BSW Program Information

BSW Program Mission:

The mission of the Kent School of Social Work & Family Science BSW program is to prepare students for generalist social work practice with diverse, vulnerable and marginalized individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities. We take an anti-oppressive stance in educating students to intervene at the micro, mezzo and macro levels through the application of critical thinking and the incorporation of available evidence to inform practice that responds to complex social problems. The program contributes to the mission of the University as a great place to learn, by providing engaged service and outreach that improves the quality of life for local and global communities. The educational part of our mission is accomplished through theoretically and empirically driven approach to pedagogy in our on campus and on-line instruction and transformative learning experiences.

BSW Program Goals:

- Prepare graduates for generalist social work practice with vulnerable and marginalized individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities through the acquisition and demonstration of social work practice behaviors consistent with CSWE educational standards and policies and the NASW Code of Ethics.
- Prepare graduates to understand bio-psycho-social, spiritual, and cultural functioning and apply it to all client systems.
- Prepare graduates to promote social and economic justice through their practice with diverse client systems.
- Prepare graduates who continue to develop professionally throughout their careers to meet new challenges and opportunities.

Academic Integrity Statement

A primary goal of the Kent School of Social Work & Family Science is to educate students who will serve society with competence and integrity—both are key to meeting the needs of vulnerable populations and to promoting social justice. Both the National Association for Social Workers (NASW) Code of Ethics (www.socialworkers.org/About/Ethics/Code-of-Ethics/Code-of-Ethics-English) and the American Association of Marriage and Family Therapy (AAMFT) Code of Ethics (www.aamft.org/Legal_Ethics/Code_of_Ethics.aspx) list integrity as a core value of our work. Thus, we practitioners behave in a trustworthy manner. In accordance with the NASW and AAMFT Code of Ethics and the University of Louisville, we at the Kent School of Social Work expressly forbid cheating, fabrication, falsification, multiple submission of the same work, plagiarism and complicity in academic dishonesty. Several explicit examples are provided below. However, these examples are not exhaustive. All students are to be familiar with the various forms of academic dishonesty as explained in the University of Louisville Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities (<http://louisville.edu/dos/students/studentrightsandresponsibilities>).

Plagiarism describes the use of someone else's work without giving specific credit for those words to the original author. It is acceptable to use someone else's words in our compositions. When we do so, however, rules of credit/citation must be observed (unless otherwise directed by the instructor, written assignments must conform to APA format, per the most recent edition of the APA manual). Plagiarism may include, but is not limited to:

- Copying someone else's work and claiming it as your own without proper credit/citation regardless of the source (e.g., someone else's computer files, or from the internet);
- Paraphrasing someone else's work and claiming it as your own;

- Collaborating with someone else and claiming the work as your own; or,
- The use of a substantial portion of a graded paper from one course, as a submitted assignment to obtain credit in another course, without instructor permission.

Cheating and complicity in academic dishonesty may include, but are not limited to:

- Capturing of course materials by any means and using any device (e.g., camera, screenshot) with the intent to distribute. This relates to all course materials including assignment requirements, quizzes, tests, and the like, with or without incorrect/correct answers, and no matter the point allocation (e.g., 2-point open-book quiz vs. 20-point exam).
- Intent to distribute may relate to students who are enrolled or planning to enroll at the University of Louisville, or who are enrolled or planning to enroll at any another institution of higher education.
- Completing work collaboratively that is meant to be individual work (e.g., taking an online exam in the presence of other students and “helping” each other in any way).
- Acquiring direct knowledge of academic dishonesty of other students (e.g., being copied on an email with other students engaged in dishonest academic activities) and failing to report it. While we recognize the discomfort and challenges associated with notifying appropriate authorities, reporting academic dishonesty aligns with the NASW Code of Ethics Ethical Responsibilities as Professionals regarding dishonesty, fraud, and deception. It also aligns with the AAMFT Code of Ethics regarding the avoidance of deceptive, fraudulent, misleading, or exploitative practices.
- Paying for any material (e.g., a paper, exam) and submitting it as your own.

All of these offenses are serious breaches of academic conduct. A plea of ignorance is not an acceptable defense against violation of our academic integrity statement. Evidence of violation of academic integrity may lead to a failing grade for the assignment or course, referral for academic review, expulsion from the Kent School of Social Work, and/or other consequences as determined by appropriate authorities. The decision regarding penalties for violating academic integrity is at the discretion of the instructor(s) and/or an academic review committee.

Student Conduct Policies

Students entering the Kent School BSW Program, by their formal acceptance into the School, agree to abide by The Code of Ethics of the National Association of Social Workers (<https://www.socialworkers.org/About/Ethics/Code-of-Ethics/Code-of-Ethics-English/>) and the Code of Student Conduct of the University of Louisville. The NASW Code of Ethics provides guidelines for the professional conduct of social workers. Since the profession is directed by a commitment to core values, the Code provides for conduct related to principles of service, social justice, dignity and worth of the individual, the importance of human relationships, integrity, and competence. These values and the standards inherent in them provide a context for expected behavior during the period of enrollment in the educational programs of the Kent School of Social Work, and for the development of lifelong professional standards.

Any student who receives a failing grade for a course and/or is in jeopardy of dismissal from the program for any other reason will be referred for review. Students that receive a grade of F in a social work course will be required to meet with a member of the Advising team. A cumulative GPA of 2.5 or above is required to remain in Good Standing. If a student's cumulative GPA falls below 2.5, then the student will be given a warning and will be required to meet with a member of the BSW Advising team for planning and oversight. If in the following semester the student's cumulative GPA remains less than a 2.5, the student will be placed on probation and an academic review will be required. A cumulative GPA of 2.5 or above in the following semester will be required to return to Good Standing. Students will be placed on suspension following probation if cumulative GPA remains below 2.5 for three consecutive semesters. Students must sit out at least one semester excluding summer when suspended. Students may apply to another unit. No student will be reinstated more than once with Kent School and no more than twice with U of L. A third suspension is an academic dismissal from UofL. A written petition is required for readmission, which is not guaranteed. Grades of F in a social work course will result in an academic review.

Lower Division: A cumulative GPA of 2.5 or above is required to remain in Good Standing. If a student's cumulative GPA falls below 2.5, then the student will be given a warning and will be required to meet with the BSW Program Manager for planning and oversight. If in the following semester the student's cumulative GPA remains less than a 2.5, the student will be placed on probation and an academic review will be required. A cumulative GPA of 2.5 or above in the following semester will be required to return to Good Standing. Students will be placed on suspension following probation if cumulative GPA remains below 2.5. Students must sit out at least one semester excluding summer when suspended. Student may apply to another unit. No student will be reinstated more than once with Kent School and no more than twice with U of L. A third suspension is an academic dismissal from UofL. A written petition is required for readmission, which is not guaranteed.

The BSW Program will notify students at the end of each semester if they need to meet with the Advising team and/or an academic review is needed. Apart from concerns related to GPA, any faculty person may recommend a review for any students who are perceived to be in academic difficulty or who appear to have engaged in inappropriate conduct in violation of the NASW Code of Ethics, or the Code of Students Rights and Responsibilities.

Dismissed Students

If the Academic and Professional Standards Review Committee decide to recommend dismissal for a student from Kent School and if this dismissal is approved by the Dean (or designee), students will only be allowed to return to Kent School in rare cases. Students who wish to return must write an appeal letter to the BSW Director, stating their reasons why they think they can return to Kent School to complete their studies.
