Program Information

The MAT in Music Education at the University of Louisville combines advanced coursework in music and education with hands-on teaching experiences in diverse school environments. Students will engage in a rigorous curriculum that fosters pedagogical expertise, musicianship, and leadership, preparing them to inspire the next generation of musicians. The degree requires two semesters of student teaching in elementary and secondary schools, enabling graduate students to earn their initial teaching certification for Kentucky, grades P-12.

The Department of Teaching and Learning is committed to the highest standards of professional preparation. Our programs have sought and received national accreditation from the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education.

Graduates of initial teacher certification programs at the University of Louisville begin their teaching careers secure in the knowledge that they have been prepared for the real world of classrooms through a rigorous teacher preparation program.

The School of Music provides each student with a copy of the "Handbook for Graduate Music Students." Students are expected to read the Music Handbook and the Graduate Catalog and to follow regulations and procedures regarding their specific degree program at the University of Louisville.
