Department: Educational Leadership, Evaluation, and Organizational Development (<http://louisville.edu/education/departments/eleod>)

Academic Plan Code(s): EDADMEDO

Program Information

This program is completed 100% online, but in a synchronous format. Students meet with instructors weekly in an online class format.

The M.Ed. degree in Educational Administration is a 30-credit hour graduate degree program that provides professional educators a pathway to pursue certification in Level I & II principalship.

The M.Ed. program prepares school leaders to engage staff, improve the instructional capacity of schools, and deal effectively with the educational challenges of the 21st century. The program provides field experience, clinical practice, and conceptual and theoretical knowledge necessary for roles in instructional leadership. The Department of Educational Leadership, Evaluation, and Organizational Development maintains a strong collaboration with school districts in preparing exemplary P-12 school administrators.

Application Requirements

Applicants to the Master of Education in Educational Administration program must submit the following:

- Completed UofL graduate application submitted at <https://apply.graduate.louisville.edu/apply/>
- Official transcripts for all undergraduate and graduate coursework. To be considered official, transcripts must be sent by the issuing institution to the UofL Graduate School. Transcripts issued to the candidate, and/or uploaded by the candidate, are considered unofficial.
 - International transcripts must be evaluated per UofL Graduate School requirements: <https://graduate.louisville.edu/admission/international/evaluation>
- Personal statement – Candidates should upload a rationale for pursuing this degree which should include a statement of professional goals and personal view of the impact of education leadership on student performance (limit of two pages).
- Current resume detailing at least three years of K-12 teaching experience
- Copy of current Kentucky teaching certificate indicating a minimum of three years of teaching experience
- Recommendations – Two (2) recommendations are required. Recommenders should include a letter attesting to the candidate's skills and understanding of student achievement, leadership, and advanced knowledge of curriculum, instruction and assessment. One recommendation must be from the current site supervisor. Requests are automatically sent to the recommenders' emails once the graduate application is submitted. Adequate time should be given for recommenders to respond to the request by the application deadline. Candidates may log into their admission portal to check the status of the recommendations.

- Signed documents included in the application. You will be asked to review and sign the Professional Code of Ethics/Technology User Agreement (<https://louisville.widen.net/s/vr6gdwqdtx/cehd-acceptable-use-of-technology-agreement>).

International Applicants:

- International applicants must submit additional application items, and meet additional admission requirements. Information on the international application and admission requirements can be found here: <https://graduate.louisville.edu/admission/international>

Admission Requirements

- Complete application (including all checklist items above and payment submitted).
- Minimum grade point average (GPA) of 3.30. Candidates with a GPA lower than 3.30 should consult with the admissions counselor to discuss potential options.
- Three years of full-time K-12 teaching experience

Admission is competitive. Meeting the GPA minimum and all other admission requirements does not guarantee that prospective students will be accepted into the program.

Program admission dates: Fall semester

Application Deadlines: July 1st for Fall

Out of state applicants should check state authorizations (<https://louisville.edu/online/About-Us?tab=state-auth>) and licensing disclosures (<https://louisville.edu/online/About-Us?tab=disclosures>) for requirements in your state. Please be advised that the University of Louisville cannot guarantee that our program will meet licensure, salary, advancement or other requirements in their state. The University of Louisville makes every effort to ensure information about educational requirements for programs is current; however, licensure requirements are always subject to change. Applicants should always check with their state licensure board to confirm licensure requirements.

The candidate's admission packet must demonstrate his/her skills and understanding of the following: ability to improve student achievement, leadership, and advanced knowledge of curriculum, instruction, and assessment. Candidates applying for admission are jointly screened by both the University of Louisville faculty and local school district personnel.

The Master of Education (MEd) in Educational Administration program prepares students to meet the requirements for certification and/or licensure. If you plan to pursue professional licensure or certification you should first determine your state's criteria for examination and licensure to see how/if our program meets those requirements prior to enrollment. We recommend that you also contact your state's licensing board directly to verify that the requirements have not changed recently and to answer any questions especially those regarding additional requirements beyond the degree.

More information about certification or licensure is available at the following website: <https://louisville.edu/about/departments/academic-planning-accountability/disclosures/professional-licensure>.

For programs with an online option, more information about certification or licensure is available here:
