonstrate that their students attain the following Student Outcomes:

- a) an ability to apply knowledge of mathematics, science, and engineering
- b) an ability to design and conduct experiments, as well as to analyze and interpret data
- c) an ability to design a system, component, or process to meet desired needs within realistic constraints such as economic, environmental, social, political, ethical, health and safety, manufacturability, and sustainability
- d) an ability to function on multidisciplinary teams
- e) an ability to identify, formulate, and solve engineering problems
- f) an understanding of professional and ethical responsibility
- g) an ability to communicate effectively
- h) the broad education necessary to understand the impact of engineering solutions in a global, economic, environmental, and societal context
- i) a recognition of the need for, and an ability to engage in life-long learning
- j) a knowledge of contemporary issues
- k) an ability to use the techniques, skills, and modern engineering tools necessary for engineering practice

All undergraduate Speed School programs demonstrate that these outcomes are attained through an assessment process documented with ABET, Inc.

ABET, Inc. accredits programs at either the basic or advanced level. The general basic (baccalaureate) level curricular content must include at least:

- One year (32 semester credit hours or 25% of total hours) of an appropriate combination of college level mathematics and basic sciences (some with experimental experience),
- One and-one-half years of engineering topics, consisting of engineering sciences and engineering design.

- A general education component that complements the technical content of the curriculum.
- A major design experience based on the knowledge and skills acquired in earlier course work and incorporating appropriate engineering standards and multiple realistic constraints.

The general criteria for advanced level (masters) programs are:

- Fulfillment of basic level (baccalaureate) criteria.
- Fulfillment of program criteria appropriate to the masters level specialization area.
- One year of study beyond the basic level.

The University of Louisville is currently the only university in the country with programs having both baccalaureate and master level accreditation. The accredited programs are the Bachelor of Science (B.S.) and Master of Engineering (M.Eng.) programs in Bioengineering, Chemical Engineering, Civil Engineering, Computer Engineering and Computer Science, Electrical Engineering, Industrial Engineering, and Mechanical Engineering.

Code of Student Conduct

The Code of Student Conduct is the University's policy regarding non-academic discipline of students. The general responsibility for non-academic discipline of all students enrolled in the University of Louisville shall be vested in the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs. The Dean of Students Office has been delegated the responsibility of administering the Code of Student Conduct. The Code of Student Conduct is available online at <http://louisville.edu/dos/policies-and-procedures/code-of-student-conduct.html>.

Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities

The Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities is set forth in writing in order to give students general notice of certain of their rights and responsibilities at the University of Louisville. Further rights and responsibilities are set forth in other University rules and policies, including the Code of Student Conduct and academic unit bulletins. The Code of Student Rights and responsibilities is available online at <http://louisville.edu/dos/policies-and-procedures/code-of-student-rights-and-responsibilities.html>.

Student Classroom Conduct

Students are expected to cooperate with all instructors to achieve an optimal learning environment. Conduct that disrupts such an environment will be dealt with and may result in the student being withdrawn from the course and/or facing additional academic penalties.

Academic Dishonesty

A primary goal of the School of Engineering is to educate men and women who will serve the engineering community with competence and integrity. Academic dishonesty is a serious offense at the J.B. Speed School of Engineering because it undermines the bonds of trust and honesty between members of the community and defrauds those who may eventually depend upon our knowledge and integrity. Students are expected to recognize and to uphold standards of intellectual integrity. The School of Engineering assumes, as a minimum standard of conduct in academic matters, that the student is honest; credit for courses is given and received on the assumption and condition that all work submitted represents the student's own efforts. Academic dishonesty is defined in the Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities. It is the student's responsibility to become familiar with the Code. Allegations of academic dishonesty are handled in accordance with the Procedures for Dealing with Breaches of Academic Integrity. These procedures are available online at:

<http://louisville.edu/speed/academics/policies/academicPolicies.html#AcademicIntegrity>

Student Complaints

If a student has a complaint about courses, grades, deficiencies, or decisions made by faculty members, advisors, department chairs, directors, etc., they should use the procedure outlined below. In addition, each faculty and/or staff member involved in the process should make written documentation as each step is implemented.

- The student should first discuss the matter with the person involved and attempt to resolve the complaint through informal discussion.
- If there is no resolution, the student should discuss the matter with that person's supervisor or immediate superior in the department or office, who should attempt to mediate a resolution.
- If there is no resolution as the result of these discussions, the student should write to the appropriate department chair or director specifying the nature of the concern, with a copy of the letter to the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs.

- Within a reasonable period of time, depending on the time urgency, the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs will contact the department chair or director, in writing, if a response has not been made.
- Only in exceptional cases, and as a last resort, should the student be advised to write directly to the Dean.
- If the student is unable to obtain a resolution through these procedures, he or she may request the Student Grievance Office to attempt informal mediation of the problem.

Grievance Procedure

Unresolved student complaints regarding academic matters are resolved through the Speed School grievance procedure. Academic matters are those concerning instructional activities, research activities, activities closely related to either of these functions or decisions involving instruction or affecting academic freedom. Any student who believes he has been treated unfairly, discriminated against, or has his rights abridged may initiate a grievance. The student shall first seek to have the matter resolved internally through informal discussion and through administrative channels. If informal resolution does not occur, a formal grievance should be submitted to the Speed School Student Grievance Committee. A detailed description of the Academic Grievance Procedure is given at <http://louisville.edu/speed/academics/policies/academicPolicies.html#AcademicGrievanceProcedure>.

Academic Bankruptcy & Forgiveness & Fresh Start

Academic Bankruptcy and Forgiveness policies allow students who are returning to college after an absence of two or more years to request the adjustment of their records for one or more entire semesters of previous college work, provided certain criteria are met. View information on Academic Bankruptcy and Forgiveness and the new Fresh Start policy.

Bioengineering Department

Lutz Hall, Room 419
(502) 852-6356

Bioengineering is a relatively new engineering discipline when compared to the long-standing traditions of other fields of engineering. A bioengineer uses traditional engineering skills and tools to analyze and solve problems in biology and medicine. Bioengineers interact with biologists, biochemists, physicians, physiologists, and therapists to design, develop and manufacture instruments, devices, and software, or to develop new procedures to solve clinical problems.

The aging of the population and the focus on health issues will increase the demand for better medical devices and equipment designed by bioengineers and the employment opportunities for bioengineers are expected to grow faster than the average for all occupations through 2012. Combined with a growing job market and financial rewards, bioengineers have the gratification that comes from working to meet the needs of society. Bioengineers choose their field to be of service to people, to be a part of the excitement of working with living systems, and to apply advanced technology to the complex problems of biology and medicine.

The areas of emphasis in Bioengineering at Speed School include biomedical devices, bio-Micro/Nano-Electro-Mechanical Systems, cellular, tissue and molecular engineering, biomaterials, imaging.

Mission

The overall mission of the Bioengineering Department is to provide students with an excellent education through coursework, research and co-operative work experience to enable successful, innovative, and life-long careers in bioengineering. Graduates of the program will have a mastery of underlying bioengineering sciences and related technologies, as well as professional, ethical, and societal responsibilities.

Bachelor of Science Program Educational Objectives

The educational objectives of the Bachelor of Science in Bioengineering degree are as follows:

- 1) Provide our graduates with a high quality education, preparing them for a broad range of and successful careers in industry and graduate/professional school.
- 2) Provide graduates with opportunities to develop leadership skills, communication and team building.
- 3) Promote awareness among program graduates of the need for complying with professional ethics codes, understanding societal issues and engaging in life-long learning for continued professional development.

Chemical Engineering Department

Ernst Hall, Room 106
(502) 852-6347

Chemical engineers use their knowledge of basic sciences, mathematics and economics to transform raw materials into useful products. They translate the developments of basic scientists, including chemists, to large-scale production. Chemical engineers provide society with a variety of goods such as petroleum products, plastics, semiconductors, processed foods, pharmaceuticals, and paints and coatings, to name a few. They are also leaders in energy generation and conservation using both traditional and renewable sources; stewardship of natural resources; biotechnology; and environmental protection.

Chemical engineers participate in a diversified number of engineering, scientific, and management activities in plants and refineries, government agencies, consulting and engineering firms, and research laboratories. Their functions include basic and applied research and development related to concepts, products, equipment and entire processes; equipment, process and plant design; production and process engineering; process control and automation; marketing, sales, and service; entrepreneurship aimed at developing new products and processes. Computers are used extensively for computation, simulation and design, real time data acquisition, and digital process control. The chemical engineering skill set proves very useful as the basis for a long-term technical or management career in industry, advanced degree programs in discipline, or careers in the medical arts, patent and environmental law, general business management, technical sales, and other areas which require the application of problem solving to real world issues.

ABET, Inc., accredits the program leading to the degree, Master of Engineering with specialization in Chemical Engineering. The Master of Engineering program permits students to develop a degree of specialization beyond the basic level, in an area of Chemical Engineering such as advanced engineering materials, nanotechnology, polymers, renewable energy, separation methods, environmental stewardship and sustainability, or biotechnology. The department also offers the Bachelor of Science in Chemical Engineering (BCH), the Master of Science (M.S.) and the Ph.D. degrees.

Mission

The mission of the Department of Chemical Engineering is to develop graduates, who are academically prepared for the broad profession of Chemical Engineering, which is increasingly complex, diverse and changing. This is to be accomplished through educational programs and the pursuit of scholarship, research and professional service activities. The department is committed to fulfilling its role in the urban mission of the University of Louisville.

Education

The primary mission of the department is to provide a quality education to prepare students to function in a world whose demands are constantly changing, and to develop those skills necessary for a rewarding lifetime of continuous learning and professional service. The faculty members of the Department of Chemical Engineering see the accredited degree program, with mandatory cooperative education, as providing the depth and breadth of education necessary to best fulfill this educational mission.

Scholarship

Through scholarship, the departmental faculty members endeavor to develop new knowledge and methodologies for the benefit of humankind. Scholarship encompasses Teaching, Discovery, Integration and Application. Some of the manifestations of Scholarship are creativity, design, research and development, and the pursuit of academic excellence. Both multidisciplinary and traditional basic and applied research areas are stressed in the department. Academic programs leading to the B.S., MEng, M.S. and Ph.D. degrees provide the needed course-work to fulfill the scholarship mission of the department.

Civil and Environmental Engineering Department

W.S. Speed Hall, Room 101
(502) 852-6276

The Civil Engineers of today are charged with solving some of the most demanding problems in our society's history. These problems relate primarily to the security of America's infrastructure: its highways, bridges, water supply systems, sewers, public buildings to name a few. Because our nation has been so prosperous, it has an extremely large investment in its infrastructure. Without the efforts of Civil Engineers in the maintenance, modernizing, and efficient replacement of the infrastructure, the economic vitality of the nation may well be threatened. Recent estimates indicate that the funds needed to protect the investment will exceed $3 trillion before the end of the century. Civil Engineers will provide the planning, design, and construction for the rescuing of America's physical plant.

Civil Engineering is perhaps the most varied of all the disciplines, with career opportunities ranging from construction supervision to computer programming. Many Civil Engineers eventually become owners of the companies for which they work; in fact, many Civil Engineers own their own "one person" firm. Others will take a fast track to management, often becoming responsible for multi-million dollar projects before age 30. Still others will opt to stay in highly technical design positions.

One area where Civil Engineering is taking the lead is in the use of high technology in the workplace. For example, computer graphics and other forms of computer-aided engineering are fundamental to much of what is accomplished in practice.

The areas of emphasis in Civil and Environmental Engineering at Speed School include structures, geomechanics, water resources, and transportation. In each area, the faculty is committed to preparing the students to meet the infrastructure challenge through the application of high technology, founded upon traditional Civil Engineering strengths. These strengths lie in mathematics, the physical sciences, and analytic skills.

The program leading to the degree Master of Engineering with specialization in Civil Engineering is accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission of the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology (EAC/ABET).

Industrial Engineers design large-scale integrated systems of people, equipment, energy, material, and information. IEs can improve the productivity in a factory, shorten waiting times in hospital emergency rooms, arrange for "just in time" delivery of products, direct barge traffic on inland waterways; and even help to make planes run on time. Specific areas within the IE field include facility layout, material handling systems, production planning and scheduling, ergonomics and human factors, logistics and distribution, operations research, math modeling and optimization, inventory analysis, engineering ergonomics, work design, computer simulation, and more. The study of Industrial Engineering requires knowledge of mathematics, physical and behavioral sciences, economics, computers skills, written and oral communication skills, and an ability to work in team-based environments. Most importantly, IEs recognize that people are essential components in the systems that are being designed, and account for them to ensure overall system effectiveness. ABET, Inc., accredits the program leading to the degree, Master of Engineering with specialization in Industrial Engineering. The department also offers the Bachelor of Science in Industrial Engineering (BSIE), the Master of Science in Industrial Engineering (MSIE), and the PhD in Industrial Engineering (PhD). In addition, the department offers a Master of Engineering in Engineering Management (MEngEM) degree.

Mission

The Industrial Engineering mission statement, which aligns with mission of the University of Louisville and J.B. Speed School of Engineering, is to "provide outstanding industrial engineering educational opportunities for regional, national and international students, while maintaining our societal commitment to the development of new knowledge through the integration of research, scholarship and practice."

Bachelor of Science Program Educational Objectives

The BSIE degree is part of a the fully integrated five-year engineering program leading to the accredited Master of Engineering in Industrial Engineering degree. The BSIE degree requires 132 credit hours and culminates in a senior Capstone Design Project in which students work in groups to solve real industrial engineering problems for a local company. The objectives of the BSIE degree program are to produce ethically responsible graduates who are:

- 1) successful in the professional practice of industrial engineering
- 2) effective communicators and team players, and,
- 3) involved in professional service and lifelong learning.

Bachelor of Science Student Outcomes

The faculty of the Department of Industrial Engineering actively monitors all aspects of the programs to ensure that the objectives are met and that graduates demonstrate the following outcomes:

- a) an ability to apply knowledge of mathematics, science, and engineering
- b) an ability to design and conduct experiments, as well as to analyze and interpret data
- c) an ability to design a system, component, or process to meet desired needs within realistic constraints such as economic, environmental, social, political, ethical, health and safety, manufacturability, and sustainability

Mechanical engineering is the largest U.S. engineering discipline in terms of university enrollment and professional employment. It is also one of the most broadly based of the engineering disciplines. Areas of specialization include applied mechanics, engines and power plants, bioengineering, computer-aided analysis and design, instrumentation and control systems, fluid mechanics and heat transfer, heating, ventilating, and air conditioning (HVAC) systems, mechanical design, sustainable technologies, renewable energy, and environmental engineering. Along with diverse specialization areas comes a wide range of career paths. A mechanical engineer may work as a designer conceiving and optimizing complex machines, or as an analyst or experimentalist performing tasks in support of the product development process. Other functions may involve manufacturing process support, customer field service, technical management, or technical sales. Smaller companies often require engineers to function as generalists capable of performing a wide variety of tasks. In such cases the breadth, depth and rigor of their academic training is a tremendous asset for mechanical engineers. As the economy has become increasingly globalized, companies have found that the diverse knowledge base of mechanical engineers permits them to effectively adapt to ever-changing technical demands.

The University of Louisville Department of Mechanical Engineering offers integrated Bachelor of Science (B.Sc.) and Master of Engineering (M.Eng.) degree programs emphasizing professional practice and the solution of contemporary engineering problems. The B.Sc. and M.Eng. programs are accredited by ABET, Inc.

Mission

The mission of the University of Louisville Mechanical Engineering Department is to supply quality academic instruction through undergraduate, graduate-professional, and graduate degree programs, conduct fundamental and applied research that achieves national and international recognition, and provide professional service to its constituencies, all in support of broad societal needs and the institutional objectives of the University of Louisville.

Bachelor of Science Program Educational Objectives

By providing a rigorous curriculum in technical and non-technical areas, cooperative education internships, and opportunities for participation in projects representative of those encountered in professional practice, the Department of Mechanical Engineering B.Sc. program will produce graduates who:

- 1) Succeed as practicing mechanical engineers in government, industry, academia, and other economic sectors.
- 2) Use their knowledge and skills in mathematics, science, engineering, and other disciplines to identify, define, and solve problems, and to anticipate the global, societal, and environmental impact of their solutions.
- 3) Understand the importance of professional licensure, and act upon that understanding by pursuing registration.
- 4) Comply with professional ethics codes, practice sustainable engineering, undertake professional development, and engage in life-long technical learning.
- 5) Display skills in teamwork, communication, critical thinking, and leadership.

Bachelor of Science Student Outcomes

Students in the Mechanical Engineering Department's B.Sc program will demonstrate each of the following attributes by the time they graduate:

- a) The ability to apply knowledge of mathematics, science, and engineering to the solution of problems encountered in mechanical engineering practice.
- b) An ability to design and conduct experiments assessing phenomena encountered during mechanical engineering practice, along with the ability to analyze and interpret the resulting data.

Graduate Programs and Professional Study

The School of Interdisciplinary and Graduate Studies

The School of Interdisciplinary and Graduate Studies administers graduate degree programs in over 60 academic fields, including programs in education, basic medical sciences, nursing, public health, engineering, business and arts & sciences. There are over 60 master's level programs and 30 doctoral level programs available. For more information on the School of Interdisciplinary and Graduate Studies, please call 852-6495 or, for a complete listing of programs, visit our website: <http://graduate.louisville.edu>.

Professional Schools

For information on pre-professional curriculum and admissions requirements of the professional schools, students should contact the Arts and Sciences Advising Center.

The University includes four professional schools: the School of Dentistry, the Brandeis School of Law, the School of Medicine and the Kent School of Social Work. Entrance requirements for the professional schools are as follows:

The School of Dentistry

The School of Dentistry offers three degree programs. They are the Doctoral of Dental Medicine, Masters of Science in Oral Biology and a Bachelor of Science in Dental Hygiene. For the Doctoral degree, most applicants have earned a BA or B.S. degree prior to enrollment. Applicants must have a minimum of 90 college credit hours to apply to the DMD program. It is recommended that applicants complete a minimum of 32 hours of science course work, including courses in biology, general chemistry, organic chemistry and physics.

The Master's degree program in Oral Biology contains graduate level courses provided by departments within the School of Dentistry. This program is directed toward a general understanding of the biology of dental science. Students obtain detailed knowledge and necessary skills required to perform biologic research. For more information, see the U of L Graduate catalog.

The Bachelor of Science in Dental Hygiene program is a four year program with a Lower and Upper Division. Students complete the lower division requirements on the Belknap campus and then apply for admission to the Upper Division in the Dental School on the Health Sciences Center Campus.

More detailed information about admission requirements and application procedures may be obtained at the School of Dentistry website: www.louisville.edu/dental or by contacting the Office of Student Affairs, School of Dentistry, (502) 852-5081.

The Louis D. Brandeis School of Law

The Brandeis School of Law offers a degree program leading to the Juris Doctor (J.D.) degree.

The program accommodates both full-time and part-time study. Full-time students complete the JD program in three years; part-time study can be completed in four or five years.

The School of Law also offers seven dual degree programs. The joint MBA/JD degree is offered in conjunction with the University's College of Business; the MSSW/JD is offered in cooperation with the Kent School of Social Work. The joint JD/MA in Humanities is offered in conjunction with the Division of Humanities of the School of Interdisciplinary and Graduate Studies. The joint JD/Master of Divinity is offered in collaboration with the Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary. The joint JD/MA in Political Science is offered in conjunction with the Department of Political Science. The joint MUP/JD degree in Urban Planning and Law is offered in conjunction with the University's Department of Urban and Public Affairs. The JD/Masters of Arts in Bioethics and Medical Humanities is offered jointly with the School of Interdisciplinary and Graduate Studies, Department of Philosophy, and Division of Medical Humanities and Ethics.

Successful candidates for admission must have a baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution prior to enrollment. Candidates must also take the Law School Admission Test (LSAT) prior to admission. More detailed information about admission requirements and application procedures can be obtained at <http://www.law.louisville.edu/admissions> or by calling the Office of Admissions, Brandeis School of Law, (502) 852-6391.

The law touches many phases of life and no uniform pre-law curriculum or major is prescribed for undergraduates. A liberal arts education is emphasized as far more important than an education directed toward later professional training.

Academic preparation should include courses that emphasize critical thinking, analysis, writing, and communication skills. These skills are necessary for the study of law. Generally, students interested in pursuing a legal career may follow the major of their choice. Those most commonly chosen are Political Science, Business, English, History, and Philosophy.

Allison Martens, Department of Political Science; Terry Edwards, Justice Administration; and Tom Mackey, Department of History, College of Arts and Sciences, serve as Prelaw Advisors, assisting students in developing an integrated program of undergraduate studies tailored to their particular needs and interests, preparing for the Law School Admission Test, and choosing a law school suited to individual career objectives. The LSAT is normally taken in June following the junior year or in the fall of the senior year. Application packets are available from the Admission Office at the Brandeis School of Law and the Political Science Department. In the course of fulfilling requirements in their major fields, pre-law students are urged to include as many of the following as possible:

- Division of Humanities, Arts and Sciences
 - English 309, Advanced Writing*
 - Philosophy 211, Critical Thinking
 - Philosophy 311, Introduction to Logic*
 - Philosophy 322, Contemporary Ethical Problems
 - Philosophy 323, Medical Ethics
 - Philosophy 350, Philosophy of Law
- Division of Natural Sciences, Arts and Sciences
 - Biology 263, Environmental Biology
 - Biology 364, Genetics and Man
 - Mathematics 109, Elementary Statistics
- Division of Social Sciences, Arts and Sciences
 - Communication 111, Speech Communication
 - Political Science 201, Fundamentals of American Government

- Political Science 202, Comparative Political Systems
- Any two of these:
 - Political Science 312, Constitutional Law*
 - Political Science 313, Civil Liberties*
 - Political Science 314, Judicial Process*

The School of Medicine

Applicants to the first-year class of the University of Louisville School of Medicine are considered individually and are selected based on merit without consideration of race, religion, sex, age, or national origin. The Admissions Committee evaluates an applicant's acceptability based on the premedical record, scores on the Medical College Admission Test (MCAT), commendations from Premedical Advisory Committees, established technical standards for admissions and the applicant's personality and motivation as evaluated by interviews with members of the Committee. Complete four-year college preparation is encouraged. Early decision program is encouraged for stellar applicants. Inquiries concerning admission should be addressed to:

Office of Admissions

Abell Administration Ctr., Rm. 413

323 East Chestnut St.

Louisville, Kentucky 40202 (502) 852-5193 or

medadm@louisville.edu

Programs of medical education that award the degree of doctor of medicine in the United States and Canada are accredited by the Liaison Committee on Medical Education (LCME). This agency is sponsored by the Association of American Medical Colleges and the American Medical Association. The University of Louisville School of Medicine is a member of the Association of American Medical Colleges and is accredited by LCME.

Application Process: The University of Louisville School of Medicine participates in the American Medical College Application Service (AMCAS). Application materials are available by May at the AMCAS website:

Upon receipt of the application from AMCAS the University of Louisville Medical School Office of Admissions will email additional application materials to qualified applicants. Completed secondary applications are due in the Office of Admissions by December 31. A processing fee of $75.00 is charged and is not refundable, nor can it be credited toward tuition if the applicant is accepted. The fee may be waived, however, if the applicant has received a fee waiver from AMCAS. More information about the application process can be obtained at <http://louisville.edu/medschool/admissions>.

Residence Status: Although applications from nonresidents are accepted, residents of Kentucky are given preference for admission. This policy is consistent with the mission of the University of Louisville as a state university. Residency must be established prior to making application. Absent special circumstances, an applicant must be a citizen or permanent resident of the United States to be considered for admission to the School of Medicine. Special circumstances may be considered where the applicant has a pending application for permanent residency status in the United States and A) is married to a U.S. citizen who has an established residence in Kentucky and intends to remain in Kentucky, or B) has numerous members of his or her immediate family who have established residence in Kentucky and expect to remain in Kentucky indefinitely. All decisions as to whether special circumstances exist in a particular application for admission shall be made by the Dean or his designee." The process of selecting medical school applicants involves a variety of considerations including academic, non-academic, and personal characteristics. Admission to medical school requires a strong foundation in the natural sciences (biology, chemistry, mathematics, and physics), highly developed communication skills, and a solid background in the social sciences and humanities. Specific majors are not recommended, but the undergraduate major area of study should be a careful and considered decision. All applicants to medical school must take the Medical College Admission Test. MCAT applications are available via the AMCAS web site at www.aamc.org. Students considering making application to medical school should contact the College of Arts & Sciences Pre-Health Professional Advising Committee for more information. Faculty members from different disciplines of the University are involved in this group. Open advising sessions are scheduled during the academic year. Students are provided information about the sequencing of required and recommended courses, the admissions test and the application process and, at the time of application to medical school, may use services provided by the Advising Center in putting together their Premedical Recommendation Report.

Pre-Optometry

There are no schools of optometry in Kentucky. However, Kentucky does have contracts with the following schools to reserve spaces (a total of 14) for students who are legal residents of Kentucky: the School of Optometry at Indiana University in Bloomington (www.opt.indiana.edu); the School of Optometry at the University of Alabama in Birmingham (www.uab.edu/optometry) and Southern College of Optometry in Memphis, TN (www.sco.edu). Admission is competitive and each school of optometry awards its contract positions to students who apply and are accepted into its program. Students admitted under the contract program will be charged reduced tuition with Kentucky paying the difference to the college for a maximum of four years. Students who are planning to apply to schools of optometry can fulfill the pre-optometry course requirements at the University of Louisville. Since schools of optometry vary somewhat in their course requirements for admission, students interested in making application should select schools to which they have an interest in applying so that they can schedule courses to meet requirements for those schools. In general, students planning to make application to schools of optometry will need a minimum of three years of college coursework including a heavy concentration in the natural sciences (biology, chemistry, mathematics, and physics) as well as courses in social sciences and humanities. Many schools of optometry give preference to students who have completed a bachelor's degree; all schools require applicants to take the Optometry Admission Test. Students considering making application to optometry school should contact the College of Arts and Sciences Pre-Health Professions Advising Committee (<http://louisville.edu/a-s/advising>) for more information. Open advising sessions are scheduled during the academic year.

Pre-Pharmacy

Students who are interested in making application to a school of pharmacy can complete prerequisite course requirements at the University of Louisville. Although requirements for admission to pharmacy schools are similar, they do vary. Students should select schools to which they are interested in applying and schedule courses to meet those requirements. The University of Kentucky College of Pharmacy (www.mc.uky.edu/Pharmacy) is the only school in Kentucky to offer a pharmacy degree. The degree program involves a four year professional curriculum leading to the Doctor of Pharmacy degree. Pre-Pharmacy students at the University of Louisville should consult the UK College of Pharmacy website for the undergraduate courses required for admission to this program. Admission to pharmacy schools is competitive.

Students will need two to three years of college coursework with a heavy concentration in the natural sciences in order to meet minimum prerequisites.

Those holding bachelor's degrees or completing bachelor's degrees in biology and chemistry are particularly encouraged to apply. All applicants must take the Pharmacy College Admission Test. Students considering making application to pharmacy school should contact the College of Arts and Sciences Pre-Health Professions Advising Committee (<http://louisville.edu/a-s/advising>) for more information. Faculty members from different disciplines of the university are involved in this group. Open advising sessions are scheduled during the academic year.

Pre-Veterinary Medicine

There is not a school of veterinary medicine in Kentucky. However, Kentucky does have contracts with the following schools in Alabama to reserve spaces for students who are legal residents of Kentucky: Auburn University College of Veterinary Medicine (34 spaces; www.vetmed.auburn.edu) and Tuskegee University School of Veterinary Medicine (2 spaces; http://www.tuskegee.edu/academics/colleges/cvmnah/school_of_veterinary_medicine.aspx). Admission is competitive with selection made by the respective schools. Students admitted to either the Auburn or Tuskegee program will be charged instate tuition, with Kentucky making a payment for each enrolling student for up to four years. Students planning to apply to schools of veterinary medicine can fulfill pre-veterinary course requirements at the University of Louisville. Since schools may vary somewhat in their requirements, students interested in making application should select schools to which they have an interest in applying so they can schedule courses to meet requirements for those schools. The University has an approved pre-veterinary curriculum for Auburn consisting of approximately three to three and a half years of college coursework with a heavy concentration in the natural sciences.

In the event the student is not admitted to professional school, the fourth year may be spent in completing requirements for a bachelor's degree with biology or chemistry obvious choices. The Graduate Record Exam is required for all Auburn applicants; the Veterinary Admission Test is required for Tuskegee applicants.

Students interested in making application to schools of veterinary medicine should contact the College of Arts and Sciences Pre-Health Professions Advising Committee (<http://louisville.edu/a-s/advising>) for more information. Open advising sessions are scheduled during the academic year.

The Kent School of Social Work

The applicant must be a graduate of an accredited four-year college with a broad background in the liberal arts. A cumulative "B" average is preferred. The student's intellectual, emotional, and physical capacity to perform graduate work will determine admission. The admissions process includes the preparation of an application form, an autobiographical statement, submission of certified copies of transcripts of all college work completed, and three letters of reference.

- ¹ Acceptance into a Department requires that a student have a 2.0 GPA in the prescribed set of courses totaling 31 semester hours in Engineering Fundamentals. In addition, the student must be in good standing with the university (university GPA \geq 2.0).
- ² This course is a General Education requirement for the program; see <http://www.louisville.edu/provost/GER/> for the listing, by academic year, of Arts/CD/Hum/SBS Electives which satisfy the University-wide General Education requirements.
- ³ Students completing ENGL 105 in lieu of ENGL 101 and ENGL 102 satisfy the General Education and Engineering Fundamentals requirements for Written Communication. However, an additional 3-hr Writing (WR) course or honors Written Communication (WC) course is needed to satisfy program credit hour requirements. A current list of acceptable WR and WC courses is at <http://louisville.edu/speed/academics/advising/ENGL105.html>.
- ⁴ A student is allowed to accumulate no more than two D+ or lower grades in BE prefixed courses (including BE approved elective courses) to graduate with a baccalaureate degree. If a student accumulates any D+ or lower grade, it is strongly recommended that the course be repeated to earn a better grade before proceeding to the next course in the sequence. If a student accumulates a third D+ or lower grade, the student is required to repeat the course to earn a better grade.
- ⁵ The three BE Electives must be chosen from the following approved list:
BE 452, 453, 460, 480; CECS 440; IE 430; ME 422
- ⁶ Candidates for the Bachelor of Science degree must be in Good Standing (university GPA \geq 2.00) and must attain a grade point average of at least 2.00 for all courses used to satisfy degree requirements.

¹ Acceptance into a Department requires that a student have a 2.0 GPA in the prescribed set of courses totaling 31 semester hours in Engineering Fundamentals. In addition, the student must be in good standing with the university (university GPA \geq 2.0).

- ² This course is a General Education requirement for the program; see <http://www.louisville.edu/provost/GER/> for the listing, by academic year, of Arts/CD/Hum/SBS Electives which satisfy the University-wide General Education requirements.
- ³ Students completing ENGL 105 in lieu of ENGL 101 and ENGL 102 satisfy the General Education and Engineering Fundamentals requirements for Written Communication. However, an additional 3-hr Writing (WR) course or honors Written Communication (WC) course is needed to satisfy program credit hour requirements. A current list of acceptable WR and WC courses is at <http://louisville.edu/speed/academics/advising/ENGL105.html>.
- ⁴ In order to meet departmental graduation requirements a student may accumulate no more than three “D” grades in CHE prefixed courses. Any additional “D” grades beyond three must be repeated, according to the “Course Repetition Policy”. If a student accumulates more than one “D” in any one year of the program, it is strongly recommended that one or more of those courses be repeated to earn a better grade before proceeding to the next course in the sequence. For this policy, grades of D-, D or D+ are all considered to be D grades.
- ⁵ Select one course from the following list:
CHEM 342, 445, 450, 515, 527, 545, 550, 557
CHE 402, 502, 532, 550, 551, 581, 653
An undergraduate student must receive permission from the department chair in order to enroll in a 600-level course. The course so chosen cannot be a course which has been used to satisfy other program requirements.
- ⁶ Select one course from the following list:
BIOL 240, 242, 257, 263, 329, 330
CHEM 342, 445, 450
GEOS 220, 301, 360, 363, 365
PHYS 220, 300
- ⁷ PHIL 222, 225, 321, 323, or 328 all satisfy the Ethics Elective. However, only PHIL 222 is accepted for the General Education content requirement in Humanities; if PHIL 222 is taken, 9 hours of Arts/CD/Hum/SB Electives are required. If one of PHIL 225, 321, 323, or 328 is taken, then an additional Arts/CD/Hum/SB Elective is required, and a total of 12 hours of Arts/CD/Hum/SB Elective are required instead of the 9 listed.
- ⁸ Candidates for the Bachelor of Science degree must be in Good Standing (university GPA \geq 2.00) and must attain a grade point average of at least 2.00 for all courses used to satisfy degree requirements.

¹ Acceptance into a Department requires that a student have a 2.0 GPA in the prescribed set of courses totaling 31 semester hours in Engineering Fundamentals. In addition, the student must be in good standing with the university (university GPA \geq 2.0).

² This course is a General Education requirement for the program; see <http://www.louisville.edu/provost/GER/> for the listing, by academic year, of Arts/CD/Hum/SBS Electives which satisfy the University-wide General Education requirements. Note that the 12-hour total for the Arts/CD/HUM/SBS electives assumes the use of double counting of CD with another category. The Department recommends COMM 112 over COMM 111.

⁶ Candidates for the Bachelor of Science degree must be in Good Standing (university GPA \geq 2.00) and must attain a grade point average of at least 2.00 for all courses used to satisfy degree requirements.

The Music Therapy curriculum meets the competency requirements of the American Music Therapy Association (AMTA). Students must complete a minimum of 1200 hours of clinical training which includes at least 180 hours in pre-internship experiences and at least 900 hours in internship experiences. Students completing the Music Therapy curriculum are eligible to take the examination to become a Board Certified Music Therapist, offered by the Certification Board for Music Therapists.

A person who already has a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution and who wishes to become a music therapist may take the courses not already taken that are required for music therapy certification, known as "equivalency" courses since they provide the equivalent of an undergraduate degree. The music therapy equivalency program leads to eligibility to apply to become a Board Certified Music Therapist but does not lead to a degree. Specific course requirements, based on the student's transcript and experiences, are determined in conjunction with the Director of Music Therapy.

The Music Therapy curriculum meets the competency requirements of the American Music Therapy Association (AMTA). Students must complete a minimum of 1200 hours of clinical training which includes at least 180 hours in pre-internship experiences and at least 900 hours in internship experiences. Students completing the Music Therapy curriculum are eligible to take the examination to become a Board Certified Music Therapist, offered by the Certification Board for Music Therapists.

A person who already has a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution and who wishes to become a music therapist may take the courses not already taken that are required for music therapy certification, known as "equivalency" courses since they provide the equivalent of an undergraduate degree. The music therapy equivalency program leads to eligibility to apply to become a Board Certified Music Therapist but does not lead to a degree. Specific course requirements, based on the student's transcript and experiences, are determined in conjunction with the Director of Music Therapy.

General Education Program

General Education Requirements (GER)

The General Education program at the University of Louisville fosters active learning by asking students to think critically, to communicate effectively, and to understand and appreciate cultural diversity. Specifically, students will establish foundations in the following content areas: Arts and Humanities, Mathematics, Oral Communication, Social and Behavioral Sciences, Natural Sciences, and Written Communication. Students will also acquire a competency in Cultural Diversity through work in the content areas.

Students must complete 12 credit hours of General Education courses within the first 30 degree-applicable credit hours earned, and these 12 hours must include the successful completion of the first three hours in Written Communication; further, students must fulfill or begin working towards the Mathematics General Education requirement. Before completing 60 hours, the student must have completed 21 hours of General Education courses, including Oral Communication, Mathematics, and the second three hours of Written Communication.

For an explanation of GER course codes, the GER course list, and GER guidelines please visit the website at <http://louisville.edu/provost/GER/>.

GER Content Areas

Arts and Humanities [6 hours: one course in Arts (A); one in Humanities (H)]

- Arts and Humanities are concerned with understanding texts of art, music, theatre, literature, philosophy, and religious thought.

Mathematics [3 hours in Mathematics (M)]

- Mathematics is concerned with solving real-world problems through mathematical methods.

Natural Sciences [7 hours: lecture (S) and lab (SL) in a single discipline; an additional 3 hours in a second discipline]

- Natural Sciences are concerned with understanding the physical world through the scientific method.

Oral Communication [3 hours (OC)]

- Oral communication is the ability to convey ideas, emotions, and information through speech.

Social and Behavioral Sciences [9 hours (SB) one course in the Department of History; the remaining 6 hours in two other disciplines]

- Social and behavioral sciences are concerned with understanding human behavior, human interactions, human environment, and the related social structures and forms.
- History (3 hours) History is concerned with understanding change over time. Courses addressing this requirement cover a broad body of historical knowledge and compare Western and non-Western cultures.

Written Communication [6 hours (WC): The first 3 hours must be a writing course in the Department of English or be an approved Honors course substitute.]

- Written communication is the ability to develop and express ideas, opinions, and information in appropriate written forms. To fulfill this requirement, students will complete a substantial amount of writing, including several texts that go through the writing process.

Competency in Cultural Diversity (6 hours)

Students must take 6 hours in courses designated Cultural Diversity (CD), at least 3 hours of which will focus on persons of African, Asian/Pacific Islander, Hispanic or Native American ancestry (CD1). In many cases, these courses will also fulfill other Content Area requirements (e.g., a Cultural Diversity course may also count as a Social and Behavioral Science requirement).

- Understanding cultural diversity means students will have a broad exposure to a variety of social systems, cultures, and subcultures, both within the United States and the rest of the world. This portion of the curriculum encourages an appreciation of the realities of a racially and culturally diverse world.

GER Guidelines

These rules provide guidelines and available options for student course selection for completion of the General Education Requirements (effective at the beginning of the Summer 2011 term and not retroactive).

Questions concerning these guidelines can be addressed to provost@louisville.edu for the consideration of the committee.

--Pass/Fail grading

No course taken for a pass/fail grade will be counted as meeting a general education requirement.

--Course Substitutions and Appeals

Departments and units must not substitute for a GER-approved course any University of Louisville course not on the GER-approved list. The GECC will not accept any appeal for such consideration.

--Restricted Sections of GER Courses in Major Programs

Departments or programs with general-education courses also required for particular majors may restrict one or more sections to students in that major, provided that additional sections are open to enrollment by non-majors. Where practical, the open and restricted section(s) should be scheduled at the same or similar times.

--CD Credit for Study Abroad

Students may petition for Cultural Diversity (CD) credit after participation in a university sanctioned study-abroad program. The petition must include an essay identifying which form of CD credit is requested, describing the program and explaining how the experience met the learning outcomes of the CD competency. Petitions must be submitted to the committee by e-mail to provost@louisville.edu. Detailed instructions (including specifications of the essay, criteria for assessment of the essay and limits on the petition period) are available on the General Education website at <http://louisville.edu/provost/GER>.

--CD Credit for Transfer Courses

A student may petition the General Education Curriculum Committee to evaluate transfer courses identified by the Admissions Office as not equivalent to any existing approved CD course. The student requesting the evaluation must provide a catalog course description and a syllabus of the course(s) in question as well as an essay identifying which form of CD credit is requested and explaining how the transfer course addresses the learning outcomes of the CD general-education requirement. Petitions must be submitted to the committee by e-mail to provost@louisville.edu. Detailed instructions (including specifications of the essay criteria for assessment of the essay and limits on the petition period) are available on the General Education website at <http://louisville.edu/provost/GER>.

--CD Credit for Life Experience

A student may petition for Cultural Diversity (CD) credit based on life experience. The petition must include an essay identifying which form of CD credit is requested, describing and explaining how the life experience met the learning outcomes of the CD competency. Petitions must be submitted to the committee by e-mail to provost@louisville.edu. Detailed instructions (including specifications of the essay, criteria for assessment of the essay and limits on the petition period) are available at <http://louisville.edu/provost/GER>.

-- General Education Credit for Fully-certified Transfer Students

Transfer students with full general-education certification under the Kentucky block transfer policy have completed all general-education requirements of the University of Louisville. Under that state policy, the university will not require such students to complete the Cultural Diversity competency requirement.

-- General Education Requirements for Second-degree Students

For students already holding a baccalaureate degree but in residence to complete a second baccalaureate, the general education requirements shall be waived.

Statewide General Education Block Transfer Policy

Students who transfer between Kentucky's public institutions of higher education may qualify for a "block" rather than course-by-course transfer. Beginning in January, 1996, this policy was established as a means of promoting the transfer of lower-division general education requirements from one public institution to another and reducing the probability that credits may be lost or courses repeated due to transfer. Students should request that their transcript from Kentucky public institutions be Gen Ed certified before they are sent to the University of Louisville. The statewide block transfer policy applies to transfer students who have completed all or part of lower-division general education requirements within the following competency areas:

Communications

Written (6 hours)

Oral (3 hours)

Humanities (6 hours) Includes courses from but not limited to the following:

Fine Arts (excluding studio and performance courses)

Philosophy

Literature

History

Foreign Literature

Cross-Cultural

Inter/Multi-Disciplinary

Behavioral/Social Sciences (9 hours) Includes courses from but not limited to the following listing AND must be represented by a minimum of two disciplines and must be different from those disciplines used to meet the Humanities requirement:

Psychology

Sociology

Economics

History

Anthropology

Geography

Political Science

Cross-Cultural

Inter/Multi-Disciplinary

Natural Sciences (6 hours) Includes courses from but not limited to the following disciplines:

Biology

Chemistry

Physics

Astronomy

Geosciences

Mathematics (3 hours) Minimum—College Algebra

Transfer Students and GER

Students who have completed lower-division general education requirements or have an AA/AS degree upon transfer may find that this policy applies to them. Students should request that their transcript from Kentucky public institutions be Gen Ed certified before they are sent to the University of Louisville.

Payments may be made by mail, by use of the deposit box located in the front entrance of the Houchens Building, or at the Office of the Bursar.

Failure to receive a Statement of Account will not relieve the student of the responsibility for making financial settlement by the designated due date. Continuing registrations which are not financially settled by the designated due date may have their course registration cancelled and/or be assessed financial penalties. The Continuing Registration designated due dates are listed in the current Registration Information newspaper and on the Bursar's web site.

A late payment fee of $50.00 may be assessed when student accounts are not paid by the last day to drop/add.

A student whose payment is not honored by the bank on which it was drawn may be assessed a return payment fee. If restitution is not made within 10 days of notification, the student may be subject to course cancellation and/or legal action.

Debtors who do not make satisfactory payment arrangements on their past due accounts may have their accounts placed with a collection agency. It is the policy of the University that unpaid accounts will be assessed the costs and expenses of collection, including attorney fees. The University may report unpaid financial obligations to credit bureau organizations.

Withdrawal Policy

The effective withdrawal date is the date on which the withdrawal is processed in the Student Records System. This date is used in calculating any applicable tuition reduction.

Tuition Reduction

When a student officially withdraws from the University or from any course, or courses, for which hourly tuition rates apply, tuition and student activity fee charges will be adjusted according to the tuition reduction schedule printed in the Registration Information newspaper. The full amount of tuition/fee charges for the semester will be due unless the withdrawal occurs during the tuition reduction period. The tuition reduction schedule for each semester is available on the Bursar's web site.

This policy applies to all tuition and student activity fees except for nonrefundable deposits. Course fees, special fees, and laboratory fees are reduced only with the 100% adjustment.

Financial Aid Recipients

Determinations regarding refunds of resulting credit balances will be based on regulations governing the financial aid awarded to the student. Federal regulations mandate that students have the right to cancel all or a portion of an EFT loan. To request cancellation of all or a portion of your loan, contact the Financial Aid Office in writing. (Financial Aid Office, University of Louisville, Louisville, KY 40292).

Council on Postsecondary Education Administrative Regulation

Relates to: KRS Chapter 13B, 164.020, 164.030, 164A.330(6).

Necessity, Function, And Conformity: KRS 164.020(8) requires the Council on Postsecondary Education to determine tuition and approve the minimum qualifications for admission to a state-supported postsecondary education institution and authorizes the Council to set different tuition amounts for residents of Kentucky and for nonresidents. This administrative regulation establishes the procedure and guidelines for determining the residency status of a student who is seeking admission to, or who is enrolled at, a state-supported postsecondary education institution.

Tuition and Fees

Tuition and fees

Note: University tuition charges are subject to the approval of the Board of Trustees and may be changed without prior notice.

The most current information on tuition, distance education, and other fee charges is available online at the Office of the Bursar. For fee purposes, determination of undergraduate and graduate status is based on the school or enrollment unit to which a student is admitted, not on the level of courses taken.

Distance Education

Distance Education provides learning that is independent of time and location. Rather than gathering in a classroom, students and instructors interact in several ways. Most courses with section numbers 50, 51, 52, 53 and 54 are Distance Education courses. All graduate and undergraduate distance education courses are charged 130% of the undergraduate in-state tuition rate regardless of whether or not you are a full-time student. (Percentage rate subject to change each Fall.)

Degree Application Fees

Each applicant for an associate or bachelor's degree will be charged $20.00. Each applicant for a Master of Engineering degree will be charged $20.00 (for those students graduating under the non-thesis option) or $40.00 (for those students graduating under with thesis option). All other applicants for master's degrees will be charged $25.00. Ph.D. and Ed.D. applicants will be charged $35.00.

If the applicant does not receive the degree, the charge will be adjusted to $10.00. The candidate must then reapply for the degree to be granted at a later date and pay the full application fee at that time.
